The Antioch Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau will be presenting, to area and state officials, a video program entitled "It Didn't Have to Happen." The program will be held on Oct. 26 at Antioch Community High School.

The video, which will be released nationally, was produced by Flight for Life and narrated by William Shatner. The video includes footage of the Antioch Fire Department's Pre-Prom Program which was held at Antioch Community High School last spring.

'It is this unvarnished description of reality, of real life and of real death that has an impact on students.'

Mayors, trustees, area police and fire chiefs, and even Governor Jim Edgar have been invited to the movie's debut. Proceeds from the sale of the film will go to organizations such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), and Emergency Nurses Cancel Alcohol Related Emergencies (EN CARE).

The video shows a mock vehicle collision being performed at Antioch, McHenry, and Wauconda High schools. Police, fire and rescue teams, paramedics, along with the Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson and high school volunteers all act in the drama to make a greater impact on teens.

Love wins Mr. ACHS in Homecoming fun

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The students at Antioch Community High School are busily preparing for their annual homecoming parade which is to be held this Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. But, the parade, football games, and homecoming dance are the culmination of an entire week of activities at the school.

During the entire homecoming week students had dress-up days. On each day, freshman, sophomores, juniors and seniors had different dress-up day options. However, all followed this year's theme "Through the years."

On Tuesday, a male beauty contest was held in the evening. Randy Love was crowned Mr. ACHS. Love, a 17-year-old senior, wowed the audience with his interpretive dance routine to old television theme songs. For the bathing suit segment of the contest, Love wore an American Flag bathing suit covered by a Civil War jacket.

Love, a national merit scholar, is involved in Studio Theater and is student vice president. He works for Ashley Photography, the company that takes old time pictures at Great America. The company loaned Love the costumes which helped him take the crown. Upon graduation, Love plans to attend either Massachusetts Institute of Technology or University of Illinois.

In other Homecoming events, the Powder Puff football game will be held at 4 p.m. on Thursday. This will include two games: freshmen versus sophomores and juniors versus seniors. Float building also begins on Thursday.

At 2:30 p.m. on Friday, the homecoming pep assembly begins in the main gym followed by the homecoming rally at 6:30 p.m. The rally will include introductions of court, players, cheerleaders and poms. Class competitions will be held along with skits and performances by the band. A video dance will be held at 8 p.m., also in the main gym.

The homecoming parade starts from Antioch Community High School at 10 a.m. The route will head down Main Street through downtown Antioch. Following the parade at 11 a.m. is the sophomore football game. The varsity game is at 1 p.m. and the homecoming dance begins at 8 p.m.

The Antioch Village Board discussed some proposed changes to the alcohol ordinance which deals with TIPS program. The TIPS program, given by the Antioch Police Department, provides information regarding intelligent and responsible guidelines for servers of alcohol.

"What we want to do is to require the applicant/holder of the license to take the TIPS class," said Lieutenant Charles Watkins. "It would then be up to them (the owners) to disseminate the information on an ongoing basis."

Guam diving fatality ruled accidental

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

After an investigation by the Department of the Navy, the death of Christopher E. Horton during a recreational scuba dive in Guam, has been ruled accidental. Horton, age 23, was a former track star and a graduate of Antioch Community High School. He was in Guam while serving in the U.S. Navy.

The investigation, which took several months to complete, concluded the death of Horton, on March 4, along with diving companions Charles Patten of Ozark, Mo., and Robert Guimond of Amarillo, Texas, was the result of an accident during a "non-sponsored" dive. According to the report, the men attempted a difficult midnight recreational dive on the shipwreck, Tokai Maru.

"They made a very difficult dive," said George "Pete" Peterson, a Guam diving expert, in an earlier interview for the Pacific Press. "When you combine a deep dive, a wreck dive, a night dive, and a penetration dive, where you have to put out guidelines, it could be a real tough situation. Unless it's planned to the nth degree, it could be a very touchy dive."

What the men failed to anticipate was an earthquake registering 5.1 on the Richter Scale during the dive into the shipwrecked Japanese passenger/freighter. According to the report, "While inside the wreck, it is believed that an earthquake registering 5.1 caused the silt inside the Tokai Maru to be stirred up, resulting in a virtual black out for the divers inside."

The investigation also revealed both Horton and Guimond were able to find their way out of the wreck and surface. It is believed they then descended back into the ship to find Patton and were unable to exit.

"He was a good student, very conscientious," said former electronics teacher and Coach Gregory Collins. "He always accepted a challenge."

Horton had planned to be married. He leaves behind his fiancée, Tina Santiago, as well as his parents, Dennis and Billie Horton, of Antioch and two brothers, Dennis "DJ" of Bristol, Wis. and Scott of Antioch.

COURAGE to be on television

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Courage will be in a nationwide documentary in the near future. Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) is a community-based effort of Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst to curb gang activity. Bill Roesler, a Lindenhurst resident, has been working on a documentary of the group.

Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk said Roesler has told him the documentary, when finished, will be distributed nationally.

The program will include footage of Judge Raymond McKoski walking the streets talking about the benefits of the program. All four community mayors, Baumunk, Pat Carey of Grayslake, Frank Loffredo of Lake Villa and Marilyn Shineflug of Antioch are also on the program.

Additional footage will include the youth at meeting and video of the Lindenhurst Police Youth Basketball League.

Channel 7 in Chicago was first interested in showing the program regionally but has decided to air it nationally.

School voucher legislation presented at St. Peter meeting

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The St. Peter Family Association held a presentation at the last meeting about upcoming legislation in Springfield. Called the Education Choice and Voucher System, this bill will come before the Illinois Legislature in the Spring of 1995.

The bill would permit a $2,000 reimbursement for students attending private elementary schools and $3,000 for high school students. According to proponents of the bill, public schools education would benefit from this legislation.

First of all, proponents believe educational choice will relieve overcrowding problems many public school's face. The voucher system would allow parents an opportunity to select either a private or public school, regardless of the family's income level.

Proponents also believe the overall quality of education in all schools would improve as a result of competition. It is believed the voucher system would increase access to private schools, forcing public schools to operate more efficiently and effectively, thereby improving education.

Opponents of the voucher system often cite constitutional reasons for opposing the plan. Concerns regarding public support for religious education seem to be the primary focus.

Orchard St. extension work goes to Bolander

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The bids for the work on the Orchard Street extension were opened and Eric Bolander Construction Company has been awarded the contract. It is not known when the work will actually begin.

"Is it too early to ask when they can get started?" asked Antioch Village Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. Village board members are eager to complete the project since the building demolition took place many months ago.

The Bolander bid was $649,433, substantially lower than engineering estimates. "We're almost $30,000 under on the Bolander bid," said Trustee Dorothy Larson. The estimate was $677,868.

While the blacktopping will not be done this year, the village is hoping tree removal, water-main construction, and culvert work can be completed. Blacktopping cannot be done in the winter.

A proposed TIF road is also part of the project, although it is being bid separately. "Strategically, we thought this was a better time to put this out to bid," said Wells.

The TIF road is expected to cost $45,000 and will be blacktopped. However, no curbs or gutters will initially be installed. Instead, village staff will be able to gauge exactly how much use the road will get in order to determine whether a more permanent arrangement will be necessary.

"Our biggest test will be during the intersection work (for Orchard Street)," said Wells.

Court to decide on unit school

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Millburn Elementary School District has formally applied for administrative review to overturn the state superintendent of schools decision to allow the Lake Villa unit district proposal on the ballot.

At this time, no date has been established to hear the case. Administrative review is the final step for both sides. Unit district supporters claim the residents have a right to make the decision while Millburn school board contends the newly formed district would destroy the Millburn District.

Millburn Superintendent Dr. Jim Blockinger said the 35-day window for filing a review hasn't passed so a date for the review is yet to be determined.

District 34 Elementary District in Antioch was considering administrative review but has not joined in. "They are supporting administrative review in spirit," Blockinger said.

A circuit court will rule from transcripts of the June hearing held by Lake County Superintendent Ed Gonwa. Also State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo's opinion will be presented as evidence. No new evidence will be allowed.

The Lake Villa Unit School proposal calls for a K-12 school district covering most of Lake Villa Township. The districts impacted include Millburn, District 34, Lake Villa Elementary District, Grayslake, Antioch and Grant high school districts.

Gonwa had ruled against the Unit District petition in July. He cited Millburn District would be adversely affected by the decision.

In August, Spagnolo overturned Gonwa's decision. He claimed all the districts could work together for the benefit of all children.

About 85 percent of Millburn's students come from what would be the unit district. Millburn school board fears the loss of students would leave the district with few students and a minimal tax base.

The Committee of 10, Lake Villa unit district supporters, claim the unit district is a solution to many upcoming or current referendum issues and would unify Lake Villa Township residents.

Blockinger said he doesn't know how much the attorney fees will be because the attorney is paid by the hour.

If the administrative review rules in favor of the unit district, the issue will be on the April ballot. If the court decides in Millburn's behalf, the issue will be taken from the ballot.

ACHS students honored as Merit Scholars

Principal Michael Radakovich of Antioch Community High School announced that five students have been named Commended Students in the 1995 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from National Merit Scholarship Corp., which conducts the program will be presented by the school to these scholastically able seniors.

Kelly Fassbinder and Steven Sprank of Lindenhurst, along with Katie Fetting, Brian Maicke and Becky Smalley of Antioch will receive Letters of Commendation.

About 35,000 students throughout the nation are being honored for their exceptional academic promise. They placed among the top 5 percent of more than a million students who entered the 1995 Merit Program by taking the 1993 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Although the qualifying test scores of Commended Students are outstanding, they are slightly below the level required to continue in the competition for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1995.

A program spokesperson commented, "It is important to acknowledge the attainments of academically talented students and to credit schools for the key role they play in their development. We hope the recognition received by the able young men and women who are commended in this rigorous, nationwide competition will encourage them to take advantage of their opportunities for higher education and to diligently pursue their professional goals. The nation will benefit from the full development of this intellectual resource."

Lucas accuses Churchill of improper conduct

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Candidate Phyllis Lucas is charging state Rep. Robert Churchill with impropriety for not posting his legislative office with a sign and paying campaign and staff people while they work in the same office.

She has accused Churchill of financing a private business with taxpayers' dollars. Churchill said she is yet to take a position on major issues and her major issue is picking on his secretary.

Lucas said Churchill was running a legislative office at the office of Osmond Insurance in the BNO building in Antioch and didn't have a sign displaying to the public the office is a legislative office. Further, she said Tim Osmond receives $3,000 in rent and is the campaign manager of Churchill.

Churchill said his flyers say his office is at the BNO building. Also in his newsletters and reports to the paper he lists the office.

Also, Tim Osmond's wife, Jo Ann, is paid $22,000 as district staff. Lucas claims it gives the appearance of impropriety for the district staff and a private business to operate in the same office.

"The only conclusion we can draw is that Churchill is using hard-earned tax dollars to fund his campaign worker's private business," Lucas said. "This just another example of Churchill's 'insider' wheeling and dealing where he neglects the people he is working for."

Churchill responded to her allegations by saying she is yet to take a position on several major issue facing the district.

"My opponent is yet to take a position on (Dawn Clark) Netsch's 42 percent tax increase," Churchill said. "She is yet to take a position on riverboat gambling, she is yet to take a position on gun control. She is yet to take a position on any issue facing this district and the state of Illinois."

"After weeks and weeks of the campaign she has chosen an attack on my secretary. Shame on her. The voters deserve better, Churchill said.

Lucas, a former Lindenhurst trustee, is the Democratic challenger to Churchill is District 62. Churchill, of Lake Villa, has been the incumbent for 11 years.

Teen shot in dispute over girl

A teenager was shot while at home, Oct. 10, in unincorporated Warren Twp. Lake County Sheriff's Department is not releasing names of the 15-year-old victim or the 16-year-old suspect. The suspect is facing first-degree murder, aggravated battery and aggravated discharge of a firearm charges. He is being held at Hulse Youth Detention Center in Waukegan.

The disagreement was over a an ex-girlfriend of the offender, Lt. Chester Iwan of the Lake County Sheriff's Department said.

Iwan said there was a fight outside the residence on Norine Court. "The victim blocked himself in at the home, but the offender went and got a shotgun and fired 12 rounds. The victim was hit on the left side and the back," Iwan said.

The victim was transported to St. Therese Medical Center and was in stable condition.

A new medical procedure may have helped the victim's chances. A procedure known as decompression was performed by Gurnee Fire Department Paramedic Jim Pelletiere.

"It was only the third decompression done in the hospital network. The first two were done by Waukegan and Grayslake," Lt. Barry Henby of Gurnee Fire Department said.

It is unknown if the 15 or 16-year-olds are Warren Township High School students.

Anderson faces 20 years for robberies

The 18-year-old Kentucky man charged with armed robberies in Lake County faces a 20-year jail term for armed robberies in Lake County.

Michael Anderson was sentenced Oct. 6. He is charged with the Sept. 12 holdup of a Piggly Wiggly store in Gurnee, a Sept. 11 robbery of a Citgo gas station in Kenosha County north of Antioch and a Sept. 10 robbery of a Lake Villa store.

"We had conferred with Owensboro authorities and felt it was helpful to gain the conviction here first. The judge did not take into account the murder charges in Kentucky. We feel 20 years is an appropriate sentence," Mike Waller, Lake County state's attorney, said.

Where Anderson would serve his sentence has yet to be determined. Waller said the agreement to try Anderson for his Lake County charges was made in consultation with Kentucky prosecutors. "Their court system moves a lot slower than ours does. We could resolve our cases before the more serious charge of first degree murder," Waller said.

Anderson, a one-time Antioch resident, is charged with the murder of William Freck Sr. of Owensboro on July 14. He was taken into custody after a chase ended at a restaurant in Gurnee Sept. 13. —by STEVE PETERSON

Court to decide on unit school

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Millburn Elementary School District has formally applied for administrative review to overturn the state superintendent of schools decision to allow the Lake Villa unit district proposal on the ballot.

At this time, no date has been established to hear the case. Administrative review is the final step for both sides. Unit district supporters claim the residents have a right to make the decision while Millburn school board contends the newly formed district would destroy the Millburn District.

Millburn Superintendent Dr. Jim Blockinger said the 35-day window for filing a review hasn't passed so a date for the review is yet to be determined.

District 34 Elementary District in Antioch was considering administrative review but has not joined in. "They are supporting administrative review in spirit," Blockinger said.

A circuit court will rule from transcripts of the June hearing held by Lake County Superintendent Ed Gonwa. Also State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo's opinion will be presented as evidence. No new evidence will be allowed.

The Lake Villa Unit School proposal calls for a K-12 school district covering most of Lake Villa Township. The districts impacted include Millburn, District 34, Lake Villa Elementary District, Grayslake, Antioch and Grant high school districts.

Gonwa had ruled against the Unit District petition in July. He cited Millburn District would be adversely affected by the decision.

In August, Spagnolo overturned Gonwa's decision. He claimed all the districts could work together for the benefit of all children.

About 85 percent of Millburn's students come from what would be the unit district. Millburn school board fears the loss of students would leave the district with few students and a minimal tax base.

The Committee of 10, Lake Villa unit district supporters, claim the unit district is a solution to many upcoming or current referendum issues and would unify Lake Villa Township residents.

Blockinger said he doesn't know how much the attorney fees will be because the attorney is paid by the hour.

Grass Lake School bids farewell to teacher Joan Larson

Fond farewell

The evening of Tuesday, Sept. 27, Grass Lake School was a very busy place. The first agenda item was the tree planting and dedication in honor of teacher Joan Larson, who has retired after 27 years of teaching at Grass Lake School.

The school board's Recognition Committee organized the retirement recognition program, and school board vice-president Marie Brausam welcomed everyone on behalf of the board and thanked her for her many dedicated years of teaching the kindergarten and second grade students.

Marie related a story told to her by one of Joan's long-time fellow staff members which showed how much she would be missed. "I can't imagine Joan not being here on staff. She was always there, solid as a rock for the students and also her fellow staff members. We all relied on Joan for support and spirit pick up on those out-of-sort days we all experience from time to time," related the staff member.

After a tree dedication, visitors were introduced to the PTO officers and the PTO executive board, and members of the Grass Lake School staff. Then everyone was encouraged to tour the building and top off the evening with some cake and coffee provided by the PTO.

I was on hand as a school board member and proud to be aboard with fellow board members Marie Brausam, Doug Schreiber, Linda Boerman and John Gollon. It has been three years since my last child graduated from Grass Lake School and I was pleasantly surprised to still see many familiar faces as I glanced around the gymnasium and later toured the building. I equally enjoyed seeing all of the bright and shiny new faces and realized how time has a way of marching on and changing some things while other things remain familiar, constant and steady.

Bride and groom

Donna Schmehl and Dennis Bergl were married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Saturday, Sept. 17. On hand for the happy occasion were good friends Debbie and Jim Foerster and Tim Keefer. Also in attendance were Donna's sister, Barb Filips and brother-in-law Dan Filips, and Dennis's brother, Kenny Bergl.

Besides enjoying all the gambling and shows Las Vegas had to offer, Donna and Dennis also relaxed aboard a cruise ship for four days.

The wedding reception was held the following week at the VFW Hall in Lake Villa. Donna, Dennis and approximately 200 family members and friends came together in celebration to wine, dine, dance and be merry. Congratulations, and remember MeeMee is forever waiting in the background to spoil more grandbabies.

New student

If you are a regular reader of "Hometown Goodies," you may remember my "Priscilla Tator the Facilitator" blooper. Just let the poor old Lizard make one small mistake and my friends will then seize every opportunity to "sock it to me."

Each day at Camp Crayon, we take attendance. Because I am slightly more forgetful than the rest of the staff members, I made a simple request to call the roll the first couple to three weeks of camp in order to become more familiar as to which child belongs to which name.

As we assembled in our activity circle and recited the Pledge of Allegiance, I then began to call the roll, checking off the individual names as each child responded "here."

HOMETOWN GOODIES

About halfway down the page, I began to giggle and looked up to see the impish grins on the faces of my co-workers, who had re-written the entire attendance sheet to include a special spot for "Priscilla Tator."

Yep, like I stated many times before, it is a great job for many reasons. Working with such caring, fun-loving people is just one of them. Thanks for the laughter, Miss Marie, Miss Mary and Miss Lois. However, I caution you that paybacks are rough.

Blessed event

Bob and Debbie Lass of Lake Villa are proud to announce the birth of their new little daughter, Alyssa Dawn. Little Alyssa was born at Lake Forest Hospital on Sept. 15 and weighed in at seven pounds, thirteen ounces.

Library

The Antioch Library staff would like to thank Mr. Ragan for his kind donation of a loveseat for the reading area. The library has changed the circulation period of all books, except the seven- and 14-day new fiction, from two to three weeks. Also the circulation period for audio-cassettes has been changed from one week to two weeks—due to popular demand.

Fox Lake School

The Fox Lake Grade School community and staff would like to welcome the following new or reassigned staff members—Renae Burau, Pam Enright, Jill Cryzan, Sharri Sanders, Barb Sugarman, Karen Medrow, Cathy Fege, Dana Staff, Ellen Matysik, Liz Ortman and Melanie Dillon.

Parks department

As usual, the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. has a busy schedule of activity programs lined up for the fall and winter, under the leadership of Cheryl Becker McCameron. If you have any questions regarding park programs, contact Cheryl at 395-2160.

Some of the programs being offered are: Aerobics for children under 16 years of age; Arkido for anyone 14 years and older; boy's basketball for ages nine to 12 years; men's basketball for 18 years and older; bridge lessons if there is enough interest generated, calligraphy classes, Camp Crayon for children ages three, four and five years old; ballroom dancing for adults ages 18 and older; line dancing if enough interest is shown; Shotokan karate classes; sign language for fun; Me, Myself and Mom for two- and three-year-olds; tumbling, village campus program and the Young Rembrandt's drawing program for ages three to 12 years old.

Republican Club holds reception

The Antioch Republican Club is holding a reception to meet Willard Helander, Republican candidate for Lake County Clerk. The reception will be on Sunday, Oct. 16, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Mentone's Restaurant on Route 173.

Other invited guests include state Rep. Robert Churchill, Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell, Lake County Treasurer "Red" Anderson, and Judy Martini, the Lake County Board candidate for Dist. 1.

The public is welcome to come and meet the Republican candidates. Hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be available.

'Down home fun' planned for Pointe at Heron Harbor

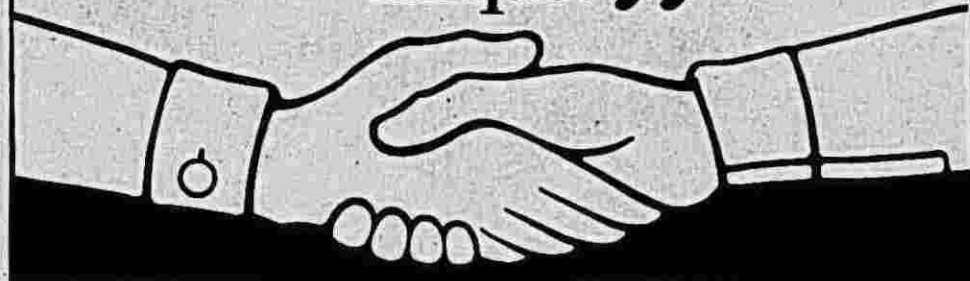

Hay rides, apple cider, pumpkin pie and pony rides are just a few of the fall festivities planned for the weekend of Oct. 15 and 16 at Heron Harbor in Antioch. Being developed by Schaumburg-based William Ryan Homes, Heron Harbor will include 140 single-family homes when complete.

According to Jim Esperson, vice president of sales and marketing for William Ryan Homes, the fall festival promises to be a weekend of fun for families.

"Heron Harbor was designed with families in mind," said Esperson. "From the tranquil country setting to the spacious yet practical floor plans, Heron Harbor caters to family needs. A weekend festival of family fun will help to demonstrate the friendly neighborhood spirit here while showing the beautiful natural surroundings."

Hay rides will take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15, and Sunday, Oct. 16. Pumpkin pie and apple cider will be served on both days, and kids will receive Halloween treats. Pony rides will be held on Sunday, Oct. 16.

There's no excuse for a bad hair day in Antioch

The beauty business is big business in Antioch. The other day, I was glancing through the beauty salon section of the phone book and I counted 11 salons just in Antioch. Eleven. I'm sure there have been a few new ones which opened since the phone book was published, but I was surprised at the number of hair stylists in Antioch.

I spoke with Flo Heiselmann from Flo's the other day about what was one of the biggest concerns women have today about their hair. The overwhelming concern is thinning hair/hair loss. She provided me with the following information:

Beautiful hair is not a given for some women. In fact, 20 million women suffer the problems of thinning hair and express frustration and dismay in their attempts to correct this very traumatic problem.

Excessive hair loss in women can be as a result of numerous causes. Some are as simple as using the wrong shampoo, to more serious problems requiring medical attention. Fortunately, the most common causes of hair loss do not require medical attention. The phrase "prevention is better than the cure" was never more appropriate than with the subject of thinning hair. For this reason, NIOXIN Research identified "five early warning signs" that may lead to excessive daily hair loss and premature thinning in women:

1. Acne—even if not active now; 2. Seborrhea—flaky scalp (not dandruff type flakes); 3. Excessive Daily Hair Loss (10-50 hairs per day); 4. Alopecia Areata (various size bald patches); or 5. Sudden Appearance of Body Hair—in unusual places of increase in body hair.

If you have had, or are presently experiencing one or more of the aforementioned conditions, you could possibly experience premature thinning.

Daily hair loss is normal. However, the amount of daily hair fallout you may be experiencing may not be. When daily hair loss amounts are greater than the new hair growth, you should take immediate steps to correct this condition because thinning hair will soon be a fact of life.

Whatever is causing your hair problem has a direct effect upon the hair follicle. Some events in life, such as stress, nervous tension and illness can contribute to thinning hair. Some overlooked causes of hair loss are dieting, high intakes of vitamin A, post pregnancy, changes in birth control pills, fluctuation of hormones, menopause, medications and poor blood circulation.

Take the time to evaluate your daily hair loss. If you're concerned about thinning hair, talk to your stylist or seek the advice of a physician if necessary.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Let voters decide

Editor:

How would the formation of a unit school district affect Millburn School?

Boundaries and some members of the board of education would change upon voters' approval of the unit district. The children who attend the school would likely remain the same for a few years. In the not so distant future, the families will change. Consider that the vast majority of families with children attending Millburn School at this time will not have children there eight years from now.

Consider that, with the growth expected in the area, the number of children and families in the district will rapidly increase and the population will, therefore, be different. The degree to which any other factor, finances, faculty, administration, might change can be controlled if the parties can come together and openly discuss the alternatives. Would the feelings change? I don't know, I think a school is whatever its community asks of it. If the community asks for excellence, the school will excel.

Do we know exactly how the unit would change Millburn School? No. Do we know exactly how the future will change Millburn School? We don't know exactly how the future will change any of our schools. All of us, in these rapidly developing areas, are facing great change in the future. I feel we should let the voters decide what course of action they want their schools to take.

The opinion of the majority of the people should be the deciding factor in whether a unit would be in the best interest of their school community, not the opinion of an official or a committee. I think the people deserve to hear the facts and make their own decisions. If the Millburn school board is successful in their appeal to stop their voters, their constituents, from deciding the fate of their own school (at a cost of $7,000 to those taxpayers), none of us will ever hear the voice of the majority.

Crane says this congress to be remembered for two bills

Eighth District Congressman Philip M. Crane said the 103rd Congress will best be remembered for the passage of two bills—the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), and the biggest tax increase in U.S. history.

"It took the votes of 132 House Republicans for President Clinton to gain approval of NAFTA," Congressman Crane declared. "Even though his party held an 80-vote House majority, he was unable to persuade enough Democrats that the bill would create hundreds of thousands of jobs."

Passage of the biggest tax bill in our history was another story, according to Congressman Crane.

"When the President was right, as in the case of job-creating NAFTA, he received the support of Republicans," Congressman Crane said. "But, when he was wrong, and he certainly was wrong on his call for a huge tax increase, Republicans stood fast in demonstrating their opposition to a job-losing tax hike."

The congressman noted reports are now coming from Wall Street that the ill effects of the tax increase are beginning to be felt and the nation's economy will suffer from them.

"Not one Republican member of either the House or Senate voted for the big tax package asked for by Mr. Clinton," Congressman Crane said. "What was also disturbing about the Clinton tax increase for everyone was that when he was Candidate Clinton, he promised to 'start' his program, if elected, with a tax cut for middle-income Americans."

Emmons memories

Emmons eighth-graders, Colleen Bradek and Dino Katris visited with Ida (Runyard) Kufalk. Ida was the teacher at Emmons from 1920 until 1925. She had 35 students in the one-room school in grades 1 through 8. Colleen and Dino enjoyed learning about what school was like then and sharing the changes at Emmons today. Emmons is celebrating its 150th birthday. At the PTO Ice Cream Social on Oct. 21, guests will be able to participate in a commemoration of the event.

Antioch's Dist. 34 to review gifted program

At its regular September meeting, the Antioch elementary Dist. 34 school board approved a proposal to establish a task force to study the status of the district's gifted education program. The task force, which will be comprised of school board, administrative, teacher and parent representatives, will present its findings to the school board later in the year.

According to school board member Kelly Baird, who will serve on the task force, "Gifted education is one of the most poorly funded programs in Illinois, yet gifted children appropriately challenged to develop their full potentials are one of our future society's most important resources." He added, he felt an important task force goal will be to challenge gifted students through the district's regular curriculums without offering less to all other students in the district.

Former Antioch resident remembers

As a former resident of Channel Lake for 17 years and Antioch for 24 years (some in Chicago in between, I have always been interested in the doings there, though Mr. Homan and I retired to Friendship, Wis., in 1982. We do visit often, though; our son Tom lives there.

Mr. Homan's sister, Mildred Schaefer of Antioch, gave me a copy of your special edition of the 100th anniversary of Antioch, June 19, 1992. However, I glanced through it, then set it aside when we returned home. It became covered with other papers and set aside. Today, I came across it and read it from cover to cover.

Now, my reason for writing is the story about Hickory School on Page 20, by Joe Hunley. It states the final brick structure which was dedicated in 1917 makes it "the last one-room school in Lake County." That is not correct, or was not at the time.

I was born at Channel Lake at our summer home, when we lived in Oak Park. Mother was to go to Oak Park on the train at 9 a.m. Monday morning, but I came at 1:15 a.m. the night before. When the depression hit, my parents and the five youngest children (of eight) moved to our summer home in December of 1930. My sister (Helen Zeien of Channel Lake) and I then attended the one-room Channel Lake Grade School. Priscilla Brett (King) and Anne Brett (Lorenz) went to Antioch Twp. High School. A new two-room brick building was put up in 1932; we moved into it in March. I was in the fifth grade then, and Rhoda Jedeke took the four upper grades, so I had that wonderful teacher for five years. She now lives in St. Louis, Mo.

That edition has brought back lots of memories. Homer LaPlant—an older sister dated him. Bill Brook—I worked at his bank for six years. Didn't remember Frank King was a mayor, but know he started King's Drug Store in the '20s, and his son Bob (my brother-in-law) owned in from about 1937-1946. He sold it with the option the new owner could keep the name. And the Lotus Beds—there were many excursion boats who picked up passengers at the piers and took them to see those very beautiful flowers, for 25 cents a ride.

Mr. Homan and I graduated from Antioch Twp. High School in 1939. By the time our five children graduated, it was named Antioch Community High School, and had a number of additions. Two of our nine grandchildren have also graduated from ACHS.

And finally, the PM&L Theatre. Ken and Betty Smouse are very dear friends. Ken was also choir director at the United Methodist Church, where I sang in the choir from the age of 15. When PM&L started, I was in South Pacific at the high school, before they got the building they now occupy. I was also in a musical put on for Antioch's 75th anniversary celebration, in 1969. An actress at heart!

My apologies for reminiscing so long, but I plan to do some writing. Guess I get carried away. I have written the introduction to my book, "Seventh Out of Eight," and started the first chapter. The six girls are all living, but my two brothers are gone. My younger brother, Tom, went to Channel Lake Grade School, too. Started in first grade in 1931.—contributed by JEAN HOMAN

Last chance to purchase Sequoit Pride house raffle tickets

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Sequoit Pride house raffle is coming to a close. Representative Charlene Cox says the deadline to return tickets is Oct. 25.

"A lot of them are out there," said Cox. "But people need to send them in now."

The house has an estimated value of $225,000 and is almost completed. It is being built by award-winning Saxonian Builders, Inc. in the Falcon Hills subdivision.

Approximately 5,000 tickets have been distributed, selling at $100 each. The profits from the raffle will be designated for equipment and much needed supplies for Antioch Community High School. Sequoit Pride is the school's booster club.

Tickets can still be obtained at many local business establishments. Call 356-6047 or 356-3820 for more information.

Martini calls for balanced growth

Judy Martini, Republican nominee for County Board District, has firm beliefs about the need to balance the building of new homes in the county with the need to preserve the area's environment.

"I'm a Realtor by trade, but I am also an environmentalist. And I'm worried about the effect that badly planned over-development is having on our environment and quality," Martini said.

Building in environmentally sensitive areas not only degrades the county's natural resources but is extremely costly, according to Martini. "Everybody pays. As taxpayers, we pay for it, and the developers pay too. It's just costly to build all the infrastructure needed to mitigate the adverse effects of over-development."

Lake County has the third highest population of any county in the state. Although District 1 is currently 30 percent open space, including lakes, waterways and wetlands, Martini points out that Antioch is projecting a 54 percent increase in population by 2010. Lake Villa is expected to increase 174 percent in the same time.

"I strongly believe that we should direct future growth only to lands which are suitable to development," Martini said. "Otherwise, we'll keep having problems. I'd just like to see a more common sense approach to development."

"We in this area are actually among the lucky ones, because over 50 percent of the homes sold last year fell in the affordable housing bracket. Home buyers in Antioch-Lake Villa area do have choice, which is not necessarily the case in other parts of the county. I'd like to see more balanced distribution of affordable housing throughout county, allowing people a choice of where they want to live and can afford to live," Martini said.

Martini pointed out that District 1 has the sixth highest renter-occupied ratio out of the 41 villages in the county. That ratio wouldn't be so high if there was more affordable housing in the area."

As a county board member, Martini will work to provide density bonuses if new developments will locate near major roads and work centers, helping alleviate some of the current gridlock. She also wants to see the county work with municipalities to ensure consistent impact fees. As it is, developers often do not pay their fair share of the costs for schools, roads, and other vital needs.

There are other things like rejuvenation of existing housing stock that could be done to improve the housing situation., Martini went on. "My plan for development and growth makes sense both economically and logistically, and it protects the environment. Lots of us chose to live in Lake County because of its special natural resources and recreational facilities. Let's protect our most sensitive areas from development and direct it to land best suited for it. We have to think about the future."

"With personnel changes every other month, it is impossible to keep up with it," explained Watkins. "We were making calls to businesses on a regular basis."

The board discussed the issue of responsibility. "It is a question of who is responsible," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "We don't see it as our responsibility."

They hear tales from people who have performed emergency services or who have been involved in alcohol-related accidents. This makes a lasting impression on the students."

Antioch spikers regroup after tough loss to Warren

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

North Suburban Conference volleyball teams are quickly learning that the Warren spikers are a team to reckon with.

After losing to league-leading Stevenson in three tough matches, Warren regrouped and smoked North Chicago. They then traveled to Antioch, where the Blue Devils proved their worth against an NSC favorite.

Antioch easily took the first game 15-7 and were leading in the second game 6-1. Then, the Blue Devils poured it on. They overcame the 5-point deficit in the second game to win 15-12 and controlled the tempo of the rubber game to win convincingly 15-4.

"At the start, we were tentative," explained Warren Volleyball Coach Felicia Moscatelli. "Then, once we got into our game, there was no question we could beat them."

The Blue Devils improved their conference record to .500 at 3-3 and their overall record to 11-4.

For the Antioch spikers, their hitting was sporadic and all over the court. The Sequoits had 17 See VOLLEYBALL page A13

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

It was do or die if the Sequoits wanted to keep their playoff hopes alive for the 1994 football season.

Those hopes were smashed in Lincolnshire when Antioch fell to mighty Stevenson 35-14. Stevenson's hard-nosed running game physically and mentally exhausted Antioch's respectable defense.

Stevenson's first scoring drive, which ate up almost the entire first quarter, gave the Sequoits an indication of what was in store. Stevenson marched down the field 75 yards in 22 hard-earned plays in 10 minutes and 50 seconds.

"These guys are not the same guys I saw on tape. They're bigger," said Antioch Coach Del Pechauer of Stevenson. "I haven't seen anybody stop them."

During Stevenson's first scoring drive, the Patriots converted four times on fourth downs. Once at their own 34, again at their own 48 and later at the 28 and 15. Shea Newcomb eventually completed the long drive from three yards out.

"When they go for a fourth down at their own 40, you wonder, 'Who do these guys think they are?'" said Antioch Defensive Coordinator Mike Gordy. "And then they convert, and you know."

Antioch did not get the chance to answer with a scoring drive of their own, as a botched kickoff returned the ball back to Stevenson at Antioch's 25. Ahead of the blocking of Chris Blum (259 lbs.) and Anthony Giannini (240 lbs.), Kyle Brandt scored to give Stevenson an early 14-0 lead.

"They're too big," said Antioch linebacker Jason Breen, who led Antioch tacklers. "You can only do so much against a team that big."

Antioch never snapped the ball for an offensive play in the first quarter, and its first first down came after two Stevenson encroachment penalties. Stevenson when into halftime with a 20-0 lead after Robert Liszka scored from the nine yardline.

Still very much in the game to begin the third quarter, Antioch marched down the field with five- and 10-yd. runs by running backs Brad Rubash and Mike Mandro and quarterback Walter Martens. The Sequoits were 16 yards away from their first touchdown, when they coughed up the ball. Stevenson's Charles Wurm returned the fumble 84 yards for the TD and devastated Antioch's hopes to catch up with the score 28-0.

"We were catching them, and then we fumbled the ball," said Pechauer.

On Antioch's next possession, Martens completed an 80-yd scoring drive with a 19-yd TD pass to Eric Dohrmann.

Stevenson runners, however, pounded away again to increase the lead to 35-8 after Liszka entered the end zone from four yards out.

Antioch did convert on a fake punt. Mandro stepped in front of a snapped ball intended for punter Kurt Hintz and rushed the ball 16 yards for the first down. Jake Cogwill later scored on a 6-yd run to end all scoring.

The game may have given Antioch coaches a sign of what to expect from future Stevenson teams. The school now has 2,700 students and is expected to have 4,000 students by the end of the decade, making it, some say, a mini-university. With 2,000 more students than other North Suburban Conference schools, Stevenson coaches will be able to choose from the creme of the crop.

Antioch slipped to 3-3 in the conference and 3-4 overall, eliminating their hopes for playoff contention. Following a Warren upset over Libertyville, Stevenson is now all alone atop the NSC.

Both Pechauer and Gordy noted they will commit to their seniors in trying to finish the year above .500.

"We want to get the best possible record we can get," said Gordy. "Five and four is the goal."

Sequoit kickers expect to be seeded in top four

Antioch goalie Keith Jackson posted his fifth consecutive shutout, and the offense found the net 10 times as the Sequoit soccer team dominated Zion-Benton 10-0.

"Keith Jackson stopped a penalty kick to save the shutout," said Coach Brad Wilson.

Antioch also shutout Fenton 5-0 and Leydon 2-0. The Sequoits improved their record to 5-1 in the conference and 16-3-1 overall.

A host of Sequoits had the opportunity to kick goals against Zion-Benton. Scoring for Antioch were Joe Earl (2), Scott Landgren

"We have been able to play everybody and not really give up anything because of our depth," said Wilson.

While the offensive attack proved impressive, Wilson said the defense has been just as sparkling, thanks to the play of Tad Harper, Landgren, Schmitt and Jeremy Schulz.

"Having five straight shutouts shows that our defense is denying a lot of shots," said Wilson.

The Sequoits were preparing for a contest against their nemesis Warren Thursday at home. Warren stole Antioch's chance to claim the North Suburban Conference title last year by defeating Antioch 2-0. The loss forced a three-way tie for first between Antioch, Libertyville and Stevenson.

Again this year, Antioch is tied for first with Libertyville and Stevenson, making the conference game against Warren a must win for Antioch.

"We cannot afford to lose against Warren. Warren is not one where can look past," said Wilson. He added that this year's defense will be tighter against Warren.

Although the season finale ends with Warren for the varsity squad, the sophomore squad will be hosting a soccer invitational Oct. 14-15.

In the meantime, coaches will be seeding area teams for regional action Oct. 20. Wilson believes state-rated Wheeling will be seeded No. 1, while the 2 through 4 seeds will be up for grabs between Antioch, Libertyville and Stevenson.

"I don't see how we can't be in the top four, but stranger things have happened," Wilson said.

Rams runners end perfect loop dual meet

Grayslake High's cross country teams made it five straight in conference duals as both the girls and the boys downed Round Lake.

The meet featured a 20-41 win for the girls and a perfect 15-48 win for the boys.

"We told the kids to take control of the race and not fool around. You never know what kind of team will show up," Coach Joel Peebles said.

The Rams looked to become conference champs at the league meet in Woodstock Oct. 13 while Round Lake looked to surprise some cross country observers.

Becky Eiden set a Central Park record with a time of 13:11. "The key for her was her second mile. She really ran hard and we worked on the second mile,"

Peebles said.

Freshman Michele Tessman was second with a very good 13:27. "She has learned a tremendous amount about the sport," Peebles said. "A lot of these runners are track oriented, but they have adapted well."

Sarah Thorson was fourth in 14:01.

Freshman Tina Fish was sixth in 14:24 and Annette Melecio, a sophomore, was seventh in 14:36.

Chrissy Flohr paced Round Lake's effort with a 13:51 for third place; Heather Olson gave the Panthers two runners in the top five with a 14:12; Melissa Johnson was 19th in 16:34; Katie Humphrey was 20th in 16:41 and Kristen Shaban 24th.

Jason Gantt took home the boys honors with a 16:30. Chris Persson was second in 17:07. Jake Parsons also broke the 18-minute mark in 17:26 and Ryan MacCallum made it three under 18 with a 17:46. Dan Turner, a freshman, was fifth in 18:23 and Jason Wilcox had an 18:26 for sixth.

Wilcox is in his first year of cross country and is doing fine, Peebles said. MacCallum was the Rams standout freshman on the varsity but did not run for two years and Parsons is a former football player.

Jim Jochanienicz led the Round Lake effort with an 18:50, seventh place. Tim Schuster had a 19:13 for eighth. Dan Brooks gave RL three in the top 10 at 10th with a 20:08. Don Mowry finished 12th at 20:29 and Jeremy Porter 14th in 20:46.

Rams stumble, turn back volleyball rallies

Judging by scores, Grayslake had a battle on its hands in a 15-10, 15-10 win over Wauconda.

But as far as the Rams are concerned, it was a battle of their own making.

"We are our own worst enemy at times. We let down and just lose it," Coach Dan Stacey said.

The Rams led 9-1 in the first game and 10-2 in the second game but just when the home team was looking for a quick knockout, the Bulldogs would rally.

"We should take advantage of teams, but we don't," Stacey said.

The Rams closed in on the .500 mark overall, 8-11, and improved to 8-4 in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Courtney Caldwell had 3 kills and 8 points. "Caldwell lately has been playing pretty well. She is strictly hitting and she can concentrate on that," Stacey said.

Erin Lopez was coming off a 13-point outing against Round Lake in another two game win. Lopez is the key role setter.

"You know how the hitters like their sets and where every hitter is. It is easiest to set to the outside, but I don't always like to set there. I sometimes like to set to the middle," Lopez said.

The Bulldogs trailed only 11-10 in the first game after the home team had let the big lead slip away. Michelle Nupsl, a senior, had brought the team to the brink of a comeback.

The Rams dug in, with Julie Duchane finishing off the last three points with a powerful kill by Caldwell.

Lopez served the Rams to a 7-0 lead in the second game and it was 10-2 before Wauconda's rally.

This time, a kill by Duchane upped the lead to 11-7 and an ace by Jessica Corcoran set up the win.

The Rams secured their second-place status in the NWSC. They faced league leader Marian Central Oct. 13.

"One of these years, we will get them," Lopez said.

Qualifiers

Lady golfers 4th at regional

The Antioch Community High School girls' golf team saved their best for last in '94, shooting a sparkling school record 412 at the IHSA Regional Tournament held at Bonnie Brook Golf Course in Waukegan. The front-nine score of 205 was also good enough to break the ACHS nine-hole record of 214 set earlier this year at the Barrington Tournament.

With the fourth place regional finish, the Lady Sequoits just missed qualifying the entire team to sectional play.

The three low scoring teams advanced to the IHSA Sectional meet.

shots that were out of bounds.

"We just stop playing in the middle of the second game. I think they were a little over confident," said Antioch Coach Gwen Varney. "We also made a lot of hitting mistakes."

Antioch's long shots could be attributed to the blocking of Warren juniors Kim Laama and Carrie Collins, both recording several blocks and always in the face of Antioch hitters.

"We didn't want to let up, staying aggressive that's what won it for us," said Laama, who had five kills and 11 perfect passes.

Coach Moscatelli said she noticed Antioch players over serving the ball out of bounds during pre-game warm ups.

"I noticed when they were serving, they were hitting the ball out," said Moscatelli, "but when you have good blocking, it can be intimidating."

Collins recorded three blocks. Two of the biggest blocks came back to back at the start of the third game. With Warren winning 3-2, Collins snuffed two big hits by Antioch's Katy Harney and Tricia Keefe. The blocks not only prevented Antioch from regaining control of the ball, but they were good for two points.

"It felt great," Collins said of the blocks. "We work on blocks a lot. The regionals should be good."

By beating Antioch and playing tough against Stevenson, Laama said, "I think we proved to a lot of people that we can play and beat anyone in this conference."

Antioch Vikings dominate Mundelein teams

Pee Wee Black

Pee Wee Black lost to Warren Blue by a score of 19-0 after driving to the red zone twice and coming up empty. Warren scored three unanswered times to put the Black record at 2-2-1. They have a 10 a.m. Sunday game at Antioch against Warren White.

Pee Wee White

Mike Haynes scored twice from 20 and 10 yards and had an interception on defense. James Kohlmeier, Scott Coles, Bobby Spillen and Dino Katris played well on defense and helped preserve the shutout to move White to a 3-1-1 record. They play at 11 a.m. on Sunday against Warren Blue.

Featherweight

Antioch Raiders triumphed over the Mundelein Pintos 26-0. Mark Purnell, D.J. Emekamp, Billy Damron and Kevin Podstawa all scored TDs for the Raiders.

Podstawa and Damron went both ways and Jeff Norwick, Brian Griffin and Justin McBride played well in the shutout effort. The Raiders are now 5-0 going into next Sunday's game with undefeated Warren Blue (5-0).

Middleweight

The Falcons defeated the Bears 8-7 in a great defense struggle. Noel Hammond returned a punt 33 yards.

Pinkowski scored for the Bears with a PAT, but then Justin Pawlowski scored a two-point safety on the QB to make it 8-7 and secure the win for the Falcons.

Conrad Adkins had a fumble recover and five tackles in the Falcons' defensive effort. Josh Cloc had three center sneaks.

Lightweights

Antioch beat the Mundelein Ponies 34-0. Ken Adelizzi scored two TDs from 18 and 52 yards out. Adam Niles scored on a 5-yard run. Adam Podstawa's and Quinn Gooch's 40-yard runs were also good for TDs. Gooch also had a fumble recovery.

Brad Groth and Nick Kocinski played well on defense, as did Nick Rossi. Dan Kelly had a kick return called back on a penalty.

Heavyweights

The Heavyweights won 28-6 over the Mundelein Colts. Matt Ingram, Brian Birk, Mark Sural and Chris Brosch each scored TDs.

Kris VanderKoe and Jere Hagen opened some great holes for the heavyweight backfield. Defensive standouts were Gary Spiller, Chris Eibl and Nick Vockvich.

Lindenhurst Blitz win fifth

Blitz

The Blitz under 16 girls' traveling soccer team made it five in a row with a 3-1 win over the Glenview Fillies at Polley Field.

The Blitz broke into the lead with Carrie Gofron scoring off a cross pass by Becca Bleyer. But the lead didn't last long, as Glenview tied the score with a few minutes left in the first half.

With their focus set, the Blitz took over the game in the second half, keeping the Fillies pinned in their own end for most of the 40 minutes, generating several quality scoring chances. Bleyer put Lindenhurst back on top finding all net with the help of Allison Earl, who threaded a pass through the Glenview defense. A costly error by Glenview produced a penalty kick that Gofron punched in the lower left corner to ice the game.

Jill Denoma (goalkeeper), Tami Wright, Stacey Alberts, Nicki Kral and Sondra Lorang contributed to the effort in helping the Blitz reach victory.

The Blitz (5-0) travel down to Park Ridge Sunday.

Power

The Lindenhurst Power under 14 girls' traveling soccer team played two games this weekend, winning one game and losing the other.

The Power traveled to Wheaton to play a game under the lights and came out with a 1-0 victory.

The lone score came on a goal by Sara Richardson on a half-volley off a pass from Kristina Giangorgi.

The defensive play of Kristen Gamlin, Jenny Porter, Esther Scheurer and Katie Anderson kept the Wings from getting off any threatening shots.

The Power next played Chicago Pegasus Red, coming out on the short end of a 1-0 score.

Despite dominating the early play, Lindenhurst was unable to adjust to the windy conditions and could not find the net.

The Power's record is now 2-2-1. This Sunday they will be on the road to play Elmhurst.

Lightning

The Lightning under 12 girls' traveling soccer team could manage only a 1-1 tie with visiting Mt. Prospect.

The Lightning scored first by way of a corner kick early in the first half. Mt. Prospect then tied the game mid-way through the second half on a breakaway.

The Lightning's record now stands at 2-1-2.

Rockets

The Lindenhurst Rockets under 10 girls' traveling soccer team faced the Hinsdale Hurricanes and played to a 1-1 tie. Hinsdale opened the scoring, but just a minute later Tanya Earl tied the game off a pass from Stephanie Willding.

Standout performers for Lindenhurst were Lauren Cole and Robyn Mortenson.

The Rockets take their 3-1-3 record to Elgin this Sunday.

Royal Eagles

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles under 11 boys' traveling soccer team came out screaming again with a 3-1 victory over the Elk Grove Hornets.

Within the first seven minutes of play, Brian Walsh had three scoring attempts with one finding its mark, unassisted.

Tommy Woodruff chipped in one from a pass from Ryan Jordan. Kevin Beaudry sent a crossing pass to Adam Placko, who hammered it home.

Adam Jordan had another outstanding day in goal, stopping seven shots. Other standouts included Kaleb Barrett, Matt Boller, David Calvert, Eric Carlberg, Christian Chebny, Brian Halvey and Ramesh Kumar.

The Enigma under 19 girls' traveling soccer team (2-0-3) played to a 0-0 tie and the Lindenhurst Stars (under 14) were idle.

County survey shows home fires decrease in '93

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Fire officials are attributing the decrease of home fires in Lake County in the past year to a higher level of awareness among homeowners and the almost universal use of smoke detectors.

A total of 647 fires were reported among 22 fire departments in Lake County during 1993, a 9 percent decrease from the 712 the previous year.

This resulted in a reduction of $2 million of reported damage from the $7.8 million reported in 1993, according to a survey conducted by Kemper National of Long Grove.

The 647 home fires accounted for 26 percent of all fires reported to Lake County fire departments in 1993. No deaths were reported due to fires in Lake County in 1993, compared to eight the previous year.

Among the largest decreases in reported fires occurred in Long Grove, which showed a 73 percent decrease from 45 to 12, which can be related to the increased awareness, or more importantly the village's mandate of having fire sprinklers installed into all new developments, whether they be residential, commercial or industrial.

The village adopted the ordinance in April of 1988 as a way to cut down on the damage fires cause and to protect firefighters responding to the call.

Fire suppression systems cool the affected area and allow firefighters from the Long Grove and Countryside Fire Protection Districts to arrive to rural homes that may be spread 4 and 6 acres apart, said D.M. "Cal" Doughty, village manager for Long Grove. "We have already seen the benefit of them," he said, "and horror stories about them going off accidentally and ruining furniture has not happened."

Residential sprinkler systems have been installed in between 600 to 700 homes since the mandate went into effect, said David C. Grupp, chief of the Long Grove Fire Protection District.

The Village of Lake Zurich has a similar ordinance on its books, except it excludes single-family detached residences. Only those commercial units of more than 5,000 square feet or multi-family dwellings are required to have sprinklers installed, said Mario Tristan, fire prevention director for the Lake Zurich Fire Department.

Sandy Point condominiums and Terrace Lane apartments are two examples of Lake Zurich housing developments using sprinklers, he said.

Sprinklers installed into homes are different than those installed in stores, offices or industrial factories, and have a different reaction when activated, according to Tristan.

The sprinklers use a controlled spray to fight and cool fires directly underneath. Each sprinkler has its own sensors and does not cause others to activate, fire officials said.

The sprinkler heads are also designed to be recessed into the ceiling, therefore See FIREs page B2

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

By gaining the endorsement of Handgun Control Inc., Bob Walberg said he is giving voters a clear choice between the candidates when it comes to the issue of crime.

Walberg, a Democrat, is challenging Congressman Philip Crane for the 8th Congressional District. Walberg supported both last year's Brady Law and this year's Crime Law, while Crane voted against both measures in Congress.

Richard Aborn, president of Handgun Control Inc., extended his organization's endorsement to Walberg. Handgun Control Inc. claims to be the largest citizens' group dedicated to fighting gun violence by enacting national gun control policies.

"He (Walberg) understands that sensible gun laws are crucial in the fight against violent crime," said Aborn, who was a district attorney in Manhattan investigating homicide and large-scale gun distribution cases before teaming up with Handgun Control Inc.

Aborn charged Crane with standing "lock, stock and barrel" with gun lobbyists. He went on to add that the Brady Law, for example, has been effective in preventing 60,000 criminals and other prohibited purchasers from buying handguns.

According to surveys conducted by the Walberg campaign, more than 65 percent of the people of the 8th district supported the recent crime bill and 70 percent supported the ban on assault weapons in the law.

Walberg said the endorsement "means that we have a definite distinction between the candidates on the crime issue."

While the violent crime found

in cities has escaped suburbia, Walberg said gangs are beginning to have a presence in the suburbs and the "threat of violent crime is taking away a sense of security."

In addition to tougher laws punishing and incarcerating criminals, Walberg and Aborn said anti-crime legislation such as the Brady law and the national crime law signed by President Clinton last month are important tools to prevent violent crime.

"Do you want to see violent crime before you can prevent it," Aborn said. "Assault weapons clearly serve no social purpose."

Walberg said he would also support Brady Act II, which would reform gun dealership practices, require national gun licensing and demand gun manufacturers to build guns with child-proofing features.

Walberg also supports the creation of a national police corps, which models the National Guard in that college-bound students would serve two or three years as police officers in exchange for college money.

Walberg has also just released two television commercials. One depicts Walberg speaking about the differences between him and Crane on gun control, abortion rights and the economy. The other is a spinoff from the blockbuster hit "Forest Gump," with Walberg seen as a candidate for the people, and Crane as one for special interest groups.

Flood mitigation grants provided to Lake County

MARY FOLEY

Several areas in Lake County are to receive matching Federal funds for flood damage. In all, over $7.1 million in Federal Disaster Relief Funds will be going to select areas for damage occurring in the 1993 flood in Lake County.

During the heavy rains last year, parts of Lake County was declared a disaster area making some eligible for Federal aid. The County has experienced flooding in 1986, 1987, and 1993 and the

Gates go up at deadly crossing

A Johnsburg resident happily announced this week the crossing gate arms have been installed at the site in Long Lake on Main St. where her younger sister was killed.

Marcia Kadlubowski, warrior for a cause which took her sister Jean Pease Basile's life at the beginning of August, feels without the help of state Rep. Al Salvi (R-52), Grant Township officials, and other support, the crossing gates may not have been a reality.

Kadlubowski said she has been working with Dennis Morgan, the head of safety with Metra in Chicago, and he has asked her to take a position on a DuPage County task force fighting to erect quad-crossing gates at a site where a teenage girl was killed and her brother injured.—by TINA SWIECH

Demb injects energy into County Treasurer's race

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Arlene Demb, the Democratic candidate for Lake County Treasurer, is injecting some energy into the Treasurer's race. And energy is what it is going to take to unseat Jack "Red" Anderson, who has held the office for the GOP for 16 years.

Demb is taking Anderson to task on several fronts including visibility and accountability. "It has been the most invisible office in Lake County," she explains. Through her work at the Lake County Society for Human Development she has seen a lack of accountability as well as a duplication of services at the County level.

"I thought it was time to do something," said Demb. One of the many things she would like to do is increase the interest taxpayers are getting on the money they pay for property taxes. She is not impressed with Anderson's boast that Lake County tax dollars are invested only in Lake County banks.

"Helping local banks is fine," she said. "But, the question is whether or not this helps the taxpayers."

Neither is she impressed with Anderson's lengthy record as Lake County Treasurer. One of her favorite sayings is, "Don't tell me where you've been, tell me where you are going." She feels candidates for the office should "tell what you are going to do for taxpayers."

Demb has a number of plans if elected. "First, let's make sure that the money grows and we get the most we can with taxpayer's funds. This is not my savings account or yours," she said. "Also, we need to let people know where the money is." She vows to hold town meetings and appoint an ad hoc committee that will "be a link between the Treasurer's office and the community."

While she admits the slogan is overused, she said she really believes in "people representing people." Demb continued, "It is time."

Demb's plans will take energy, but she believes that is no problem for her. "I am working three full-time jobs now," she quipped. In addition to campaigning and her full-time job, she has also raised five children and managed a household.

While she was raising her children she taught school in Chicago, returned to get her master's degree in administrative sciences, and is a member of a number of community and charitable organizations. She is a member of the Waukegan Rotary, the Waukegan Downtown Association, Women in Development, the Waukegan Chamber of Commerce, Project Pride, Lake County Altrusa, and the Highland Park Disabilities Awareness Committee.

A former president of the Exchange Club of Zion, former president and treasurer of the Lake County Homeless Coalition, former chairperson of the employee campaign for United Way, and current president of the Zion Chamber of Commerce, Demb has kept busy. "You need to be involved in the community," Demb explains.

Demb is a term limits supporter and pledges to give up office, if she wins, in eight years. "I will serve as Lake County Treasurer for not more than two terms," she said in her pledge to voters. "The taxpayers of Lake County need fresh ideas and new approaches to the office. More than two terms will bring on the kind of stagnation which exists in the office today."

When asked if she believes a Democrat can win the office she answered with a definite yes.

"I'm here to rock the boat. To answer John Schullen, I want to open it up. I think I have a chance," said Demb.

Fires

They not only save property, said Doughty, but also the lives of firefighters.

"They are coming into your property and your home, and you owe them some kind of protection," he said.

Tristan said they act more efficiently than smoke detectors, as they begin to fight the fire before firefighters can arrive on the scene.

"A smoke detector will give you early warning to let you know to get out," he said, but will not suppress the fire.

And most fire alarms are not hooked into security systems that alert fire departments, still leaving homeowners with the task of calling for help.

Their use has resulted in a reduction of property damage that could be almost catastrophic. In one instance, a fire started in the kitchen of a Long Grove home was confined to that area and not allowed to spread throughout the home, according to Doughty.

If the fire had spread, half the home could have been destroyed, whereas the damage resulted in a remodeling bill of around $15,000.

Another blaze this past December which started in a waste basket was put out by sprinklers after getting out of the basket and scorching a wall, said Grupp, who is also Kemper National's fire protection engineer.

The fire was out before firefighters arrived, and the damage amounted to around $1,000, Grupp said.

Kitchen fires accounted for 156 of the home fires reported in 1993, or 24 percent of the total number, according to reports. Bedroom fires were the second most likely site of origin with 79 fires.

The sprinklers are fed by a 250-gallon pressurized tank, which is backed-up by the home's water system in case the fires are not detected in the early stages, Doughty said.

The number of fires in Lake Zurich, Wauconda and Libertyville also were reduced between 1992 and 1993. Results from the survey state Lake Zurich had 23 fires in 1992, and only 12 in 1993. Wauconda went down from 25 to 17, while Libertyville dropped from 12 to 11.

Countryside Fire Protection, which covers portions of Long Grove, Hawthorn Woods, Vernon Hills and rural Mundelein, responded to 32 fires in 1993, up from 26 the previous year. The Mundelein Fire Department also responded to more fires in 1993, increased from 12 to 18.

Illinois is among 24 other states that have cities and villages with residential sprinkler ordinances, with California having the most at around 40 different communities.

The week commemorates the great Chicago Fire of 1871 which killed 300 people, left 100,000 homeless and destroyed more than 17,000 buildings.

Village employees suspended

ROUND LAKE PARK—Mayor Charlene Beyer confirmed that four public works employees were suspended in an incident which occurred on Sept. 21 at a public works garage. Reports indicate the workers may have held a beer party and drugs may have been involved. Beyer said the village board will make a decision at the next village board meeting about the future of the public works department employees.

Judge to decide ballot issue

LAKE VILLA—The Millburn School District has filed for an administrative review of the decision rendered by Joseph Spagnolo, state superintendent of schools allowing the Lake Villa Unit District on the April ballot. A court date hasn't been set at this time. The circuit court will rule only on the transcript from a hearing in July conducted by Ed Gonwa, Lake County superintendent of schools and Spagnolo's decision. The court will make the decision if the issue will make the ballot.

Halloween Howl to be held

ANTIOCH—The Village of Antioch will be holding its first annual Halloween Howl complete with bonfire, haunted walkways, and hay rides. In addition, free Halloween pumpkins will be given away on Oct. 26 and 27 for a pumpkin decorating contest. The Howl will be held on Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29 in downtown Antioch.

Hawthorn Woods leaves CPC

HAWTHORN WOODS—The Hawthorn Woods Village Board officially withdrew from the Corridor Planning Council, the ad-hoc organization working with the Illinois Tollway Authority on the extension of Rte. 53. Formerly a council representing 13 communities, the CPC now has only 11 members. Long Grove pitched its association with the CPC during the summer. Hawthorn Woods officials said the extension would destroy pristine wetlands and contaminate its well-water supply. They said the superhighway would destroy the very character of Hawthorn Woods. Officials also said they were out-voted by other communities wanting the extension.

Developer looking to annex

LAKE ZURICH—An Oak Brook-based developer will go before the board of trustees Monday in hope of gaining approval for annexation of a housing project. Terrestri Development Company has proposed a 99 single-family and 142 town homes project, bisected by Midlothian Road on the northern edge of the village, south of Hawthorn Woods. Two trustees have already expressed their discontent with the proposal, which includes non-masonry materials for the town homes and smaller lots for the single family homes. Terrestri has built developments in Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates, which residents have said they do not want to happen in Lake Zurich.

Landfill expansion approved

GRAYS LAKE—The Lake County Board of Trustees has approved the vertical expansion of Countryside Landfill. It is estimated the approval will allow enough space for 20 more years of solid waste disposal in Lake County. Opponents to the vertical expansion charged that there is no way to be sure the vertical expansion will protect the health and safety of the surrounding communities. Proponents of the expansion are confident that all measures have been taken to ensure the health safety of the surrounding communities.

Prevention video debuts

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau will be presenting to area and state officials a video program entitled "It Didn't Have to Happen." The program will be held on Oct. 26 at Antioch Community High School. The video, which will be released nationally, was produced by Flight for Life and narrated by William Shatner. The purpose of the video is to convince students of the dangers of drinking and driving. Proceeds of the film will go to preventative organizations such as MADD, SADD, and EN CARE.

Youth may be charged as adult

FOX LAKE—A 16-year-old Ingleside resident who kidnapped and tied up two women last week, may be tried as an adult. States Attorney Mike Waller said he will file a petition with the juvenile court to have the youth prosecuted as an adult. According to the states attorney, the high school student is currently at Hulse House, a juvenile correction facility in Waukegan. He is facing charges including one count of home invasion, two counts aggravated kidnapping, one count armed violence, and one count aggravated vehicular hijacking—a relatively new law.

Fire Dept. raises concerns

VERNON HILLS—Officials from the Countryside Fire Protection District said they would like fire hydrants along the main street planned for the Cuneo development, called Gregg's Landing. Developers have planned hydrants in each of the neighborhood pods where the homes would face, but fire officials say hydrants along the collector street are necessary to provide water access to the back of the homes.

Teen shot, suspect in custody

WARREN TWP.—A teenager was shot while at home Oct. 10 in unincorporated Warren Twp. The Lake County Sheriff's Department is not releasing names of the 15-year-old victim or the 16-year-old suspect. The suspect is facing first degree murder, aggravated battery and aggravated discharge of a firearm charges. He is being held at Hulse Youth Detention Center in Waukegan.

GOP House key to tax reform

Reforming the hopelessly, politicized union-dominated Chicago school system, a necessary step to modernizing the way Illinois funds public education, will never happen as long as Democrats control the House of Representatives in Springfield.

For this reason, Lakeland Newspapers is giving a blanket endorsement to the Republican slate of House candidates in Lake County seeking election in the Nov. 8 general election.

This stand is being taken with the full awareness that no political party has a lock on virtue or ability to govern competently. We're taking this unusual step with the conviction that 1994 offers an unusual opportunity to correct a mess in educational funding created by one-party House dominance that has reached scandalous proportions, breaking the unholy alliance between the Chicago Teachers Union and the Democratic party of Illinois dominated by House Speaker Michael Madigan.

Voters in Lake County can do their part to get Illinois on the track for fair and equitable school funding, and general fiscal responsibility, by sending a 100 percent Republican delegation of state representatives to the General Assembly.

The Lake County GOP delegation in the House is led by Bob Churchill, a savvy veteran who holds a key leadership position under Minority Leader Lee Daniels. Seeking second terms are municipal expert Verna Clayton; Al Salvi, notable for his independence, and Andrea Moore, who concentrated on enhancing her party's reputation for fiscal responsibility while learning the legislative ropes. Campaigning for first terms are young businessman Tom Lachner, who aims to succeed the highly respected Virginia Fiester Frederick who retired, and Edna Schade, who has the job of knocking off Lauren Beth Gash, Lake County's lone Democratic state representative.

The GOP delegation is not in lock-step. Pro-choice Schade and Salvi are on opposite sides on the question of abortion. Salvi and Churchill differ on the pace and scope of growth and development. The Republican House candidates, however, are on the same page regarding landmark issues like accountability in education spending, property tax relief, fighting crime, promoting a job-creating business climate and stopping waste in government.

A state priority is reformulating the Illinois School Aid Formula which will come about when there is meaningful reform enacted in Chicago's corrupt school system. Workable school funding will trigger a lifting of the real estate tax burden.

The job is for Republicans. With a Republican-controlled House teaming with a Senate and governor on the same team, a new direction can be taken.

Worthy pair: Crane, Porter

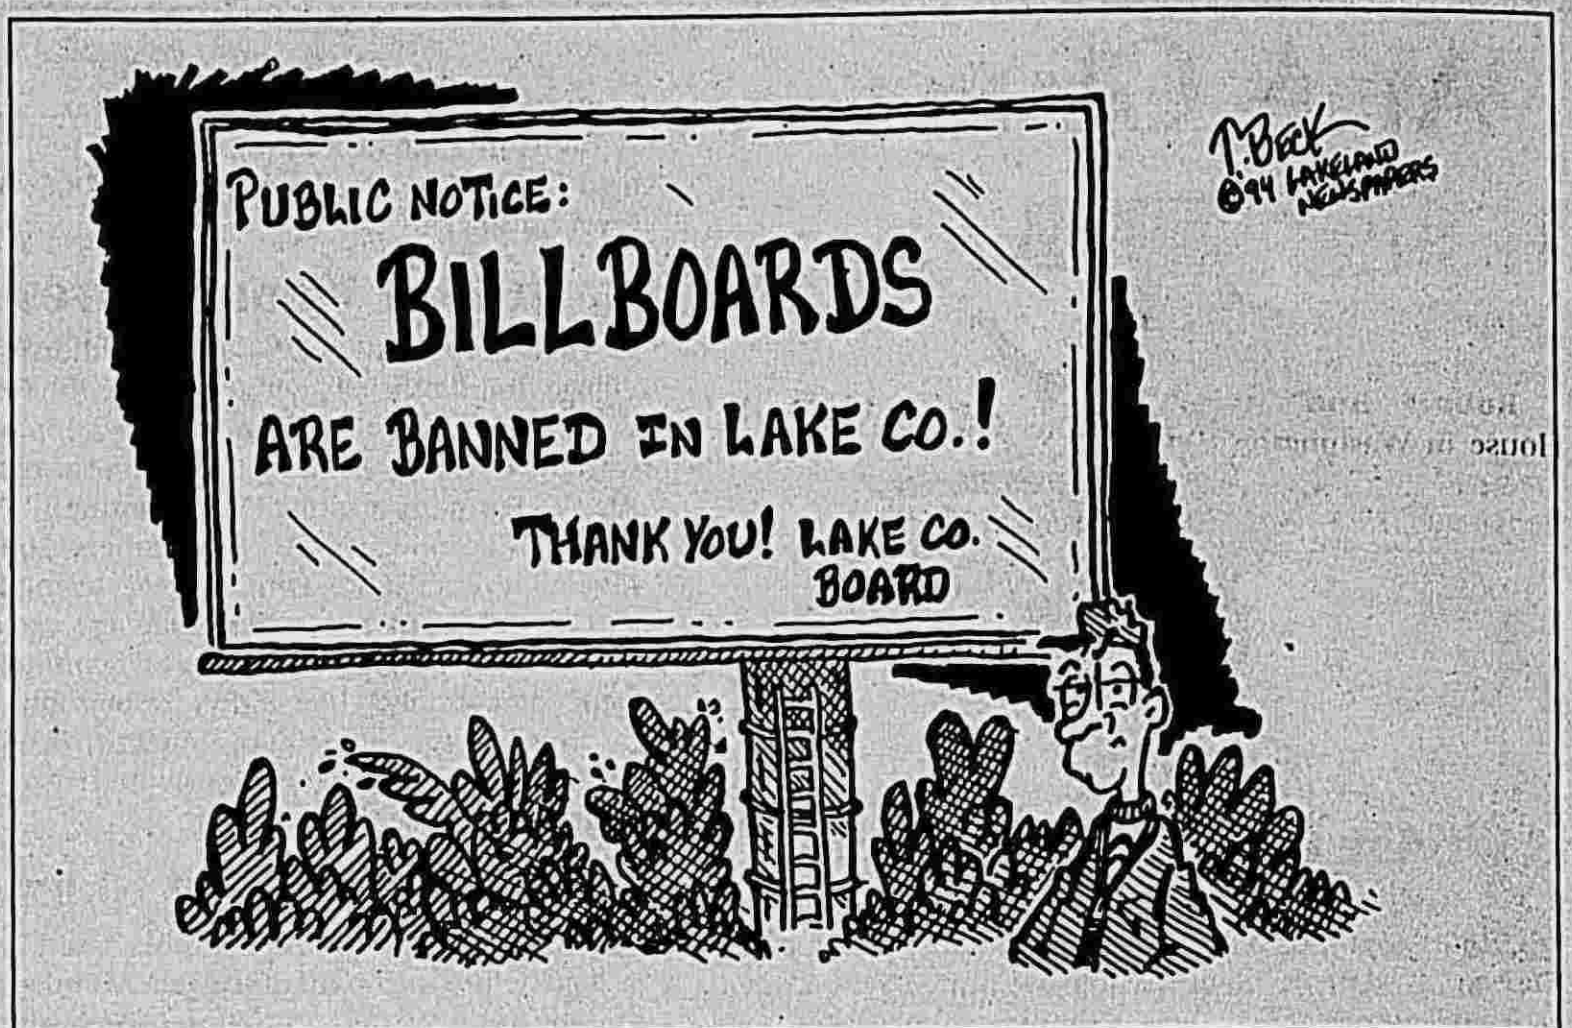

There are only two good reasons against term limitation: John Porter and Phil Crane.

Lake County has been served well by these two veterans of the legislative wars in Washington. Both are Republicans and they share an aversion to bigness in government, the erosion of individual freedom and careless spending. Yet they are different in style and outlook. Porter prefers moderation and choice. Crane is ultra-conservative and pro-life.

As individuals, the long-time Congressmen clearly reflect the thinking and political philosophy of their respective districts. Porter and Crane wouldn't have stayed in office as long as they have without being totally in tune with their constituencies. They deserve to be re-elected Nov. 8 and we fervently hope voters agree.

Lang letter seeks backlash votes

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Democrats are throwing everything at Republican Edna Schade but the kitchen sink in an effort to salvage the House seat of first-term Lauren Beth Gash.

State Rep. Louie Lang (D-Skokie) sent out a letter chiding Schade for playing on her friendship with former U.S. Sen. Charles Percy to get votes in the extreme southeast Lake County legislative district.

The letter basically was a diatribe against Percy for undercutting efforts 10 years ago to maintain a strong, independent Israel. Lang ripped the distinguished Illinois Republican as the "PLO's biggest apologist in the Senate." Lang, the chairman of Speaker Mike Madigan's Task Force on Gaming, berated Percy as President Reagan's "cheerleading captain" for the sale of AWACS and F-15 add-ons to the Saudis.

Backers viewed Percy as a vital force in maintaining relations with the volatile Arab nations, ties that later paid off during the Persian Gulf War.

It's a real stretch to link Percy's beliefs in 1984 with a Lake County House race in 1994. In reality, Lang is kindling an anti-Semitic issue in a locality with a heavy Jewish population in hopes of gaining backlash votes for Gash.

GOOSE QUOTA—Lake County is part of the new Northern Illinois Quota Zone established by the Illinois Conservation Dept. to curb hunters overharvesting Canada geese. Waterfowlers are supposed to call in their kill each day to 1-800-WETLAND. The quota was set at 13,000.

FISHING NEWS—A fall inland trout fishing season officially was to open at 5 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 15. Anglers will be going for some 74,000 rainbow trout, averaging 10 to 12 inches and weighing about a half-pound, being released in a catchable trout program at 34 sites around Illinois. Local lakes involved include Lakewood Forest Preserve, Wauconda, and Sand Pond in Illinois Beach State Park, Zion. The creel limit is five. A valid license and an inland trout stamp will be required.

THE ENEMY—At election time, members of the Illinois Federation of Teachers know who their enemies are—Republican legislators. Democratic loyalists scored in the 80's and 90's, according to an IFT score sheet on bills favoring union teachers. Here's how area House members scored:

Bob Churchill, 19; Verna Clayton, 32; Virginia Frederick, 33; Lauren Beth Gash, 73; Andrea Moore, 43; Al Salvi, 25, and Cal Skinner, 18. In the Senate, scores are as follows:

David Barkhausen, 13; Adeline Geo-Karis, 15; Dick Klemm, 33; Bill Peterson, 53, and Grace Mary Stern, 92.

Question? Can you name the Democrats?

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Our niece, Amy Schmid, a future school teacher, and her husband, Cliff Metaxa, a county corrections officer at Babcox Center, are enjoying their honeymoon. After exchanging wedding vows Friday at First Methodist Church, Libertyville, they greeted guests at Midlane Country Club. Good luck, kids.

Another political deal

Editor:

Imagine playing in a baseball game where the four umpires are drawn from the roster of the opposing team. You would have good reason to question the impartiality of the umpires' judgment. Believe it or not, such a contest did occur, but it was no game. It was an important voting rights case that was heard by the seven justices of the Illinois Supreme Court this past summer.

Last May, State Treas. Pat Quinn filed more than 437,000 petition signatures in support of the term limit referendum to limit state officials to no more than eight years in the same office.

In June, the Chicago Bar Assn., a lobby group of 21,000 lawyers, filed a lawsuit to knock the Eight is Enough term limit referendum off the November 8 ballot.

On Aug. 10, by a narrow 4-3 majority, the Illinois Supreme Court went along with the Chicago Bar Assn. and denied the six million voters in Illinois a chance to vote on the term limit issue. In an editorial, The Wall Street Journal said, "the court's decision reeks of politics."

The failure of justices Blandic, Freeman and McMorrow to disclose crucial information in a case before them should be held up to public scrutiny. The Illinois Supreme Court is supposed to be fair. Our state's highest court should be above playing politics where the voting rights of six million citizens are at stake.

PARTY LINES

House Minority Leader Michel to headline GOP club meeting

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Robert "Bob" Michel, the minority leader of the House in Washington, D.C., will be in Lake County to address the members of the 8th Congressional Dist. Republican Men and Women's Club.

Crane

Congressman Phil Crane of Wauconda made arrangements for the minority leader to attend the event. The 8th Congressional Dist. encompasses parts of Cook and Lake Counties; the Republican Club has members from both counties.

The dinner meeting will be held at the Concorde Banquet Facility, 20922 N. Rand Rd. (Rte. 12, just north of Quentin Rd.), Kildeer, on Friday, Oct. 14, with cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m. Cost is $17.50 per person.

Michel served in the enlisted ranks during World War II as a combat infantryman. He was awarded the Bronze Star, Purple Heart and four battle stars. He was elected the Republican Leader of the House from 97th to 103rd Congresses, elected minority whip December 1974, and is retiring at the end of this session of Congress. Congressman Michel is well respected on both sides of the aisle in Washington. He is also a favorite of many newsmen, who refer to Michel as the "Congressman who brought civility to the House and a Congressman who will be sorely missed by all."

Both Congressmen Michel and Crane will answer questions at the end of the dinner meeting. For reservations or more information, call Venita L. McConnel, 526-7851. The 8th Congressional Dist. Republican Club welcomes members and guests to this dinner meeting. Memberships will be available to those who wish to join.

Demo backers—County Democratic Chairman Terry Link is scoffing at recent Republican powwows where a group of mayors announced backing for Gov. Jim Edgar and another where support was pledged for GOP candidates.

"Democrats back their candidates. They don't have to be prodded at a public meeting," Link declared.

Enjoying life—With a pre-election lull and no opposition Nov. 8, State Rep. Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove) is enjoying life these days. Clayton's colleagues never miss an opportunity to rib Clayton about her campaign cakewalk this fall.

Pay-back time—Democrats are attempting to inject some new life into the campaign of Kathy Ryg for county clerk by describing the "deal" made by her opponent, Willard Helander.

According to the Demo line, Helander has agreed if elected to name Dana Sabonjian Depke the deputy county clerk. "If you don't agree, just look at the contributors to Helander's campaign. Lots of backers of chairman Bob Depke and people he's arm-twisted," one high-ranking Democrat declared.

Two persons who aren't talking about this scenario are Helander and Dana Depke, the chairman's daughter-in-law, who is busy these days making contacts for United Way as a loaned executive from Manpower, Inc.

Fundraiser—A major order of business for Corinne Wood, new president of the Lake County Republican Federation, is fund raising. She is only the second woman to lead the federation and a resident of Lake Forest. The first woman president, Marge Hart, also was a resident of Lake Forest. Wood will serve until September 1995.

COMMENTARY

Ask tough questions about Illinois' financial problems

Election season is our opportunity to ask candidates to level with us about problems and to propose solutions. One underlying problem in Illinois this fall is money, even though Illinois has the seventh highest per capita income in the nation.

State fiscal policy analysts have been sounding warnings about Illinois' "structural fiscal deficit" resulting from the inability of state revenues to keep up with the economic growth of our state. State obligations have exceeded revenue for the fifth consecutive year, and demands on state spending are expected to mount.

After the election is over, legislators will face, among other challenges, a continued backlog of Medicaid bills, a $14 billion pension shortfall and inadequate and inequitable education funding.

•Despite an 11th-hour budget deal and plans for Medicaid reform, the budget for fiscal year 1995 does not include sufficient funds to pay both the $700 million in Medicaid bills still left over from last year and the bills expected this year.

•New legislation for funding Illinois' five retirement funds requires hefty increases in state contributions to make up for past underfunding. Next year it is estimated that the state will be required to contribute over $600 million, an increase of more than $89 million over this year's budgeted amount. Contributions required for future years increase even more dramatically.

•In 1992, the state's bi-partisan Task Force on School Finance found that 80 percent of Illinois students live in underfunded school districts. The State Board of Education estimates that an additional $2.7 billion dollars is needed to bring all districts up to an adequate foundation level of $4,500 per pupil.

Illinois' mounting obligations are symptomatic of a basic flaw in our state revenue system. Illinois' sales, income and property taxes combined put the greatest tax burden on those with the least ability to pay. This is a major reason for the lack of adequate revenue growth in Illinois and makes our tax system one of the most regressive in the nation.

Instead of reforming our revenue system, the Illinois legislature has enacted nearly annual stopgap measures, such as cigarette tax increases and the lottery, in an attempt to meet state obligations.

Now is the time to ask candidates the tough questions. What long-term solutions do they recommend to avoid yearly fiscal emergencies and pay state bills on time. Do they think that additional revenue is needed to meet state obligations, and where should it come from? Do they think Illinois' tax system is unduly regressive, and what changes would they recommend to foster fairness and growth?

Candidates will be asking for our votes in the next few weeks. We should be asking them for something in return—real solutions for Illinois' fiscal problems.—League of Women Voters Presidents: ILENE ABRAHAMS; NINA ALLRED; SALLY HAMM; DIANE LLOYD; BARBARA LIPPAI; SHIRLEY WILLIAMS

Salvi slants column

Editor:

Week after week, I read an obviously opinionated column by Mr. Al Salvi, state representative for the 52nd Dist. This is not located in the Op-Ed portion of your paper, nor is it in the letter to editor section. Is Mr. Salvi being paid by you for this "advertising" space? Is what he says within his column "news" or "legislative updating?" I think not.

Nor do I see any space offered or utilized by opposing political views to his obviously "slanted" position. It would seem to me that either the weekly information should come from Mr. Salvi directly in the form of a newsletter, or he should pay current advertising rates per column inch.

Otherwise, at least put this in the opinion section where it belongs.

Stop development

Editor:

To all the people who are tired of seeing a new development every time you blink your eye. Lake County is one of the fastest growing counties in the U.S. It is time to slow down. It is time to reevaluate what is important.

Remember when the schools were not overcrowded? Remember the open fields? They are building on wetlands, filling in flood plains, building in areas that are home to endangered animals.

When will they stop?

Believe in the future, believe you can make a difference. Check out your local area. See what is going on. Stop them before it is too late. Stop them before Lake County becomes nothing more than a lake from the improper planning and stormwater retention.

Board abusing authority

Editor:

As a taxpayer, the decision of the elected officials on the Millburn Board of Education is considered most self-serving. At their regular meeting Sept. 19, they formally decided to take an action which is intended to deprive us of our constitutional right to vote on an issue which is of great importance to me and to everyone else who pays taxes in the Millburn School Dist., which are now considerably higher than anyone else's in the five surrounding districts.

It was stated that the options being presented on the ballot were not in the best interests of the district. As voters and taxpayers, we are the district. It is our right to make such a decision. It was presumptuously stated that the board had access to information which we, the citizens do not, and therefore they are better informed to make the decision. If that is the case, Mr. Schroeder, it is your duty to enlighten us with that information, not prevent us from making informed decisions.

At this point, the unit district is no longer the main issue. We all have varied opinions based upon the information which has been carefully and sparingly dispensed by both sides. The issue is abuse of power. The members of the Millburn Board of Education, through some quirk of the law, had the power to remove constituents from the democratic process. If that is not bad enough, they will be using a reported $7,000 to $10,000 of taxpayers' money, money from our education fund in the effort to take away our vote. The board has the audacity to announce that it is considering not one, but three referenda in the foreseeable future. And one is for an increase in the education fund.

The fact that the vote was six to one tells us that not everyone on the board has lost his mind.

Growers: Just move!

Editor:

Here's a "modest proposal" for all the village trustees in Lake County working hard to transform their own lovely small towns and surrounding countryside into proper suburban sprawl. Move! Go live in one of the areas you admire and leave the rest of us alone. We don't mind.

You'll love living in a Schaumburg-like place. Life will be a lot easier for you there. All the amenities you crave are already in place—clogged traffic, inflated property valued, high taxes, over-crowded schools, significant crime rate, commercial/industrial development, poor air quality and Lake Michigan water. Another big "plus": most of the nasty trees and wild animals have already been exterminated.

Greater Chicagoland offers an almost endless choice of appropriate housing for you. Go for it!

Mayor orchestrates mall

Editor:

Certainly the citizens of Wauconda should not have to pay for Mayor Eschenbach's Comprehensive Plan. Oh, I know Thompson-Dyke takes the rap, but that's hog-wash. No reputable firm would put out such a single-focused, insensitive, non-representative plan. They merely followed the mayor's blueprint.

Instead of studying our area, our people, our dreams, they would thrust a Vernon Hills-Gurnee Mills purgatory upon us.

Look to Vernon Hills—how soon it became the pits. Gurnee Mills—Rte. 137 is fast becoming the same wasteland; and houses are springing up like warts—a regular contagion of development. This always follows a mall.

Mayor Eschenbach is orchestrating this whole takeover—why he fought so hard for office. Where does he get his support—the developer-builder agenda. He expects to get by with it. The Eschenbach Mall?

'5 to Show' art exhibit to open

The 19th annual "5 to Show" exhibition of paintings and prints by five Lake County artists will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 22 and 23, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Layson Gallery, 622 North Ave., Waukegan.

Artists exhibiting their work are Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas, Everett Misunas, Skip Wiese and Malcolm Layson, all of Waukegan; and Don Daniels, Lake Forest.

Originally called "5 to Show Watercolors," the annual exhibit began in 1976 and has expanded to include works done in oil, pastels, inks, etchings, block prints, serigraphs and monotypes.

All of the five artists have won numerous awards at various juried art shows, and have their works represented in galleries and public and private collections throughout the U.S. Three have been featured on Cable 3's program "A community of Artists," in which local artists were profiled in their studios.

The show is open to the public and is free of charge. Participating artists are:

Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas—A signature member of the Midwest Watercolor Society, she and husband Everett formed the cooperative Millennium Art Gallery in Libertyville with eight other artists. Her work, reflecting her many travels in this country and Europe, is also exhibited in the Wustum Museum in Racine, Wis.; the Ft. Wayne Museum in Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Mahin's Art Gallery in Kenilworth; and the College of Lake County, Grayslake.

Everett Misunas—a renowned printmaker whose drawings are shown in the same galleries as those of his wife, as well as galleries in Taos, N.M.; Toronto, Canada; Washington, D.C.; and Rochester, N.Y. For more than 37 years, he taught printmaking and graphic design courses at Waukegan High School and was chairman of the art department there. Young musicians get their chance to string it up

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

The lakes are alive . . . with the sound of music. Those who think the county is lacking in classical music will have their thirst for culture quenched when the Lake County Youth Orchestras begin their debut season with a performance Nov. 20. The LCYO, which features first-graders through high school seniors in its various ensembles, began during the last holiday season. Grayslake resident Carol Leybourn and four parents were discussing after a piano recital how surprising and sad it was that a majority of the schools in Lake County did not have musical programs that supported strings.

Leybourn and her family moved to Grayslake five years ago from Ann Arbor, Mich. Like a lot of new residents in this rapidly growing county, Leybourn came from an area where string programs in the schools are in full stride. Leybourn, a classical pianist, raised a violinist, a cellist, and a string bass player. From that conversation, Leybourn and the parents put together a plan. "We kept saying 'Somebody should do something.' So, I finally decided to do something," Leybourn said.

Leybourn and the core group of parents formed a committee that developed the idea of the Lake County Youth Orchestras. With no questions regarding the level of desire by the young musicians and the parents forming the group, they still faced a set of hurdles.

One problem they wanted to avoid was interfering with any organized plans by the schools to offer a strings program. The answer from the rapidly growing, cash strapped schools was not surprising. The schools were being forced to pull back on extracurricular programs such as strings, so the group had their blessings.

Another problem was that an orchestra needs a place to practice and to perform. They looked around at rental space in the schools and civic buildings and determined the zero balance in their checkbook would not allow for those options. One of the parents finally decided to ask the United Protestant Church in Grayslake if it would be willing to house the fledgling group. Problem generously solved. They now practice in the spacious church every Sunday afternoon, rent free.

The next hurdle was just as daunting. When an orchestra attempts to practice or perform, they quickly realize they need a director. Obviously, not everyone is capable of directing an entire orchestra. It takes a special background.

The parent committee put the word out and waited for a response. Problem two solved. They were pleasantly surprised to have several qualified people jump at the chance to direct a county wide youth orchestra. One of those individuals was Ed Wilcox of Wonder Lake.

Wilcox had retired from years of directing orchestras across the United States. He had always hoped to retire by a lake and teach violin in his home, passing on the gift of classical music to a new generation. But Wilcox soon began to feel a small void without that experience of directing an orchestra, something that by now came as second nature to him. With his appointment to head the LCYO, he is now truly fulfilling a dream.

The privately-funded orchestra groups include children from all over Lake County. The group was not formed for performances only, but has a mission to teach as well. Children are expected to benefit from the experience of performing with peers, practicing and by following the guidance of masters of their craft. The orchestra features an introductory group, an intermediate group, and an advanced group for the levels of each student's ability.

The LCYO is still inviting more interested child musicians to join. For more information on the group call 223-6635 or 548-1249. Those interested may also correspond with Lake County Youth Orchestras, PO Box 488, Grayslake, Ill., 60030-0488.

Their performance Nov. 20 will be at the United Protestant Church, 2 p.m., at the corner of Whitney St. and Park Ave. in Grayslake.

Christopher Thomas of Libertyville is another featured performer for the Lake County Youth Orchestras.

Victoria Jackson of Lake Bluff is one of the many young string players from all over Lake County to join Lake County Youth Orchestras.

CRITIC'S CHOICE

'Anna Karenina' comes to life in a musical

Scene from Apple Tree's "Anna Karenina" featuring Scott Schumacher (standing), Susan Moniz and Robert Mammana.

"Anna Karenina," Leo Tolstoy's passionate story of illicit love in czarist Russia, comes to live in a musical adaptation at Apple Tree Theatre in Highland Park.

With lyrics by Peter Kellogg and music by Daniel Levine, this drama benefits from the theater's intimate setting. It's filled with an appealing cast and some catchy numbers.

But be prepared: the compression into two and one-half hours inevitably undercuts much of the character development of the original story and reduces the pain and suffering to something bordering a soap opera forum.

Susan Moniz is captivating in the lead as the adulterous Anna, emotionally devastated at the loss of her son and doubts about the fidelity of her lover. She has a superb voice that comes to full flower in "Waiting for You," a steamy duet with her beau, County Vronsky (Robert Mammana).

Mammana also demonstrates an irresistible demeanor and vocal talent.

Scott Schumacher as the jilted no-nonsense husband is stiff, dull and pompous. Jennifer Rosin is a delicious, if naive, Kitty, while Tracy Hultgren, as Levin, makes a fine suitor, kind, decent and good humored.

Though "Anna Karenina," the musical, loses much in translation from the novel, it's a fine piece of work in its own right. It runs through Oct. 30. Ticket information is available by calling 432-4335.—by TOM WITOM

Getting married in Las Vegas

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Some people still think of a Las Vegas wedding as appropriate only for a sailor and his best girl, just before his ship sails.

Well, tell that to Bruce Willis and Demi Moore, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward, Elvis and Priscilla, Frank and Mia, Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, Brigitte Bardot and Roger Vadim, Mickey Rooney and several ex-wives. They, and many others to whom money was no object, found Las Vegas' wedding chapels more than satisfactory to tie the knot.

Las Vegas does have its appeal for a fast, cheap wedding. There is no waiting period, no blood test and, in the city that never sleeps, the court house is open until midnight Monday through Thursday. On weekends they're open 24 hours a day! $25 for the license, and another $25 for the ceremony fee, and you're married.

However, it is Las Vegas' many wedding chapels, offering to provide everything but the bride and groom, that are the real appeal of a Las Vegas wedding.

These chapels offer wedding packages that include anything from bouquets and boutonnieres, photos and video recordings, limo pick-up, music, tuxedos and gowns, and even the wedding ring! Honeymoon suites right up to a $900 a day penthouse suite at Caesar's can be included. Short on cash? Most accept Visa or Mastercard!

While there are many beautiful chapels, a couple of my favorites are the Candlelight, next to the Riviera, and the Chapel of the Fountains, which is located, of all places, in the Circus Circus Hotel.

A complete wedding package, right down to fee for the minister, can be arranged by (guess who) your local travel agent.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Moonlight, margaritas, Michael Jordan and me

Well, here I am again. As you can tell by the fact that my column still exists, I flew to Florida via U. S. Air, and lived to tell you a tale or two about my vacation. The trip was relaxing, fun, and very educational. I know you must be dying to share in my newfound travel knowledge, so read on—you may find something useful for your next trip:

1. First, try my recipe for becoming a seasoned traveler - drink 3 frozen margaritas per day, with the rim of the glass coated with salt. If that's not enough, stand in the ocean as a large wave comes in with your mouth open. You'll have all the seasoning you'll ever need (as soon as you stop choking).

2. When your parents (who live in Florida) tell you that the beach you are frequenting has nude sunbathers, believe them - I found out the hard way. I took a walk down the beach to a deserted park area, looking for photo opportunities. I got more than I bargained for. As I was watching some gulls, I suddenly heard a clucking sound, the kind you make by sucking in air on both sides of your tongue. Trying to find the source of the noise, I saw movement in the woods. There stood a man, dressed in nothing but a tan. Scared, I ran back to my friends, who had only one thing to say. "What?? No picture?"

3. Bring your credit cards in case of rain—there's nothing more fun than 3 women on vacation, without their husbands, armed with credit cards in an out of state mall. Every time I think about it, I still get chills.

4. Lizards in Florida are free—this is something to keep in mind in case you've had a lot of rain on your vacation and have no money or credit left to purchase souvenirs for your family. However, in order to catch a lizard, you will need to cut your margarita quota down to one for the day. Better yet, get a net. (For the lizard.)

5. Shells in Florida are also free - and if you don't have time to walk up and down the beach all day, here's a quick, easy way to gather shells. Go to the beach in the moonlight, when the tide comes crashing in, and sit in the surf. When you stand up, the seat of your bathing suit will be filled with shells. Walk carefully back to your room, avoiding people who pass you by making jokes like, "Are those shells in your suit or are you just glad to see me?" Remove all the shells that are now embedded in your skin or, if you prefer, leave them in here and there as "body jewelry."

6. Here is my final and most important tip—always have extra film for your camera, and try not to act like a moron.

This piece of advice would have come in very handy when we discovered that Michael Jordan was sitting across the room from us in a bar called "Cha Cha Coconuts." We had just used the last of the film in the camera an hour before, when my friend Colleen said, "I think I just saw Michael Jordan walk by." Since she's a Knicks fan, and couldn't be trusted to recognize a Bulls player if it bit her, I had to find out for myself, so I walked around the bar and there sat Michael, with several minor league ballplayers, in all his bald-headed glory.

Not one to let a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity pass by, I sauntered over to his table, hoping to impress him with my cool charm. Instead, I blurted out, "Are you Michael Jordan?"

After which he grinned at me with a sly "Blonde Moron Alert" smile and pointed to the ballplayer sitting next to him and said, "No, he is."

May his Airness forgive me.

The 'Flying Elvi'

Will be landing at Lambs Farm Oct. 16. Performing their famous sky-diving act, these Elvi Impersonators will parachute over the skies of Lambs Farm. Once on the ground they will continue their outrageous "Las Vegas" style stage show. For more information call 362-4636.

Good Food

Easy Beef Pot Pie makes delicious Sunday dinner

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

As the weather turns cooler, our tastebuds tend to turn to warmer, more traditional meals. A perfect taste pleaser for that Sunday family get together is the following recipe from the Illinois Beef Council. It's not only tasty, it's also quick, taking about one-half hour to prepare.

Make-It-Easy Beef Pot Pie

1 pound boneless beef top sirloin steak, cut 3/4 inch thick

1 Tbl. vegetable oil
8 ozs. small mushrooms, quartered
1 medium onion, sliced
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/4 cup water
1 jar (12 ounces) brown beef gravy
1 pkg. (10 ounces) frozen peas and carrots
1/4 teaspoon dried thyme leaves

1 small can (4 1/2 ounces) refrigerated buttermilk flavor biscuits

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Trim fat from steak. Cut steak lengthwise in half and then crosswise into 1/4-inch thick strips. In large ovenproof skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat until hot. Add beef (1/2 at a time) and stir fry 1 to 2 minutes or until outside surface is no longer pink. (Do not overcook.) Remove from skillet with slotted spoon.

In same skillet, add mushrooms, onion, garlic and water. Cook and stir 3 minutes or until onion is tender. Stir in gravy, vegetables and thyme. Bring to a boil; remove from heat. Return beef to skillet. Cut biscuits in half; arrange in a ring on top of beef mixture.

Bake in 400 degrees oven 12 to 14 minutes or until biscuit topping is golden brown.

Movie Pick
Streep the crest in 'River Wild'

Cast of 'The River Wild'

Meryl Streep has highlighted a stunning movie career by languishing for her lieutenant, battling a large corporation for her life against radiation contamination, fighting her way back from drug addiction, literally falling apart in an effort to keep her youth, playing an alcoholic street person, or maintaining her innocence when she is accused of killing her baby.

In her latest movie release, "The River Wild," she is the entire show, with Kevin Bacon stealing a few minutes, as she pulls her family through its embattlement with terrorizing strangers and a wild white water rafting ride.

The other star of this picture is the gorgeous photography of western Montana and the Kootenai River.

Without the commanding power of Streep's ever-prevailing talent, "River" would be a so-so adventure travelogue. The exciting rushing, roaring river scenes are also the flick's highlights.

The not so happily married Streep, her boring husband, David Strathairn, and her son, while on an outdoorsy vacation, get tangled up with two criminals, played by Kevin Bacon and John Reilly.

Streep gives her character innate strength and courage as she tries to pull the rest of them through this sometimes, dull, sometimes action-packed, adventure. She even manages to look sexy when the psychopathic Bacon makes a pass at her despite her baseball cap, shapeless life preserver and the rest of her unattractive rafting garb.

Though the river itself may be deep, somehow everything else about "River," except for a few believable flashes from Bacon, and Streep's performance, is pretty shallow.

The lack of depth is probably what got "River" its PG-13 rating making it a good movie for the entire family to see.

We'll give it three out of five stars on the strength of Streep's performance.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Searle sponsors nature program

School children from low income areas in Lake County will have an opportunity to participate in environmental education programs through field trips held at Forest Preserves throughout Lake County thanks to a donation by Skokie-based Searle Pharmaceuticals. Their sponsorship of the Lake County Forest Preserves "Gateways to Nature Grant Program" was announced at a meeting of the Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners.

Winners of the "Gateways to Nature" art contest, also sponsored by Searle, were honored at the board meeting by Forest Preserve President Collin L. McRae and William Philip, Searle vice president for pharmaceutical manufacturing.

Over 300 Gateways school children in grades kindergarten through sixth participated in the art contest. First place winners of the art contest are: for grades kindergarten through third, Jose Manuel Ruiz, 6, from Oakdale School in Waukegan; and for grades fourth through sixth, Mike Ortman, 11 from Stanton School in Fox Lake. Both winners received $100 savings bond and $50 gift certificate for The Nature Co.

"Searle's commitment to the Gateways program demonstrates their strong concern for the environment and generous support of the Lake County Forest Preserves."

Through this innovative and successful public-private partnership, thousands of students will have the opportunity to learn about nature first-hand.

For more information on the "Gateways to Nature" program contact Lynn Hepler, at 948-7753, ext. 217.

FALL CAR CARE

Learn facts of auto tune-up before repairs begin

When you take your car into the shop for a "complete tune-up," a service generally required every 30,000 miles or every two or three years, what services should be included? This question, often controversial even among the automotive service trade. The facts are provided by a "CD-ROM" repair information database, used by technicians to access current and accurate diagnostic and repair information.

Electronic Ignition, computerized engine controls and electronic fuel injection have eliminated many of the adjustments that once were part of a traditional tune-up. So most technicians probably would say a tune-up on most cars today is a preventive maintenance service or an engine performance check.

One of the main reasons people take their vehicles into their mechanics for a tune-up is because they are experiencing some kind of "driveability" problem: starting, stalling, hesitation on acceleration, poor gas mileage or lack of power. These symptoms seldom are cured with a new set of spark plugs or a few turns of the screw-driver. On today's complex engines a comprehensive performance check is in order.

Another item that should be included is an emission check, now mandatory in many states.

Most mechanics check the operation of basic emissions control components, but an actual emissions check at the tailpipe is essential to accurate diagnosis.

The following are 21 items that should be included in a complete tune-up, according to the professionals. The list may vary according to vehicle and/or shop providing the service, but it's a handy reference for owners seeking quality service.

1. Replace spark plugs.
2. Replace distributor rotor.
3. Check the distributor cap and replace it if necessary.
4. Check Ignition timing and adjust if necessary.
5. Check Ignition performance (firing voltage/ignition patterns).
6. Check Ignition wires and replace if necessary.
7. Check Ignition idle speed and adjust if necessary.
8. Check the choke mechanism (on engines with carburetors).
9. Clean fuel injectors.
10. Check compression and/or power balance (to identify bad injectors as well as compression problems).
11. Check manifold intake vacuum to reveal exhaust restrictions.
12. Check battery and charging voltage.
13. Check exhaust emissions, to verify fuel mixture, ignition performance and emission controls performance.
14. Check the vehicle computer for presence of any trouble codes.
15. Install a new air filter.
16. Replace the fuel filter(s).
17. Replace the PCV (positive crankcase ventilation) valve.
18. Check all emissions control components.
19. Check all vital fluids, including engine oil, transmission fluid, coolant, brake and power steering fluid.
20. Check all belts and hoses.
21. Check safety items such as lights, windshield wipers, tires, horn, etc.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Others may not say exactly what's on their minds and you'll have to read between the lines early in the week. Later, improved concentration brings you success with certain intellectual pursuits. ★

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) ★ Visits with old friends are favored this week but there may be a last-minute change in travel arrangements. It's not a good week for shopping since you'll be tempted to overspend. Guard against this. ★

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) ★ You'll find a solution to one business problem but some you deal with may be overly sensitive and touchy, leading to another dilemma. This will sort itself out in time. Unexpected expenses may arise. ★

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Work of a mental nature is favored. However, you may not get as much time for yourself as you'd like this week. This may put you in a grouchy mood but don't take it out on others. This weekend, you'll take time for reflection. ★

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You'll spend part of this week with financial record-keeping which leads you to a happy surprise. Social plans are subject to change but take this in stride. A career matter is left unresolved. ★

VIRGO (August 23 to September

22) You'll reach a better understanding of a matter that has a partner concerned. Work interests may take priority over socializing. However, a close friend is easily misfired. Be careful not to offend this person right now. ★

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You may be busy with work from the office and you'll feel positively swamped this week. Right now, there's too much going on at home to consider a trip. Good news comes from a relative who lives far away. Prepare for a visit. ★

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be careful you don't misplace a credit card or something else of value. This week, you'll be a bit preoccupied and absent-minded. Also, pay extra attention to the tasks at hand while at work. A loved one is easily upset. ★

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Heart-to-heart discussions are favored. A family member feels neglected and requires extra consideration and patience this week. However, you are up to the job since you're in a positive, communicative mode. ★

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) This is a week to stay away from physically strenuous activities. Instead, work of a mental nature is favored. There is some danger of overtiring yourself through socializing. Pay heed to health and diet and you'll feel better. ★

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Overspending on various pleasure interests is a real temptation. However, you should be discriminating about socializing this week or you may find yourself stuck at a boring event. Not every invitation requires your attendance. ★

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're very preoccupied this week and may not be very good company. A loved one feels neglected and will lash out. Use diplomacy in dealing with this person and try to smooth things over. ★

Author raising breast cancer awareness through cooking

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Learning to cook light can benefit your heart, health and home and now it can also benefit breast cancer research.

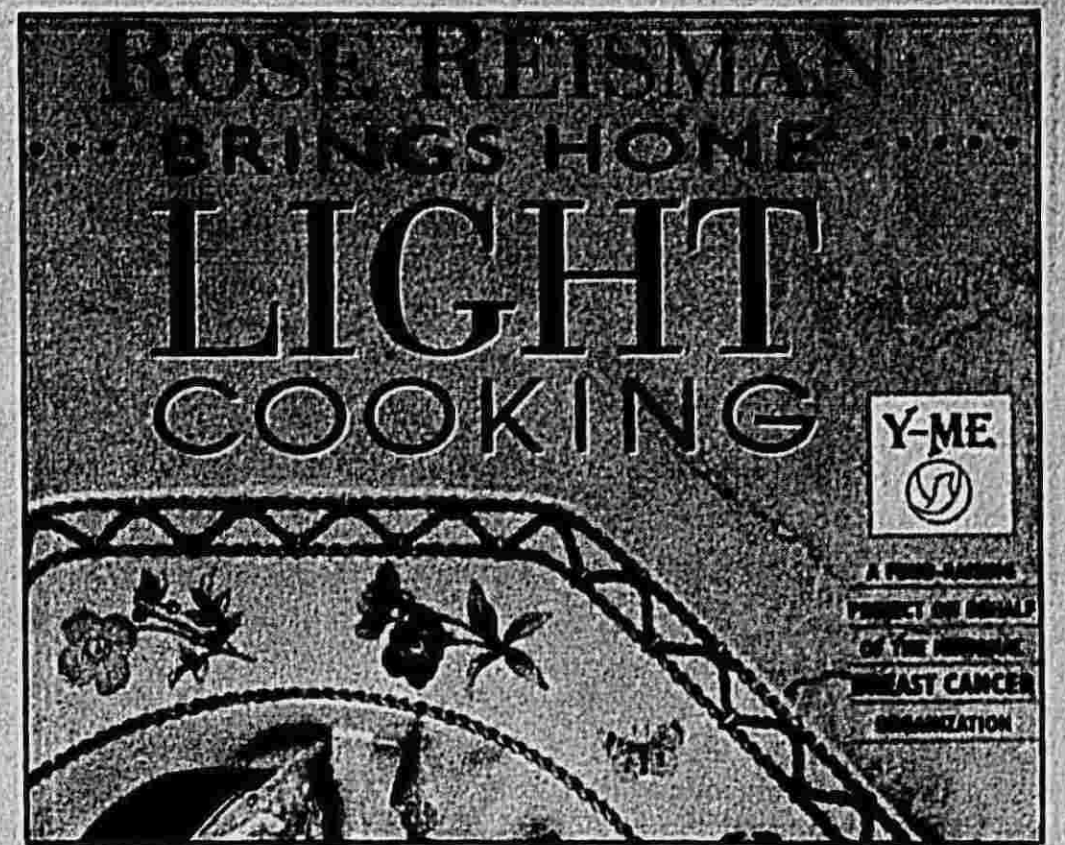

Best-selling cookbook author Rose Reisman has developed an innovative program with the Chicago-based Y-ME National Breast Cancer Organization in which a portion of the sales of her latest book, Rose Reisman Brings Home Light Cooking, will benefit Y-ME's breast cancer support and information programs.

"I got involved with cooking light when I discovered my own cholesterol count was above average," said Reisman. "Despite running 5 miles a day and being within my ideal weight range, my cholesterol count was above average and it scared me."

Reisman said the correlation between cancer and other illness and high cholesterol prompted her to take immediate action.

"As a 41-year-old mother of four children ages 2 to 10, I wanted to bring my cholesterol level down and teach my children to eat healthier," Reisman said. "If children can develop a taste for See COOKING page B20

Implant recipient warns others of dangers

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

The name of the patient in this story has been changed to protect her identity.

At the age of 29, Mary, made a difficult decision. Following a double mastectomy to stop the spread of a cancer that nearly took her life, Mary opted for breast implant surgery. In an ironic twist of fate, that decision which once seemed to give her life back, may now take it.

Following almost 23 years of muscle aches, illness and a lack of energy, Mary is convinced that she, like hundreds of thousands of other women, suffers from silicone poisoning. The poisoning is a result of her breast implants. She has had the implants removed but there remains seepage of the poison into her body. Last week, she underwent another surgery to try to clean up the mess her plastic surgeon left behind.

"I didn't think I had any other choice," Mary said of the decision to have implants. "I was told they were safe. We live in a society where we are taught that everyone must be a 'Barbie doll' and have the perfect body. At the time, I was told, I'd die with these implants."

Mary may well die as a result of the implants even though they have physically been removed. And, she is angry about it. Very angry about it.

After years of research and physicians visits, Mary believes that she and others like her who had breast implants were misled.

"There is documentation and research studies going back more than 20 years that indicate silicone implants were harmful and could be deadly," said Mary. "But, it's hard to find a plastic surgeon who will admit that health warnings existed or that chemical companies had any knowledge that silicone could be harmful."

Mary is especially angry that product inserts warning of dangers were not shared with consumers.

"I had no idea that any such product inserts existed at the time of my implants," said Mary. "In fact, I was told they were safe, could never break and never leak. I was lied to. Hundreds of thousands of women have had these implants without informed consent."

In recent years, the issue of breast implants has become international with chemical companies settling an umbrella lawsuit for women with the implants. Celebrities such as Chicago's talk show host Jenny Jones have shared their personal experience with the implants with viewers throughout the world.

For Mary and two of her friends, one way of coping with the on-going problem is awareness. They formed the first Chicago area chapter of SISTERS. The support group is for women suffering the effects of breast implants.

"One of the saddest things

'I was told they were safe. We live in a society where we are taught that everyone must be a "Barbie doll" and have the perfect body. At the time, I was told, I'd die with these implants.'

— Mary,
Implant recipient

about this crisis is that so many women refuse to believe it could be their implants making them ill," said Mary. "Some women have had them for years and their husbands and closest friends are not aware of it. They are embarrassed to come forward.

Many women with silicone poisoning experience thyroid and muscle problems as well as a lack of energy.

"I'm so tired that I can't make it through a day," said Mary, who vows to fight for awareness of the problems associated with breast implants with every breath she has.

"We must educate women and we must educate doctors," said Mary. "Many doctors out there don't believe it's the implants that are making women sick and others don't want to believe you when you tell them."

"Women have got to get these out of their bodies so they can get well," said Mary. "We have got to inform and educate and then we have to fight back."

— Next week, Healthwatch will take the issue of breast implants to the medical professionals and examine whether new implants made of soybean oil and saline are an option for women.

eating lighter and healthier when they are young they will carry those habits with them for the rest of their lives."

As a nationally renowned cookbook author in Canada, Rose has reworked and rigorously tested her favorite recipes to provide a compendium of delicious, high-fiber, lower-fat dishes that do not sacrifice taste. Her lower-fat food philosophy is based on common sense: Flavor determines what people will eat.

Reisman makes lower-fat cooking easy and delicious with more than 240 straight-forward recipes, easy-to-find and low-cost ingredients and simple techniques.

"I've chosen recipes that range from the simple to the elegant. The recipes in the book are appropriate for every day and special occasions. I've tried to include the classics and trendy foods, such as Thai and Oriental," said Reisman. "Because so many people travel in their occupations, I've also included a chapter on eating out and how to avoid high-fat foods."

"Rose Reisman Brings Home Light Cooking," is endorsed by Dr. Susan Love, Director of the UCLA Breast Center and Linda Van Horn, Ph.D., R.D. of the Northwestern University Medical Schools.

To date, the cook book has raised a total of over $250,000 for breast cancer research in Canada and the United States. The book was first launched in Reisman's native Canada in support of the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation.

The cookbook sells for $16.95 and is available through a Y-ME toll-free number, 1-800-307-3333, as well as in retail bookstores. Over half the cover price directly benefits Y-ME when books are ordered through the toll-free number.

Rose Reisman brings home Light Cooking is the Toronto resident's fifth cook book. Her sixth, light pasta, was released in Canada last week.

Reisman made several appearances in the Chicago-area last week to promote the cook book and Y-ME. She plans to return to the Chicagoland area in November working with Motorola and other companies on health programs for their employees.

"Breast Cancer hits women in the prime of their lives, ages 35-45," said Reisman. "I and Y-ME want to change that."

Joyce Millman

Positive parenting in the 1990's is a real challenge. Joyce Millman, Director of Parent Services, NICASA, will discuss the importance of developing strong family ties in her workshop, "Positive Parenting". Her presentation is one of 12 workshops scheduled at Victory Memorial Hospital's Feminine Forum which is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 23, at the College of Lake County, Grayslake.

Parenting is a greater challenge today than ever before. Today's children encounter violence and have access to alcohol and drugs at early ages. While parents recognize their role is increasingly more important, they find less time to do it. Millman's workshop will identify ways to improve the parent's position in the family and to foster a home environment of encouragement and learning.

Millman has a strong understanding of family interactions. She conceived, developed, marketed and facilitated the nationally recognized "Parent Project", a unique workplace parent training program. She trained and supervised all additional project facilitators and consults to Illinois preventionists offering the program through Lt. Governor Kustra's "The Parenting Partnership" initiative. Her "Parenting, Partners Manual" outlines how to initiate worksite parent training, including lesson plans, handouts and overheads required for each meeting. Millman currently chairs the Family Committee of the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependency Association (IADDA) and is an elected representative to the IADDA Prevention Steering Committee. A member of the Lake County Fighting Back Project, Millman serves on the group's "Health Family, Healthy Child" action team.

Millman has over 30 years experience as an educator in high school, college and adult learning settings. A peer counseling movement leader since 1971, she has led classes and workshops on interpersonal relationships and communication skills in the United States, Canada and Europe. As a member and then chair of the Chicago abused Women Coalition board of directors, Millman was instrumental in opening and running the first shelter for abused women and their children in Chicago.

"Feminine Forum" is presented by the Surgery Department of Victory Memorial Hospital on Sunday, October 23, at the College of Lake County, 19351 Washington street, Grayslake. It features a series of workshops of interest to women, a health fair including free "pencil and paper" health screenings, a luncheon and a networking tea. A $25 advanced registration fee ($30 at the door) covers all workshop materials. Information on the workshops to be presented is available by calling Victory's Community Relations Department at 1-800-THE CHOICE (1-800-843-2464).

Tips for parenting your parents

Understanding how seniors feel about themselves and being aware of their need for self-esteem is key to taking care of an older adult, explains William Lee, Ed.D., a member of the behavioral medicine staff at St. Therese Medical Center.

"Too often the caregiver takes control, causing the senior to feel a loss of identity. Rather, the caregiver, whether a child or a spouse, should learn how much intervention is appropriate.

Today's seniors want to be independent and active for as long as possible and that's a healthy approach," he adds.

Dr. Lee will discuss "Parenting Your Parents: Caring for an Older Adult," from 7 to 8 p.m. October 26 at a free community lecture sponsored by the medical center, 2615 Washington St., Waukegan. The program is part of the 1994-95 Life Skills Series. For more information or to register, call 244-5900.

Victory offers diabetes screenings

Diabetes is a serious disease which impairs the body's ability to use food properly. If untreated and uncontrolled, the disease can damage the body's blood vessels, heart and kidneys. Because of the effects of diabetes, it is important to learn if you have the disease.

Who's at risk for diabetes? Anyone can have the disease, but according to the American Diabetes Assn., you are more likely to develop it if there are diabetic relatives, if overweight, or are 40 years of age or older.

"You should be tested for diabetes if you have any of the risk factors or if you experience any of the symptoms of the disease," said Pamela Carlborg, technical director of Victory Memorial Hospital's medical laboratory.

Symptoms which may indicate diabetes include excessive thirst, sudden unexplained weight loss, blurred vision, itchy skin, constant extreme hunger, weakness, drowsiness, exhaustion, tingling or numbness of hands or feet, frequent urination in large amounts, or recurring or hard-to-heal skin, gum or urinary tract sores or infections. A simple test can tell you whether you have the disease.

In support of National Diabetes Detection Week, Victory Memorial Hospital is offering free diabetes screenings at its Grayslake, Lindenhurst and Waukegan facilities. There are limited diabetes screening appointments available, so pre-registration is required. Registration for this important test must be made during the week of Oct. 31 to Nov. 4.

In Grayslake, diabetes screening appointments are available each day between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, Nov. 7 through 11. The screening will be held in the Victory Health Care Center at Walden Square, 100 N. Atkinson Rd., Grayslake. To make an appointment at this location, call 548-3112.

Appointments are available in Lindenhurst on one day only. Screenings will be performed between 6 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 8. The screening will be held at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst. To make an appointment at this location, call 356-5900, ext. 4550.

In Waukegan, appointments are available each day between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, Nov. 7 through 11, at the Victory Memorial Hospital Medical Laboratory, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan. To register for an appointment at this location, call 360-4161.

American Santas through the decades

The Pear Tree Gift Shop, staffed by the volunteers from the Auxiliary of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, is offering the American Santas Through the Decades collection designed by the Galleria Lucchese, a division of Roman, Inc. The Pear Tree Gift Shop is one of only 1,000 dealerships in the U.S. to offer this limited edition collection.

The Santas are offered in three different sizes—three-, six- and eight-inches. There are three carefully crafted collectibles representing different Santas from each decade starting with 1800 through 1890. The Santas capture the nostalgic feeling of the 19th century as well as their historic forms.

The collection will be on display at the Pear Tree Gift Shop beginning Oct. 1. The Pear Tree will also be offering a special Christmas display of many other Christmas gifts, ornaments and other items beginning Nov. 7.

All profits from the sale of the American Santas Through the Decades will go to the Auxiliary of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, who in turn donate the funds to many designated medical projects at the hospital. In 1993, over $76,000 was donated to the Auxiliary through sales at the gift shop.

The Pear Tree Gift Shop is located in the main lobby of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Good Shepherd renovates progressive care unit

The progressive care unit (4 East) of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital is undergoing a core renovation that is designed to better meet the needs of critical care patients, physicians and staff members.

The renovation, which will take place over the next year, includes a more centralized nurses station, conference room and staff locker room. The renovation also will open up the central nurses' station which will allow for more efficiency and better viewing and monitoring of critical care patients.

"The renovation of the progressive care unit will provide an environment that is more conducive to the needs of those patients who do not need intensive care nursing, but require more complex and higher level of needs that can be provided on a general medical floor," said Angela Chesley, director of the critical care unit.

Critical care medicine involves continued monitoring of patients to improve survival, speed recovery and reduce disability.

The critical care unit will continue to accept patients during the renovation, consequently steps have been taken to ensure that noise and dust levels are contained and will not disturb patients, according to Chesley.

"As hospitals continue to admit only the sickest patients, more critical care services will be needed to meet the needs of these acutely ill patients," she said. "The progressive care unit is not a new concept, rather it is one of the ways EHS Good Shepherd Hospital can assure the community that we are going to be here for them when they need us."

Columnist who lost 100 pounds teaches course on eating right

Don Mauer, the "Lean and Lovin' It" columnist at the Daily Herald who lost more than 100 pounds and maintained it by eating low-fat food and changing eating habits, will teach "The Low Fat Way of Life" (GSII 021-001) course at the College of Lake County beginning Oct. 15. The two-week course will meet from 9 a.m. to noon in B159 at CLC's Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St. The course fee is $18.

After spending 27 years of his life eating fatty foods and weighing more than 300 pounds, Mauer decided to take off excess weight. Five years ago, he enrolled in a weight loss program and, on his own, permanently changed his eating habits and recipe collection to low-fat foods, resulting in a weight loss of 105 pounds and a reduction in his cholesterol level from 260 to 167. He still continues to slowly lose weight.

Mauer's success story, along with amazing recipes, was featured in the Chicago Sun-Times and USA Today newspapers. He also appeared on several radio, cable and national television programs, including "Good Morning America" and CNN's "HealthWatch" program. He is also the author of "Lean and Lovin' It! A Lean Cook's Book" with more than 80 personal recipes and stories.

Mauer will teach how to adapt favorite recipes and create low-fat meals without losing their great taste. He will also explain how to maintain a low intake of fat while dining out.

on Wednesday, Oct. 19, from 7 to 8 p.m. in the conference center of the hospital and will continue to hold meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

For further information about the Breast Cancer Support Group, call 234-5600, ext. 5520.

DNX, Baxter form transplant partnership

Baxter Healthcare Corp. and DNX Corp. announced the formation of Nextran, a partnership dedicated to the commercialization of innovative technologies, products and services to improve the success and increase the availability of organ transplantation.

Nextran's technology portfolio combines the transplantation programs from both companies. Baxter will contribute marketing rights to sHLA (soluble human leukocyte antigen) products to monitor patients on transplant waiting lists, anti-CD45 monoclonal antibodies for the prevention of organ rejection, and Therasorb™ immunoadsorption technology. DNX will contribute its xenotransplantation program (animal-to-human organ transplantation), the rights to its anti-CD3 humanized monoclonal antibody for the treatment of acute organ rejection, and its blood substitute technology.

According to the terms of the agreement, Nextran, an affiliate of Baxter Healthcare Corp., will be financed with an initial $20 million payment from Baxter and with $2.5 million from DNX. In addition, DNX will provide laboratory and office space in Princeton, N.J., and two swine facilities in Ohio. Baxter will own 70 percent of the new company; DNX will hold a 30 percent share.

"Baxter has been in the forefront of kidney therapy for 40 years now," said Donald W. Joseph, group vice president and president of Baxter's Renal Div. "We're acknowledged as the best in the business, and that means we also have to be the leader in transplantation. Last November, we announced strategic initiatives designed to improve shareholder value. We said we would find partners for selective businesses and would invest in key technology areas. This partnership underscores our commitment to meeting our stated objectives."

Nextran will have a broad transplantation portfolio consisting of marketing rights to a commercial product as well as products in the early, middle and late stages of development. These products address three primary obstacles to transplantation: identifying compatibility between donor organs and recipients, preventing and treating acute organ rejection, and expanding the supply of organs.

The new company's products include the following:

- Nextran will market a family of three monitoring kits based on SangStat Medical Corp. proprietary Human Leukocyte Antigen technology under a collaborative agreement between Baxter and SangState.

- Anti-CD45, in Phase II clinical trials in the U.S. and the United Kingdom, is a novel compound for the prevention of acute kidney-transplant rejection episodes which is infused into the donor organ prior to transplantation.

- DNX's xenotransplantation program, which aims to provide genetically modified swine organs including hearts, lungs and kidneys, for transplantation into humans.

- Therasorb™ immunoadsorption columns, which have been shown to reduce the likelihood that pre-sensitized transplant recipients will reject an organ.

- Anti-CD3, a humanized monoclonal antibody developed by Herman Waldmann, FRS Head of the Sir William Dunn School of Pathology at Oxford University, for the treatment of acute organ rejection and potentially for the treatment of auto immune diseases.

- A transgenic pig liver that can be used as a temporary organ support system until a patient's own liver recovers its function or run till a donor organ is available.

- DNX's novel, cost-effective method of producing human hemoglobin as a potential blood substitute, which will be licensed to Baxter.

"Nextran's product pipeline brings together some of the most innovative, advanced transplantation products and technologies in development. These products are expected to increase the long-term survival rate of both the graft and the patient while reducing the cost of end stage disease such as renal failure. Once transgenic organs become available, we will be able to make transplantation a realistic option for the hundreds of thousands of people around the world who die waiting for organs each year," said Joseph. "In addition, the product pipeline brings the new company an immediate revenue stream."

Through the merger of its therapeutics program into Nextran, DNX is now focused on expanding its opportunities in the biopharmaceutical services industry. Through its wholly owned subsidiary, Pharmakon Research International, Inc. (PRI), the company provides pre-clinical biological testing services on a worldwide basis.

THANK YOU GURNEE

Dr. Warren Wolschlager

THANK YOU FOR THE OVERWHELMING RESPONSE TO THE OPENING OF MY CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC.

I am pleased to be part of a community which values good health as much as we do at our office. Patient education, quality care, and excellent service are the cornerstones of my practice. It is refreshing to know the people of Gurnee desire this "back to basics" approach to health care.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank patients who have referred family and friends to my office. I consider it the highest form of compliment when I can help a patient enough for them to recommend their loved ones to me for care. I am sincerely grateful to Barb Leonard, Carol Bachler, Studio 21, Carla Brinegar, Rene Valentine, and to all others who have sent people to my clinic for care.

I realize that many people live with problems such as headaches, back pain, and neck stiffness because they think no one can help. Gurnee has given so much to me that I feel I should give something back. In order to accomplish this, I will offer a spinal exam, 2 x-rays* ($75 value), and a comprehensive report of findings for only $25.00 until November 21, 1994. We at Gurnee Chiropractic Clinic are happy to be able to offer this opportunity for you to improve your health.

Sincerely,

Caveat emptor: with life insurance now more than ever

I've been a contributor to this series of columns for nearly 11 years. During that time, the life insurance business has seen changes every bit as significant as those which have occurred in other segments of the financial services industry.

This seems as good a time as any, in perhaps my final column to reflect on the more important of these changes and to predict their implications for consumers.

The competitive pressures facing most life insurers, from other insurance companies as well as from banks, mutual fund companies and investment firms, are enormous. These pressures have driven down the prices of all kinds of life insurance products, occasionally even proving unprofitable for the companies that issue them.

These lower margins have resulted in insurers' decreasing tolerance for the assumption of financial risk. In the "old" days, carriers would take risks when profits were very large. But recently competition has forced them to reconsider the kind of products they offer and how they are offered.

Sensitive Insurance

Issues of interest sensitive (such as universal life) products, originally introduced about 15 years ago, initiated the trend toward shifting risks to policyholders by removing cash value and premium guarantees in exchange for the promise of sharing the then attractive interest earnings.

Attractive at first, the bloom quickly left this rose when interest rates began to fall in the mid-'80s, reaching their lowest levels in two decades in 1993. Policyholders were shocked when their premiums failed to vanish as promised, reappeared unexpectedly or, in the most serious cases, increased dramatically.

The next step toward transferring investment risk to the policyholder has been its aggressive marketing of variable (mutual fund based) life insurance to a public intoxicated by the prospective returns of a robust stock market.

Even fewer variable policy components carry insurance company guarantees than do those of universal life. Policy values can increase or fall rapidly.

When coupled with minimum premium payment plans (a preferred method of selling to skeptical insurance prospects), policy devaluation can result in unintentional lapses and loss of necessary insurance coverage or uncomfortable calls for increased premiums.

The future

Given these developments, what can consumers expect in the years ahead. Products will continue to become increasingly "commoditized." This is a fancy way of saying that they will be looking more and more alike. Their features will be increasingly similar and so will their costs and performances. To the extent that variable life increases in popularity, consumers will be guided to pay more attention to the historic and, it will be suggested, expected future performance of the product's underlying account managers and less to the features of the product itself.

Of greater significance than ever before will be the underlying financial strength of the insurance companies themselves. With the "commoditizing" of products, important distinctions remain among carriers.

Freelance work, side businesses offer excellent way to save money

People with any self-employed income—including directors compensation, consulting side business and free-lancing—can have a very significant tax-saving opportunity called a Keogh plan. This is important because individual tax rates are now as high as 45 percent when combined with state income taxes.

The annual contribution limit for the most common type of Keogh plan, a profit-sharing Keogh, is 15 percent of self-employment income. A person who makes $5,000 per year from a side-line business can't put more than $750 into this type of Keogh.

If you set up the kind of Keogh called a "de minimis defined benefit Keogh" or "mini Keogh," however, you may, depending on your age, be able to put your entire self-employment income into the plan and you get a tax deduc-tion for the full contribution. It's perfectly legal. This kind of Keogh is authorized by the tax code.

"Defined Benefit" means you get a specific or "defined" pension at retirement and you make annual tax-deductible contributions that create a fund sufficient to pay that benefit. The "de minimis" provision says you can establish and fund a Keogh that pays out a pension benefit at retirement that does not exceed $10,000 a year.

How much money you can put into the plan each year depends on how many years you intend to work before retiring. Generally, the younger you are the smaller your annual tax-deductible contribution. These plans work best for people 45 and older and they're especially advantageous for people who make deductible Individual Retirement Account (IRA) contributions.

Example 1: A 60-year-old has a side-line consulting practice. He plans to retire at age 65. He could put as much as $20,000 a year into a mini Keogh. He could deduct the full $20,000 from his taxes. (If he had a regular profit-sharing Keogh, his deduction would be limited to $2,608—13.043 percent of $20,000).

Example 2: A 45-year-old moonlighter, also planning to retire at age 65, could deposit as much as $10,000 a year into a mini Keogh.

Drawback: The plan must be tailored made by a pension specialist. This will cost about $500, but that is a small price to pay for substantial tax savings.—by ALAN NADOLNA

Failures of large insurance companies are increasingly frequent. Their investment and financial management practices are becoming less conservative.

Consumers should not count upon the sporadic and largely ineffective efforts of regulators to dictate conservative investment practices to the large companies. They should count only on themselves and trusted advisors to peel away the marketing hype offered by many insurers as a substitute for financial substance.

So, what does the future hold for the life insurance consumer? There will be fewer contractual guarantees and greater exposure to financial risk.

How can you obtain good value under these circumstances? Buy not necessarily the cheapest, but the best product offered by a carrier that invests conservatively, that communicates openly with the public and that is well capitalized.—by DONALD N. CRAMPTON

Interesting tax free ways to earn income with annuities

Interest rates have risen by 30 to 50 percent since the beginning of 1994. At the same time, we are looking at a maximum individual income tax bracket of nearly 45 percent. This creates an atmosphere in which tax advantaged and tax free investments take on tremendous importance.

One particular investment opportunity which has benefitted directly from interest rate increases and higher income taxes is the split annuity.

Individuals in search of a high level of safe, predictable monthly income with favorable tax treatment should seriously consider buying split annuities.

After-tax income can be as high as 6.5 percent in these packages and tax-favored income begins to flow immediately.

Here is how it works: Your money—let's say $100,000, although lower or higher amounts can be invested, is used to buy two distinct annuity contracts from two different companies.

The first contract is either a single premium deferred annuity or a certificate of annuity—one that pays a guaranteed rate of return. You don't begin to receive income from this policy for at least five years. In the meantime, your investment compounds tax-free.

The second policy is an immediate annuity which produces guaranteed monthly income from the very start for five to seven years.

Your investment isn't divided equally between the two contracts. The amounts are determined by the interest rate and the deferral time. Enough money is put into the deferred annuity so that at the end of the deferral period, the face value is restored. In the case of a five year deferred annuity paying 6.5 percent, a $100,000 single payment would be divided in the following way.

Roughly $65,000 would go into the deferred annuity and $35,000 into the immediate annuity. At current rates, $65,000 would grow to $100,000 in five to seven years.

The $35,000 immediate annuity, at today's rates, would produce payments of $6,492 a year, or $519 each month for five years. That's a return of 6.23 percent.

After the income period, you can either begin another income period by buying another immediate annuity, or begin receiving payments from the deferred annuity. If you cashed in the deferred annuity at the end of five or seven years, you would pay tax on $35,000 of the $100,000.

Tax advantage: A great part of the immediate annuity payments are tax-free—in this case 84.5 percent. In the above example, you would pay tax on only $888 of the $6,492 annual payments. This means the investment is yielding a 6.23 percent after-tax return for a person who pays tax at the rate of 30 percent. (This is an exceptionally high after-tax return).

Bonus: Income earned on the deferred annuity portion of your investment accumulates tax-free.

Drawbacks and caveats: Your money is locked in for five to seven years. If interest rates shoot up in that time, you might find yourself at a disadvantage. Your money could earn more in other investments.

Surrender penalties: If you suddenly need the money before the five years are up, you'll be charged surrender penalties by the insurance companies.

The annuities must be purchased from two separate companies. The IRS is considering treating the contracts as one even though they are issued by different companies. This would wipe out the tax advantage currently given to the immediate annuity portion of the split annuity package. But the IRS has promised that contracts bought before the law is changed, if it is, would still be given favorable tax treatment.

We will be pleased to provide additional information and a list of recommended annuities. Write us at: Associates In Finance Planning, 100 S. Wacker Dr., Suite 1650, Chicago, IL 60606.—by ALAN NADOLNA

Discover smarter options for borrowing money

Carrying high credit card charges from month to month is one of the most expensive ways to borrow money. The Illinois CPA Society says that there are smarter ways to borrow money that will keep interest costs to a minimum and allow you to pay off your debts faster. The options available vary depending on how you plan to use the funds, how much you plan to borrow, and for how long.

Home-equity loans

If you've been haphazardly racking up credit card charges, you can consolidate your debt by taking out a home-equity loan. You can usually borrow up to 80 percent of your home's value, minus the balance on your mortgage. With interest rates on mortgage loans averaging about half that of credit card rates, a home-equity loan may save you thousands of dollars.

In addition, if you itemize on your tax return, you may also be able to deduct the interest on up to $100,000 of home-equity indebtedness. Check with your tax adviser to determine if you'll qualify for the deduction.

Finally, keep in mind that when you borrow against your home, you are essentially putting your home on the line. If you can't pay off your home-equity debt, you risk losing your home.

Credit unions

Credit unions provide a number of consumer credit services, including home-equity, automobile and personal loans. Their loan services are restricted to credit union members who borrow money from a pool of funds, comprised in part of money deposited by all of the credit union's members. If you're a credit union member and need a loan, you will most likely obtain a more favorable rate by taking the loan from your credit union than by borrowing for a local bank.

401(k) plans

If you participate in a qualified retirement plan, such as a 401(k) plan, you can borrow against your investment. Generally loans must be repaid within five years and there are limits on how much you can borrow. The benefits: The interest rate is usually one percentage point above prime—which is lower than the interest rate on most other forms of credit—and your interest payments go into your own account.

Insurance policies

Certain types of insurance policies can be used as security to borrow from insurance companies. For example, if you own a whole life policy, you can borrow against the cash-value of the policy.

The interest rate will generally be lower than that charged by lending institutions. In fact, the interest rate on loans of older policies can be as low as 5 percent. What's more, you do not need to repay the loan. However, in most instances, it will be beneficial to do so. That's because the amount borrowed is deducted from the death benefit. Also, until the loan is repaid, your death benefit grows more slowly.

Government loans

Federal and state governments can be a source of low interest loans for special purposes, such as financing a student's higher education costs or the start-up of a small business. The interest rates on government loans are usually lower than current market rates. For more information about student loans, call the Federal Student Financial Aid

Information Center at 1(800)433-3243. To find out about small business loan programs, call the Small Business Administration at 1(800)UASK-SBA. Keep debt in check.

Remember, it's wise to borrow money only for necessities. CPAs say that if you must allocate more than 20 percent of your income to pay off current loans, it's time to stop borrowing and change your spending habits.

Vote fools out

This is about President Clinton's Crime Bill. Three strikes and you are out is a joke. That means people can do the same violent crime three times. Clinton and his cronies have taken my rights away, along with those of other Americans. I am a veteran and a law abiding citizen. If they have taken our second amendment right away, what is next, the first amendment and our freedom of speech? Janet Reno and President Clinton believe they have solved the crime problem by taking 'assault weapons' away from law-abiding citizens. What they should be doing is taking away the hand guns from the 9-year-old punks who are killing other kids. The American people better wake up and get these liberal Democrats out of office before they take all our rights away. Assault weapons are not killing people. The cheap hand guns are. Vote these fools out.

Old home, new tax

I would like to know what unincorporated area of Antioch is assessed the same as Antioch. It should be 27 percent, not 33 percent. They also say property deteriorating with age is still assessed like new property. It doesn't matter if you live in California and own a home worth $8.5 million dollars, with the pools and the guest houses and such. It would cost you approximately $25,000 in taxes per year. A house here on less than a half an acre worth $195,000 will cost you anything from $4,500 to $6,000 in taxes. We need proposition 13 to roll back 10 to 15 years.

Media help

I am tired of the media. When are they going to let the residents know what is going on in their communities? I have heard of all kinds of violence in our town and it doesn't get printed in the paper. We need to know so we can take action. Please help us, media.

Editorial Note: The police reports we print are only from the reports that we have access to. We do not know that any police department withholds reports of crimes, especially violent crimes such as you have suggested. Also, it is not uncommon for a news story to start with a tip from a private citizen.

Get your shots?

I attended Beards School 20 years ago. I can't believe I have heard of gunshots. This is typical of Chicago. Gee, these new developments... I don't believe this.

Having a ball

I am a resident of Deer Point Trails in Hainesville. When are the police going to get on the ball and take care of things out at the ball park? This is especially needed because there are parties out there well after midnight. It is ridiculous. People called in and were told 'yes, we have complaints.' I am sick of it and I want something done about it.

Appalling attack

I read the article in the Libertyville News regarding Jablonski and his run for Sheriff of Lake County. I was appalled by his lack of intelligence in attacking Sheriff Grinnell and the cost of educating prisoners. I believe he has just advertised his own ignorance and lost the vote of every caring parent trying to pinch pennies and educate their children. He must believe in kids and gangs running the streets instead of trying to educate them. Three cheers for Sheriff Grinnell. I strongly question Jablonski's qualification for sheriff and his own educational background.

Trustee vigilante

I was shocked to read that Round Lake Park Village Board Trustee Jerry Lomough was arrested for allegedly stealing road signs from the Lakeview Estates subdivision as well as acting as some sort of vigilante. Childish antics such as these are inexcusable from an elected official and I hope they all remember this on election day.

March for support

I wish more parents would show up at the Grant Community High School marching band competitions. What is wrong with these parents to send their kids off to events and not even bother to attend themselves? Show these kids some support. They are wonderfully talented but they need your support.

Development blunders

How can Island Lake Trustee Georgine Cooper complain that the Melling decision presents a 'lack of respect to the surrounding area?' It is the Island Lake Village Board that shows no respect. They annex all the land they can grab. They build crowded, instant slum housing, and tacky strip malls on it. And then they wonder why they are not universally popular with their neighbors. Wake up, Island Lake Trustees. Talk to your neighbors before you cozy up to your developers. You have unilaterally made more than your fair share of development blunders already.

Changed life

This in response to 'Horn defense.' You summed it up well. I could not agree with you more. I would like to paraphrase and add to it, if I may. Those horns have one thing to say and it is, 'I can't stop.' Those poor engineers will probably someday still hit some idiot who is impaired for whatever reason. That engineer's life will be changed forever.

Socialist lumber

Now I have heard everything. Barbara Lumber, trustee of Round Lake wants to use taxpayers' money and hire an enforcer. This enforcer will go around and check the taxpayers. She was born a little too late. She would have done well with the Nazis in Germany, or the KGB in Russia. Voters remember. It is time to reduce our lumber to sawdust.

Police apology

I am very disappointed in the Grayslake Police dispatcher. I called to report a drunk in my parking lot who did not belong there. They were very rude to me on the phone and when the police did finally arrive they did end up arresting that person. I would appreciate an apology.

Pizza sacrifice

I am calling in regards to the calls against the Antioch School referendum. I am pro referendum. It is obvious some of those people don't have children in the school. The classrooms and the buses are overcrowded. I have children in the special education section as well as the regular classes and many teachers stay after their time to help-unpaid. Wake up, Antioch. These people you call babysitters are very hardworking and help your children greatly. It is time to get off your butts. They have reduced the request. Vote yes. Our future generations need you. Our community needs you. Our school needs you. I am a single parent and I am willing to do this. Give up one lousy pizza a month. That should be enough to cover it.

Action is back

Hooray! Gurnee residents action committee. It is wonderful to see you back in the paper. Sometimes I think you overreact to certain issues, but the majority of the time it is clear you look out for the best wishes of the people. Welcome back, and keep us informed.

Cookie cutter houses

I want to gripe about the new subdivision called Heritage on Grass Lake Rd in Lindenhurst. It has 50 earthmovers there. It looks like an anthill. I think Lake Villa should build a new school as fast as they are building that subdivision. I also think Antioch should not let another house or subdivision be built until we can control the people in the schools and the overcrowding.

Move from noise

I am complaining about the people who are complaining about the train horns. If they don't like the train horns, which I feel are very important for the safety of the people, they shouldn't have moved by the train tracks. People at O'Hare don't like the noise there either. If you don't like the noise, then move.

Break the union

This is for the Round Lake school teachers' union. I would like them to answer a few questions. They stated it is a minor issue for the presidential leave. Why don't you drop it? You say teachers are outstanding and I agree. A lot of them are. But there are also teachers who are just along for the ride, not helping the students. As a parent of a child in that school system, I found it deplorable that a teacher would not send home a note about the activities of my child in the school and would not take time after school to help with homework. We are not talking about one teacher, but several. How much of our taxpayers money have you squandered away by filing grievances with the school board. Are we talking thousands, or hundreds of thousands? I believe we are in the six figure area. I agree we should keep the good teachers and get rid of the bad ones. The union protects them so the unions should be broken and started anew in this village. It should be started with quality teachers whose main concern is to educate the children and not to advance their pocketbooks.

Parasite paint

The mosquitoes were so bad this year when I was painting my house that when they could no longer get blood from me, they drank four gallons of my paint. For the guy who said all he reads are only complaints in Lipservice, I am not complaining. The mosquitoes were so heavy with paint that they could only fly to the wall where I swatted them. I didn't even have to use a paint brush to paint.

Matter of respect

Island Lake Mayor Amrich and the village trustees are saying how disappointed they are with the county board and the zoning change of the Melling property because they said it represented a lack of respect to the surrounding area. Maybe they know now what is like to have the zoning be wrong but the politicians vote for it anyway. Weren't the Melling property and the Pasquinielli Property approved as Forest Preserve sites? What happened to that? If Island Lake had more respect for the surrounding communities, they would have more open space in their comprehensive plan. Hey, guys, what goes around comes around.

Vote Churchill

Somebody should respond to the person who criticized Bob Churchill for 'doing nothing for our county.' All the 10 years I have seen him in action, he has been the first one to be at the meetings, came up with the best ideas, and worked the hardest to provide a working solution. If this person wants to fall asleep exhausted some evening, he should follow Bob Churchill around for a day seeing what he does for this county.

School pride

I wanted to pay compliments to Magee Junior High School and Coach Dunn along with the students. I attended the open house and the building looks terrific with the new paint and the new equipment. The students appear to have taken care of the new equipment and that show pride in the school and the county.

McHenry harasser

This is to the rude man who harassed me in the parking lot at the McHenry Target store, about parking in the handicapped parking spot. For your information my mom was in the store. She is crippled. I am not.

Burnt offering?

This is to whoever burns garbage at the church on Fairfield Rd. I drive by and all I see is black smoke. Just because you go to church means you can burn whatever and when ever you want. If I did that there would be police at my house in 30 seconds. Just because you don't care about your house doesn't mean that no one else does.

Rain delay

One evening in September, hundreds of teachers were picketing in front of the Magee Junior High School. They were letting people know about the unfair foot-dragging treatment they have been getting from School District 116 regarding a long overdue contract. Community supporters drove by and honked their horns as a symbol of support. Several school board members peered down at them from the steps. I was at the school with my children for an open house function. I hear the board members make several insulting and derogatory remarks about the picketing teachers. They expressed their happiness that it was raining. I am not a teacher. I am a taxpaying parent in School District 116. I wish there were a way to get rid of this uncaring and uncooperative school board.

Habla Espanol

This is a reply for the 'Habla Ingles' Lipservice call. That was very rude. It is about time that person learned how to speak Spanish.

Lipservice life

While it has been three weeks, Lipservice has not printed my call. Obviously you don't like good talent or you would have printed the winners of the talents contest at the Lake County Fair. Obviously, beauty pageants interest most of your readers. Go back and listen to your recording and see how Libertyville and Antioch did in the Junior division and senior division finals and print those names. Get a life Lipservice.

Teachers earn it

I read the Lipservice articles 'Slash pay' and 'Just say no' and I can't believe how ignorant people are about what goes on in the school system. Remember, most school districts start teachers salaries in the $20,000 range. Most of the top salaries are under $50,000. Most teachers must go to a Masters Degree past their BA in order to get a decent living. Most school districts are in session over 180 days. Most teachers take home work in order to get it done. Sometimes teachers seem to be babysitters, but as an ex-teacher and a current businessman, I can tell you it is a lot easier to deal with adults. This is especially true if you don't get parental support. If you were to really examine a teacher's level of education and their job you realize they are one of the most underpaid professions.

Mail from nowhere

Why is it the people in Nippersink Terrace and Fox Lake Vista subdivisions get their mail delivery from Spring Grove? The Fox Lake village limits probably start a quarter mile from the beginning of the subdivisions. We have no connection with Spring Grove whatsoever. It is four miles away. It should come out of Fox Lake.

Oktoberfest demands

Why doesn't the Antioch Park District hold an Oktoberfest like Gurnee and the other neighboring villages are holding this year. It would be something for the entire village and township to participate in.

Support education

As a college student, I understand the need for a good education. As an Antioch resident, I am appalled about the lack of support for the ACHS referendum. The teachers at Antioch have a tough job but they do it well. They earn every penny they get paid. To keep the best, we must make sure the teachers are well paid. The best teachers will seek employment elsewhere, the property values will go down and the school will stagnate. It is time the community take responsibility for its children and its future. Support the ACHS referendum.

No earthly clue

No wonder they call the Mayor of Round Lake Heights 'Chicken Man.' I attended a zoning meeting and he was too chicken to answer questions from the people of the village. He is environmentally unconscious. He has not got a clue what this earth is about.

No more taxes

The Antioch Community High School just doesn't get the message. It is

Union raises

I am responding to an article in the paper that said the teachers in Round Lake want to strike because they aren't getting the money they want from the school board. Let's face it. Nine percent for three years? That is a 27 percent increase over three years. Get real people. I work for a multi-million dollar company and get a 3 percent raise per year. You people are asking for 9 plus a 3 percent retroactive. I work 12 months a year, not nine. I can't afford the taxes I pay in Round Lake now and you folks are asking me to give you more. You've got to be kidding me. I also heard the union president wants 75 days off at the end of the contract for union business days. That is almost half a school year. My child would only get a half a year education from the teacher that was assigned to her. Let's get this straight and start thinking about the kids.

Ten committees

Once again I notice in the Antioch Reporter an article about Joanne Osmond, the president of the Committee of 10. She is saying she is concerned about Millburn and that the superintendent is worried about his job. How can she stay on the high school board when she is in direct conflict of so many of the things going on now? How can a community allow this to go on? Can someone please tell me?

Postal profiteering

Do you know how inconsistent the rates are charged by the U.S. Post Office. If you rent a small post office box in Grayslake it is $35 per year. The same post office box in Lake Villa is about $8 per year. No matter how much you call and complain about poor service, nothing much is done as long as they carry their route on time.

Tail of woe

I am calling to call attention to an all too common and regrettable occurrence in newspapers. Reading my copy of the Grayslake Times, I was startled to read a headline 'Car dealer fined for lauderling.' In the article beneath it, I found references twice with the same spelling. This is an important article about a car dealer's tie with drug dealers. Also, on page A5, there was a big headline 'Cyclist risks life to elude cops.' Elude is spelled 'allude.' In a movie review, they say this is a 'tail' of while spelling tale incorrectly. It is a shame that children are not being taught grammar in school and have no idea what sentence structure is. Please, newspaper, don't lower your standards.

Lakeland Publishers acquires the Market Journal

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Lakeland Publishers, Inc., has acquired the assets of the Grayslake-based Lake County Market Journal from Pulitzer Community Newspapers, Inc. The purchase makes Lakeland Publishers the largest circulating newspaper group in Lake County.

"The acquisition of the Market Journal fits in with our long-range plans for the growth and development of Lakeland Publishers," said William H. Schroeder, president and publisher. "We are now the dominant print media force in Lake County, the most dynamic market in the nation."

The Lake County Market Journal has a circulation of 115,000 throughout Lake County. The acquisition will complement Lakeland Publishers' 14 weekly subscriber-based publications which have a circulation of 77,000 throughout Lake County.

The Market Journal will be managed as a division of Lakeland Publishers which also has a media services division in addition to its Lakeland Newspapers division. Robert Schroeder has been appointed sales manager of the Market Journal. Donald Baumgart will be the assistant sales manager.

"We believe the Market

Journal will be a significant addition to Lakeland Publishers," said William M. Schroeder, general manager. "They've had a history of success and we look forward to continuing that tradition." There will be no interruption in the publication of the Market Journal due to the change of ownership. Lakeland Publishers takes ownership effective Oct. 16.

Robert Schroeder has studied Business Management at Purdue University in Indiana and has served as Lakeland's circulation manager since 1991. Under his supervision, Lakeland Newspaper's circulation has grown significantly.

Baumgart, a Libertyville resident, was the general manager of the Market Journal throughout the 1980s, during its most successful years.

"We are looking forward to returning the Market Journal to the success it once was," said Baumgart. "There is an excellent staff in place and we want to hone their skills and make an impact on the market place."

Baumgart has spent his life in the newspaper business beginning in the newsroom at the age of 15 in downstate Danville.

"We have some exciting plans in store for the Market Journal," said Robert Schroeder. "We plan to make the paper more appealing to readers and advertisers."

Lakeland Publishers was established in 1956. At that time the publishing company provided weekly coverage to Grayslake, Round Lake and Fox Lake. Today, Lakeland has 13 weekly papers and publishes the Great Lakes Bulletin serving the Naval Training Center.

Dunkin' Donuts to open more shops

Dunkin' Donuts, the world's largest chain of coffee and doughnut shops, has announced that it will open approximately 15-19 new locations, including freestanding units, storefront outlets and cart systems, throughout McHenry and Lake Counties, creating 300-380 new jobs within the next three years.

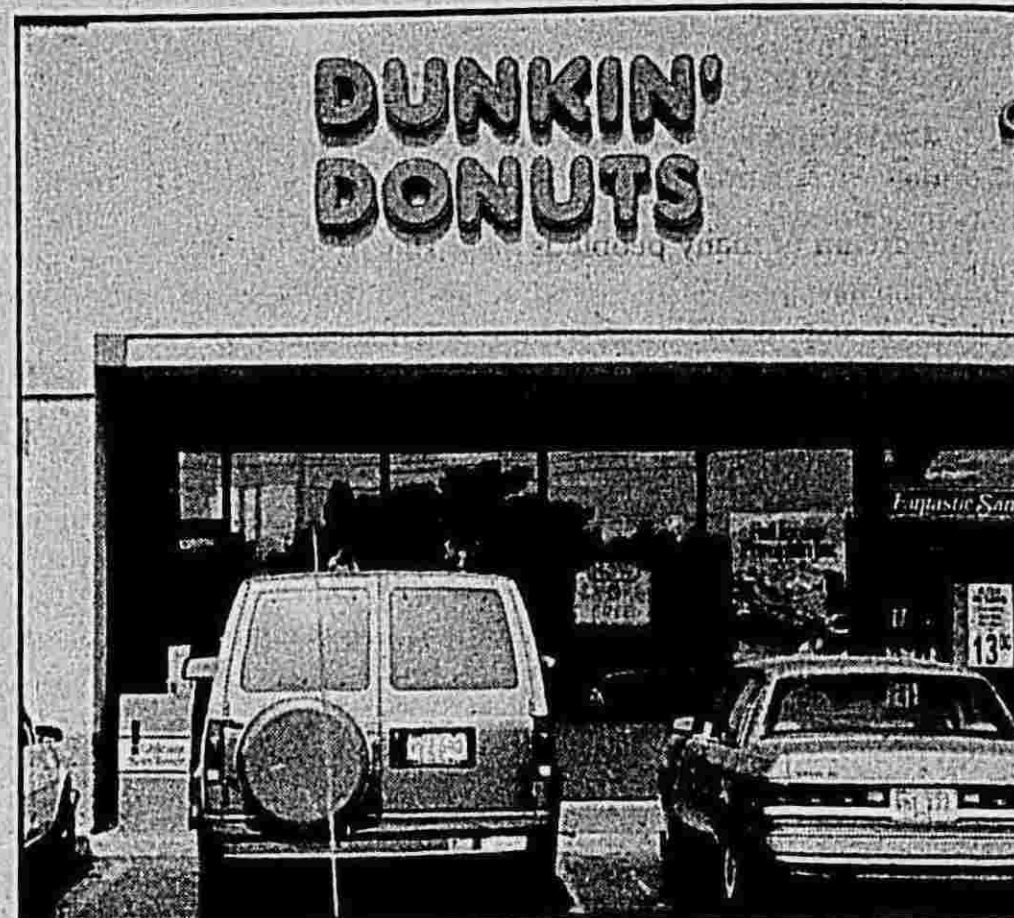

The company has targeted Crystal Lake and Cary in McHenry County and Libertyville, Mundelein, Antioch, Deerfield and Highland Park in Lake County.

These locations represent part of the company's plan to launch about 100 new outlets across Chicago and the surrounding suburbs including DeKalb, Kane, DuPage, will and Kendall counties by 1997. An additional 35 distribution points will open as part of Dunkin' Donuts' expansion in Rockford and Bloomington-Normal.

The company's decision to expand in Lake and McHenry Counties was based on extensive research of Chicago's demographics and consumer preferences.

"The regions' economic vitality, expanding business base and surging commercial development make it an ideal market for Dunkin' Donuts," said Phil Bennett, vice-president of concept development. "We face no direct competition here and see tremendous room for growth."

Dunkin' Donuts has targeted more stores for the region with the belief that McHenry and Lake Counties will enjoy a level of success similar to that of Dunkin' Donuts preeminent Northeast markets, where concentrations of the company's stores dominate the local coffee and doughnut trade.

The 1,900- to 3,500-square-foot freestanding units, with complete bakery and production facilities, will be traditional Dunkin' Donuts "full producers," serving fresh coffee, 52 varieties of doughnuts, Munchkins and muffins, and offering customer seating.

The Chicago area expansion is part of Dunkin' Donuts overall effort to add 1,700 new stores and create more than 30,000 jobs over the next three years. As in Chicago, all franchisees will commit to open several stores in a geographic area over the three-year period.

During the past five years, the combination of additional operational programs, improved store convenience and ever-popular products have helped Dunkin' Donuts grow by more than 50 percent. Consumers' rising interest in coffee has also sparked the company's growth.

Dunkin' Donuts now has approximately 3,700 stores in 21 countries around the world. There are 230 shops spread throughout Greater Chicago.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Buying tips on an investment in vacant property

The dream of many people is to find a nice wooded lot somewhere and build their dream home some day. This could be a great idea if a few precautionary questions are asked regarding the limitations for the particular property you have chosen. Problems can occur even when a piece of property has been in the family for a long period of time. With changes in zoning and new starts, you are wise to check a few things out before paying for the plans to start your home.

The first question to ask when you have an interest in a given parcel is whether the property is buildable. What are the ordinances in the specific development? Is there a square footage requirement? Has a "perc" test been completed to ensure the land has the correct drainage for building?

Has the health department recently been contacted to approve a septic and well permit if the property requires this water and sewage system? One of the biggest disappointments for a person who has owned a property over several years can be finding out that the restrictions have been changed due to the ever expanding growth factors in the area.

What was once perfectly suited to a "second" home now requires totally different parameters for septic expansion factors, making the lot you own "unbuildable." The best advice is to get a current assessment from the local health department when you are dealing with a property that will require a septic and well permit, or make the offer to purchase contingent before buying.

The second question you may want to ask when dealing with a residential lot is what are the declarations and restrictions imposed by the development? If you are interested in parking your truck, having a satellite dish, or housing your kid's pet rabbits, these are important items to check out.

Some housing developments prohibit fencing, outbuildings, the parking of recreational vehicles and can even limit your selections for the color and style of a proposed new home, making final approval subject to an architectural review panel. The more rural your property selection, generally the less stringent the restrictions. Either way, you need to know what you can and cannot do on the property you select to build on.

Other questions that should be asked depend on your use of the property and future sales consideration. What school district services the area that the property is in? Even if you do not have children, it will be important to know when you want to sell at a future time. What kinds of developments are proposed around the area?

Is a huge highway scheduled to be built in the near future very close to your "scheduled" new home? Is there a nuclear waste dumpsite near? Is there a proposed shopping center scheduled to be built? Any of these factors can affect positively or negatively in your favor, depending on what you expect.

Another point to ponder is the investment factor. Are you planning to build a home that is considerably more expensive than the properties around you? If the average property value is $100,000, and you are planning a $300,000 investment, be advised that resale should be considered. Not everyone wants to be the most expensive home in the neighborhood. Life changes, like job transfers, births and permanent live-ins, can change the reasons to stay in a home.

Since real estate can be a wonderful investment, take the time to consider all aspects before building to ensure maximum growth for your special real estate investments.

Questions or comments may be directed to Terri Murphy, Box 6234, Libertyville, IL 60048.

October 16 & 17, 1993
God saw you getting tired,
A cure was not to be,
So He put His arms around you both,
And whispered come home with Me.
With tearful eyes we watched you
And saw you fade away.
Although we loved you dearly,
We couldn't make you stay.
Two golden hearts stopped beating,
Your working hands put to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.
We love you and miss you both,

*Sometimes an old-fashioned song
Brings us a thought of you;
Sometimes a flower as we pass along,
Or a sky that is azure blue;
Or a silver lining in the clouds,
When the sun is peeping through.
All of these things, make us think of you.*

I'd really like to help out after the funeral

But I don't know what to do.

The bereaved family must deal with a number of feelings about the change in their lives. Everyone experiences feelings in their own way. However, some common feelings are anger, guilt, loneliness, depression and sorrow. You can help by visiting often and allowing your friends to tell you about the loss and their feelings about it. A good listener can be a source of valuable support. You can also help by assisting with practical matters that may arise. Driving someone to the store, babysitting and housecleaning can be important aids. don't feel the bereaved need magic formulas or words. Often a good visit and a chance to talk to someone who cares is most helpful...

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I work in the Human Resources department of a mid-sized company where I am responsible for finding, screening, and interviewing applicants for positions within a variety of departments. While I am able to keep up with the paper flow and the tedious chore of interviewing, I am finding that I cannot get department heads to act quick enough to accomplish the final result...the hiring! While I have been with this company for three years, nothing seems to have changed. The company has a two-interview process and the department heads all have positions that need to be filled immediately. When it comes to making a move, they drag their feet until it is too late. I am finding myself repeatedly trying to fill the same employment slots over and over, not because the candidates aren't qualified, but rather because by the time these department heads make their decisions, the candidates have taken jobs elsewhere. I have spent the past six weeks interviewing for four different positions for which I had a minimum of three candidates each for these supervisors and managers to meet. First interviews went well, with the supervisors. The problem seems to be in chasing the managers all over to get them to commit to the second interview. The position I am in can often be a thankless one yet I love what I do. Changes need to be made. I don't know quite what the changes should be as yet, but I am working on a presentation. Do you have any suggestions that could possibly aid me in my presentation? Thanking you in advance for your help. K.G. - Vernon Hills

A: Dear K.G. First thing is to know the type of employment market you are currently faced with. Understand that the job market is strong and jobs plentiful. While you will see more and more positions advertised in the newspaper, that does not even begin to touch the surface of thousands that are not advertised. Along with type of market comes the employment seeking individual who seldom puts "all their eggs in one basket", so to speak. During the time that you may be interviewing them for a position within your company, they may, and most likely are, exercising several employment options, often taking the first thing that comes up (obviously not always recommended). Therefore, it is essential that the employers do not "drag their feet". These candidates in this market are here today and gone tomorrow. You must convince your managers and supervisors of the sense of urgency that has been placed in your hands by them. In order for you to operate in the manner to which you can best utilize your time and skill, changes need to be made, as top candidates are ending up at other corporations and possibly the competition, due to the current problems in expediting the hiring process. My suggestion: When finding candidates that you believe are well suited for these positions, schedule the first and second interviews on the same day. Have each supervisor and manager when issuing you an order for hire, also supply you with a full week's worth of availabilities in 30 minute increments. Match these up so that both parties can meet on the same day to either hire or rule out the individual. You will find that this works to your advantage all the way. It will alleviate your problem of losing good applicants and will inevitably make you a hero when your abilities show through and the lengthy hiring problems are gone. Good luck.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

An Area Guide to Home Design, Remodeling and Real Estate

Davis family enjoys traditional home with a bit of history

When you walk into the Davis home on Bristol Lane in Grayslake, nothing strikes you as unusual or out-of-the-ordinary. The home has a very traditional, conservative feel, with neutral colors and solid wood furnishings. But Carla Davis has provided her family not only with a comfortable environment, but one with a historic accent.

Throughout her home, Carla Davis has placed antique furniture pieces, some dating back over 100 years. Davis has procured many pieces from local garage sales, of which she says, "As the old saying goes, one man's trash is another man's treasure." Of an antique round table kept in the foyer of her home, Davis said, "You would never have guessed it would look like this. I picked this up at a flea market at a great price, refinished it, and it looks wonderful."

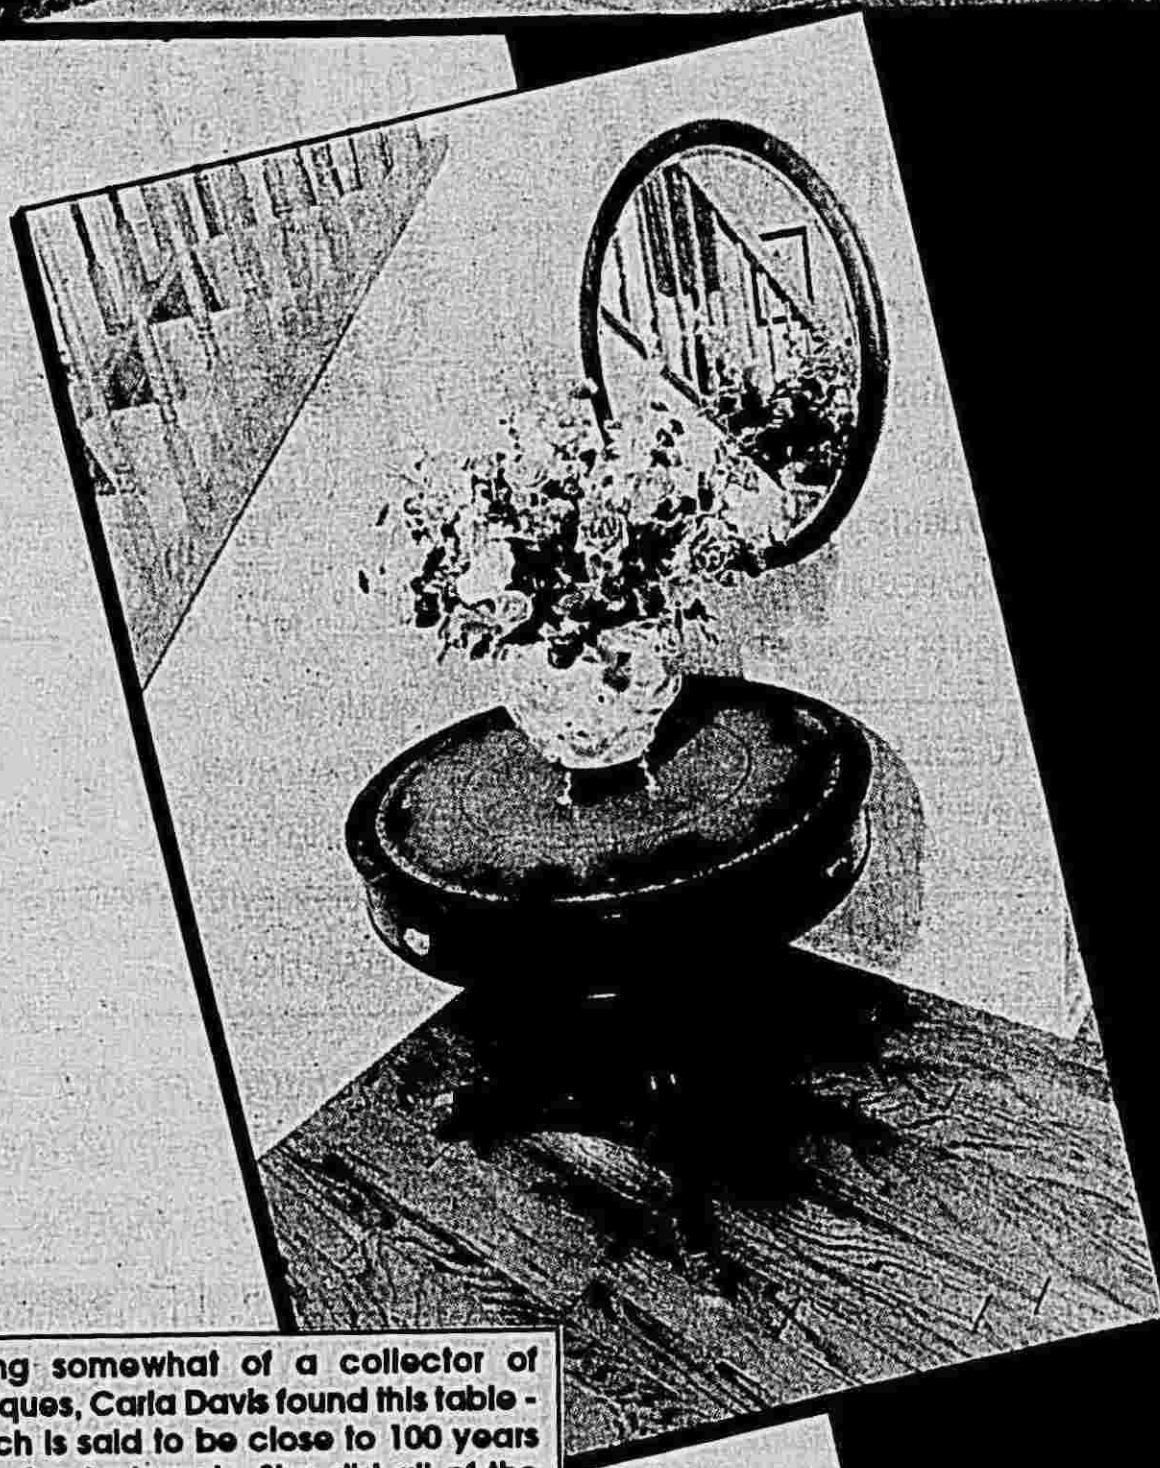

Davis, who has three small children, has made refinishing furniture somewhat of a hobby. "I never had experience in doing this kind of thing before, but eventually I learned," she said. "By the trial and error method." Davis even made the draperies and swags that hang in the formal dining room and living room, which she says she enjoys doing for not only her home, but homes of family members.

The Davises have lived in Grayslake for five years, and have been in their current home in Estates of East Lake for a year-and-a-half. The two-story, four-bedroom home was built by the now defunct Hemphill Builders, well-known on the North Shore. Davis, being a real estate agent for Coldwell Banker-Mac in Round Lake Beach and Waukegan, knew a good home when she saw one, and believes that the home might very well be the last home completely finished by the builders.

Davis and her husband, Herb, a Regional Financial Advisor for Federal Express, enjoy living in the close-knit subdivision of 96 homes. Their children, Justin, 5; Allison, 3; and Matt, 19 months, are never short of playmates, either. Davis said, "It's really nice living in such a close-knit neighborhood - everyone looks out for one another and keeps an eye on each others' kids." As her son Justin and friend Aaron Fears whizzed by on their way downstairs to play, Davis said, "People say you can't have nice things and small children, too, but as you can see, the children don't pay any attention to the antiques." She feels that when you bring up your children surrounded by nice things, they will learn to respect and appreciate them, and are more likely to continue the tradition.

Walking through their home, you begin to share their sense of pride in family as Davis points out the antiques and other pieces of furniture handed down to her by her mother and grandmother. There's a beautiful silver chest in the formal dining room, which holds her grandmother's silver, that's a perfect complement to the grand dining room table and chairs. Grandmother's collection of china plates are also displayed in the dining room.

Being somewhat of a collector of antiques, Carla Davis found this table - which is said to be close to 100 years old - at a junkyard. She did all of the refinishing herself.

The upstairs has a mixture of traditional and historic pieces, for instance, in daughter Allison's room sits a large, regal antique bed that was an old family piece. Beside it is a small, round table with a glass top, to which Davis added her own childhood quilt to serve as a tablecloth. This has given a contemporary piece of furniture a traditional touch. Of the large antique bed, Davis noted that, "You would think a little girl wouldn't want such a big bed, but Allison won't give up her bed for anything." The master bedroom also contains bedroom furniture that belonged to Davis' grandparents. "Since my grandparents passed away when I was a teenager, I didn't really get to know them that well. My mother has been very generous in giving me a great deal of my grandmother's things, which I really appreciate."

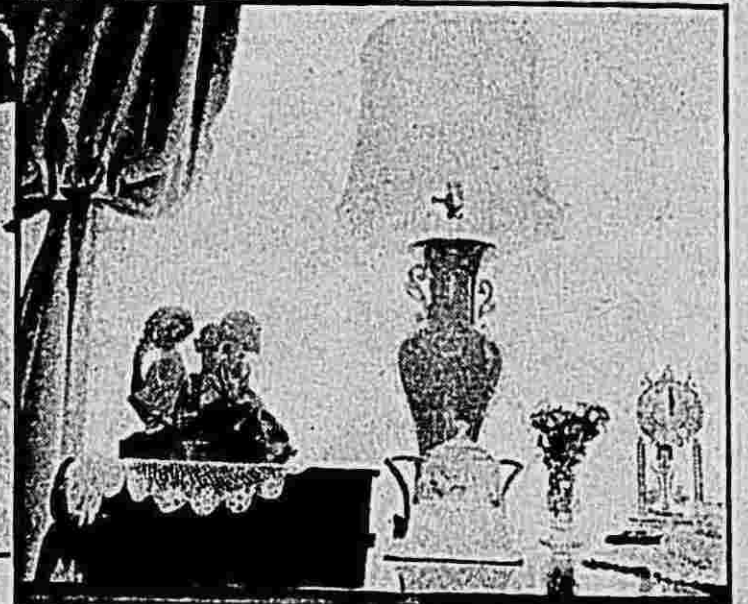

A deep sense of pride in the family's African-American heritage is also felt when you gaze upon the family's wonderful collection of pictures and sculptures throughout the home. The art and decorations that the Davises have chosen blend in well with their antiques, as well as their more traditional furnishings.

As the Davis children will come to realize as they get older, their parents have given them a great gift...the gift of tradition and family history. And with that, you can be sure that something much more than antique furniture will be handed down to them.

—DECORATING DIMENSIONS—

Creating a dining room with plenty of style

A dining room should harmonize with the other formal areas of the home, particularly the living room and foyer. A radical difference—going abruptly, for example, from a Queen Anne living room into a minimalist dining room—can be something of a shock to guests. It is especially important when a dining area is open to the living room, that it blend with the living room's style.

The formal areas should have some unifying factor—color, is the most frequent intermediary. For example, a living room with a color scheme that consists primarily of 60 percent hunter green, 30 percent raspberry and 10 percent royal blue (as an accent) could be reversed in a dining room and contain 60 percent raspberry, 30 percent hunter green and 10 percent royal blue, or some other accent color.

Window treatments are another avenue to unify the areas. The style of a window treatment can either be repeated in both rooms, perhaps with different or coordinating fabric, or the same fabric could be used in compatible styles. An example of this would be formal swags and jabots in a traditional living room and a Chippendale, or step-shaped, cornice in the dining room. If the rooms are open to each other, it is best to use the same style of treatment in matching or coordinating fabrics.

For years, it's been customary to purchase dining room "suits," in which all the pieces match. Today, antiquated customs are giving way to a more free, design-your-own style, and it is becoming increasingly popular to mix styles within the rooms, although it is not wise to use one style in one room and an entirely different style in another.

For example, a contemporary table and chairs can team up with an ornate period piece—an armoire or sideboard—to the decorative benefit of both. The living room and/or foyer should have a similar mix. There is a definite movement towards an eclectic blending. This is not to be confused with "hodgepodge," which uses little or no discrimination when combining pieces.

Handsome dining rooms come in all shapes, sizes, colors, and styles, while skillfully harmonized to enhance the pleasures of a well-prepared meal.

Changing with the seasons

If you get bored with your decor as quickly as the seasons change, try some fast-fix seasonal decorating ideas. From throw pillows to area rugs, window treatments to accessories, there are countless ways to give your home a seasonal uplift that won't cost a bundle.

As a backdrop, it helps if the furniture, walls, and floor are a neutral color. Then you can add splashes of color to complement the seasons, holidays, or whatever suits your fancy. For quick-change window treatments, try throw swags or treatments that incorporate Velcro in the design. One of our Canadian decorators used deep teal and burgundy for a wintry feel, cinnamon and butterscotch for autumn, peony pink with a dash of sky blue for spring, and for summer, geranium red and green. If you go the extra mile to have a quick-change window treatments custom-made for each season, you will find seasonal decorating that much easier, year in and year out.

Accessorizing is a key element to any seasonal room. Think about the holidays and all the accessories that come out the attic. If you give it a little thought, you could accessorize for every season of the year. In the fall, warm up a room with cornucopia and baskets filled with colorful ears of Indian corn, leaves, gourds that suggest a bountiful harvest. Toss warm, crocheted afghans over the ends of sofas in the wintertime, and area rugs to add a cozy dimension. For springtime fill a room with fresh cut flowers in crystal vases or baskets. Summer is the perfect season for lush hanging plants and a pretty iced tea set displayed on a table skirted with fresh linen. Take up the area rugs to create a cooler, leaner look. Another instant lift for a room can be found with pillows. Cover toss pillows with Velcro closures that can be changed every season to provide quick, inexpensive new look.

There are so many little touches that can change a summer room to fall, or a wintry room to spring. These are just a few ideas to get you started in your seasonal decorating. Don't be afraid to have a little fun and put your own family's personality into it. If you decide upon the custom decorating route, you won't be sorry. When you've enjoyed quality service from a professional decorator, you and the family will appreciate your interior for years to come. —by MARY LEBEN, Decorating Den, Grayslake, Gurnee. Several tips for selecting a heating contractor

If a system is correctly sized, designed and installed, it will operate at peak efficiency and give you years of carefree comfort.

So, when the time comes to repair or replace a heating system, experts recommend you take extra time and care in choosing your contractor. It could make a big difference.

To help make the selection process easier, the Trane Home Comfort Institute has compiled the following check list:

- Check credentials. Before making your choice, call the Better Business Bureau to make sure the contractor is reputable.

- The contractor should be affiliated with a nationally known manufacturer. The reason: authorized contractors have been factory trained to help you determine your comfort needs. They are also specially trained in installation and service.

- Ask for references. Former customers are an excellent source of information. Call these individuals and ask if they were pleased with the contractor's work.

- Expect an on-site evaluation visit. A good contractor should take a personal, thorough look at your home to evaluate your overall comfort needs. Beware of a contractor that simply takes information over the phone.

- Check local licenses. Depending on where you live, the contractor may have to comply with certain local or state regulations, so ask to see any applicable licenses and insurance forms for liability and workmen's compensation.

- Don't be afraid to ask questions. Ask for details about the firm's experience, its long-term stability and the expertise of its staff.

- Get a cost estimate. To make a fair comparison, be sure the bids you are looking at are based on the correct size, the same efficiency equipment and the same quality of workmanship. Be wary of a contractor who offers unrealistically low prices; it may mean corners are being cut in crucial areas.

- Inquire about equipment and labor warranties. Make sure the contractor explains the terms of your warranty and that you understand it.

- Inquire about preventive maintenance service contracts. Many contractors offer service contracts that call for periodic maintenance of equipment and, if needed, repairs. The fee for such contracts is usually well worth it in terms of obtaining optimum efficiency and performance for your system.

- Finally, insist on a written contract. Commit your agreement to writing and have the contractor sign it.

In some cases, you may have a preference for a certain manufacturer of heating systems based upon a favorable experience or that of a friend or neighbor.

Tell the contractor of any problems you're experiencing with your current system so that he can properly evaluate your needs. Also, look into the benefits of a total comfort system, including electronic air cleaner, humidifier and programmable thermostat.

Easy to build box beams add new life to rooms

Easy to build and install, box beams bring an additional element of style and interest to a living room or family room

One sure way to add pizzazz to a lackluster living room or family room is to install wood beams—or what look like wood beams. And it can be done a lot more easily and inexpensively than you may think.

Although they look like solid wood, the beams shown in the illustration are actually hollow boxes built from standard size western lumber. So they're not only simple to build, they're light enough to be used on virtually any ceiling. (Because of the hollow design, the beams can also conceal wiring if you want to install new electrical fixtures).

The first step is to decide which directions you want the beams to run and how many you'll need. (Beams may be installed either parallel to the ceiling joists or at right angles, as long as the bases of the beams are screwed to the joists). Mark the location of the beams on the ceiling with a chalk line, then measure along each line to determine the length of the beam. You'll need four pieces of 1x8 cut to that measurement for each beam.

Fasten the 1x8 beam base to the ceiling by screwing through the gypsum board into the ceiling joists, using 3-inch screws.

The sides and bottom of the beam are fastened to 2x8 nailing blocks which are attached to the beam's base. Each 2x8 nailing block is 5 1/2 inches long. You'll need enough nailing blocks to space them every three feet along the length of the beam. Nailing blocks should be installed before attaching the beam's base to the ceiling.

Position the 1x8 sides so they are flush with the ceiling and fasten them to the nailing blocks and base with glue and 2-inch finishing nails. Glue and nail the bottom of the beam to the nailing blocks and to the sides. Now putty the nailholes and you're ready to stain the beams to match your decor.

If you like the country look build the beams of knotty pine and finish them with maple-toned stain or a white wiping stain. Driftwood-finished knotty pine is the perfect complement to southwestern styles. Or for a more traditional and formal effect, use clear Douglas fir with a dark walnut stain. Whichever finish you select, be sure to apply a sealer to protect the beams from dust and dirt.

Rockford

In Illinois, where winter time brings extended periods of cold weather, it's not unusual to find almost everyone includes a fireplace and extra insulation in the features they would include in their dream home. When Landmark Designs tallied the results of its 1994 Dream Home survey, they found that 62 percent wanted a fireplace and everyone that completed the survey requested extra insulation. Wood stoves, however, didn't score high. Only 15 percent indicated a preference for a wood stove. By comparison, readers in the northwest ranked wood stoves much higher and fireplaces significantly lower.

It is precisely because of regional differences such as these that the Landmark staff designed a home to meet the compiled specifications of each readership area. For Lakeland Newspapers they created the Rockford. In many sections of the country, the preference for exterior building materials was widely split, but in this readership area, more than three-quarters of the respondents asked for brick. Other features requested by 60 percent or more of the participants included: A base ment, extra storage, dining room, family room, entry, double basins, utility room deck and vaulted ceilings.

But statistics don't tell the whole story. The Landmark staff also paid a great deal of attention to notes sent in by readers.

"The kitchen area and family room should be connected," wrote a man from Woodstock. "We have found that when company comes to our house, they usually end up in the kitchen. So if the rooms are connected, it makes a larger space for entertaining."

A Mundelein woman asked for "a nook with skylights," and she wanted a "large pantry and a place in the dining room for my good silver."

The design staff at Landmark Designs would like to thank the readers of Lakeland Newspapers for sending in the Dream Home survey and helping Landmark make their dreams come true.

For a study kit of the STATS (334-050), send $9 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402. Be sure to specify plan name and number.

Fall Foliage

Viburnum shrubs vie for fall brilliance with trees

The next couple of weeks should bring us spectacular colors in the foliage of many Maples, Ash, Locust, Lindens and Oaks. While these trees are great to view, one shouldn't forget one of the most beautiful of all shrubs, the Viburnum.

As Michael A. Dirr states in his book, "Manual of Woody Landscape Plants," "a garden without a viburnum is akin to life without music and art."

One of the most diverse shrubs, they can range in size from 24 inches up to 30 feet. Some have an odor as sweet as perfume, while some smell awful. The flowers can vary from white to pink, while berries range from yellow to orange to red, pink, blue and even black. The foliage on a Viburnum trilobum in the fall shows riots of reds, oranges and yellows.

Here's a partial list of some favorites

The Viburnum dentatum-Arrowwood Viburnum is multi-stemmed and a dense rounded shrub that attains a height of 8 to 10 feet. The foliage is lustrous and a dark green in the summer, changing to yellow and even red. A bluish berry appears in September. There are some great cultivars of this plant. They are: 'Ralph Senior,' 'Morton,' and 'Synnestevedt'—all can make a great shrub border. Certain cultivars will take more moisture than others, so consult your landscaper or garden center for questions or concerns.

The Viburnum x juddii-Judd Viburnum is a full, rounded shrub with a 6 to 8 foot mature height. It's very fragrant, showing a soft pink to white blossom in May and reddish leaves in autumn. Plant one of these near a patio or window of your home and your sense of smell will be aroused every time.

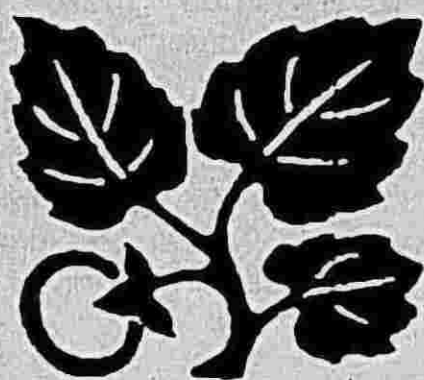

The Viburnum lantana 'Mohican' is from Dr. Egolf's breeding program at the U.S. National Arboretum. The creamy, white blooms appear in late spring. An orangish-red fruit appears in July and can last four to six weeks.

The Viburnum lentago-Nannyberry Viburnum will tolerate some shade and is an ideal screening plant, background or border shrub. It will get 15 feet high by 15 to 18 feet wide. It has a glossy green foliage which turns a purplish-red color in fall. The fruit makes good winter food for birds.

The Viburnum prunifolium-Blackhaw Viburnum has a shape that really stands out. It has an upright form that becomes horizontal with age. White flowers are flat-topped in the spring. The fall colors vary from bright red to purple. The fruit is edible and its color is a bluish-black. It attains a height of 15 feet and a width of 10 feet.

With about 120 species of Viburnum and numerous cultivars, this plant is becoming commonplace in the landscape, and rightly so.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect/owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Wadsworth

Fall Foliage

Fall planting tips for beautiful springtime blossoms

Traditionally considered a time for raking leaves, carving pumpkins, hay rides and football games, autumn is also the best time for planting flowering bulbs. Planted during fall in flower beds, rock gardens, along a hedge or fence, or in the lawn, bulbs are a great way to add a splash of color to any landscape.

The most difficult part of planting spring-flowering bulbs is choosing from among the hundreds of species and hybrids available. Some of the most sought after varieties include:

Tulips—The most popular of all spring flowering bulbs, tulips offer gardeners a wide range of choices in height, color, shape and bloom time.

Narcissus—More commonly referred to as daffodils, this winter-hardy flower comes in many shapes and colors.

Muscari—Nicknamed the "Grape Hyacinth," these tiny, bright purple flowers multiply quickly. Flowers stay in bloom for one to three weeks and thrive in sun or shade. They are an excellent choice for borders.

Chionodoxa—Commonly known as "Glory-of-the-Snow," this spring flower blooms in loose clusters of white, blue or pink, and can vary from three to 10 inches in height. This bulb type is an ideal plant for borders and rock gardens.

Whether they are planted individually or in groups, spring-flowering bulbs will thrive and flourish if you follow these few simple planting procedures:

Prepare the soil—Once the planting bed has been selected, turn the soil over to a depth of about 10 inches to aerate the site and give bulb roots ample room to grow. Quick to rot if left in standing water, spring-flowering bulbs flourish best in light, well-drained soil. Where necessary, condition soil with fertilizer as required.

Plant at proper depth—Using a bulb planter or trowel to dig holes, the general rule of thumb is to plant bulbs to a depth of three times their overall height. With the soil removed to the required depth, lightly press bulbs into place bottom side down (the flat side is the bottom), return the soil and water thoroughly.

Protect against pests—Bulbs are a tasty treat for many hungry creatures, such as mice, moles, squirrels and chipmunks. To keep these animals from making a restaurant out of your garden, soak each bulb for a minute, prior to planting, in a garden-safe, liquid repellent.

Groom with caution—If you already have blossoms, the best way to ensure that bulbs flower again next year is to "deadhead" (remove the dying blossom) from the willing plant at season's end, but allow foliage to wither without immediate pruning. This is crucial as stems and leaves continue to create and store food for winter dormancy and eventual use next spring.

DIAMOND 2

Multi-paned windows in the entryway and attractive wood shakes on the roof, add street appeal to the two-story Diamond 2. In this floorplan, the garage, utilities and family room are on the lower level; and the three bedrooms comprise the bulk of the upper level. Handsome railings enclose the decks and porch.

Vaulted ceilings add to the sense of spaciousness in the combined living room/dining room -- an informal area that invites relaxation. Skylights and plenty of windows contribute to the open effect.

The dining room and kitchen are partially separated by counter space, handy for meals on the run. A step-saving built-in range allows hot soups and other quick meals to be served up and handed directly across the counter to impatient eaters on the other side. Other kitchen conveniences include a step-in pantry that lets you keep a supply of canned goods in stock and an ample amount of cupboard space.

Utilities are close by, half a flight down, in a room they share with a toilet/lavatory and there is access to both the small back patio and the two-car garage.

The family room, also on the lower level, has a small storage closet and is brightened by sliding glass doors that open onto the patio. The distance between the family room and the main section of the house will be appreciated in families where teenagers, and their music, are louder than their parents' care to hear.

All three bedrooms are on the upper level. The master suite has sliding glass doors opening onto a private balcony that overlooks the back yard. Other amenities include a large walk-in closet and private skylit bathroom with shower, separate toilet and twin basins. The two other bedrooms face the street and share a bathroom with a tub. Linen storage can be found in the hallway.

For a study kit of the DIAMOND 2 (402-41), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Apple cobbler

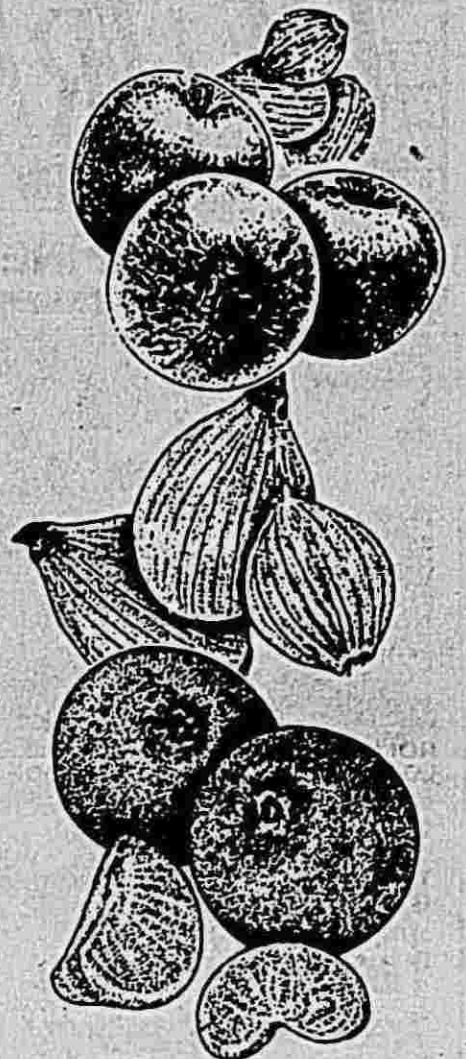

3 Tbls. butter for sautéing apples
2 lbs. cooking apples, cored, peeled, and sliced
1/2 cup raisins
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/8 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 lb. butter, melted
1 cup flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk
vanilla ice cream or whipped cream for topping

Heat a frying pan and add the 3 tablespoons butter. Put the apples and raisins in the pan and sauté for a few minutes over medium heat until they are tender. Add 1/4 cup of the sugar, and the spices. Stir and set aside.

Pour the melted butter into a 7x11x2-inch baking dish. Mix the remaining cup of sugar with the flour, baking powder, and salt. Mix well and then stir in the milk. Spread this batter on top of the butter.

Pour the apple mixture over the batter and bake in a 350 degree oven for about 50 minutes, or until the crust is golden brown.

Serve this warm, topped with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

How To Write A Bestseller.

Give the reader all the specifics.

Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as:

- color • size • condition
- brand name • age
- features • and benefits

Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts.

Include the price.

Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

Avoid Abbreviations.

Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW tires (white side wall) and won't take the time to figure them out.

Include phone number & hours.

Let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Run consecutive weeks.

Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your sales representative. Run your ad for at least two weeks.

The Lakeland Newspapers friendly classified advertising representatives are happy to assist you with your ad over the phone. They even assist you with writing your ad. Just call (708) 223-8161 to place your classified ad. Representatives will help you with your ad by phone Monday thru Thursday, 8 am to 8 pm and Saturdays 8:30 am to 2 pm. You can also place your ad in person at:

Warren miracle humbles 'Cats; RL, Grant march on

Stevenson 35, Antioch 14
Stevenson increased its winning streak to five after losing the first two games of the year. The win also shattered Antioch's chances for the playoffs. Shea Newcomb ran three yards for the first TD to complete a 75-yd. opening scoring drive. Charles Wurm returned a fumble 75 yards for a Stevenson score. Antioch quarterback Walter Martens threw a strike to Eric Dohmann for a 19-yd. TD reception.

Warren 28, Libertyville 20

point rally. Zach Florio and Wes Harris had rushing touchdowns for the Blue Devils. Steve Witcraft scored two first-half touchdowns for LHS. Both teams are 5-2 and in the running for the playoffs.

Rockford East 27, Mundelein 18

Costly turnovers proved to be the decider against Mundelein in this non-conference game. Running back Bjorn Johnson had touchdown runs of 22 and 50 yards for the Mustangs. Mundelein (2-4, 2-5) travels to Antioch (3-3, 3-4) Saturday.

McHenry 34 Lake Zurich 20
Mike Stumpp returned the opening kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown. Mike Schaudek scored on a 30-yard run and Pat DeVito on a 75-yard pass, but the effort was not enough as McHenry seized control in the Fox Valley at 7-0, 5-0. The Bears are still in the playoff hunt at 6-1, 4-1.

Marian Central 41, Grayslake 12

Cris Perham started the scoring for the Rams with a 3-yard run. But the Hurricanes, 7-0, 3-0 Northwest Suburban Conference, scored the next 41 points to settle the issue. Rams are 2-5, 1-2.

Grant 27, Johnsburg 14
Dave Jakstas scored from 7 and 5 yards out and Dave Stone and Paul Notraino scored touchdowns to pace the Bulldogs to a Homecoming win. Win is second straight for Grant, 2-5, 2-1. Johnsburg stays winless.

Round Lake 43, Wauconda 6

Panthers rolled past Wauconda in a mud fest before the Homecoming crowd. Kevin Burris scored on a 39-yd run and a 23-yd pass from Round Lake quarterback Ray Muellemann, who also scored on a 21-yd QB keeper of his own. Wauconda's Mike Seitz rushed for 130 yards on 24 carries. Panthers share second place with Grant with a 2-1, 2-5 record, while Wauconda falls to 1-2, 1-6.

Oregon 28, Richmond 6
Anthony Pasquesi scored on a 30-yard touchdown pass from Greg Regnier in the first quarter, but it was all downhill for Richmond, 2-5, 1-2 Big Northern White.

Joliet Catholic 48, Carmel 31
Ruben Rivera scored four touchdowns and Nick Yeager kicked a field goal, but it was not enough for Carmel to stop the state-ranked Hilltoppers. Carmel is 2-5 overall, 1-4 East Suburban Catholic Conference.

Cubbies come to Rockford

The Rockford minor league baseball franchise of the Midwest League unveiled its new logo and announced that the team will be named the Cubbies. The Rockford Cubbies will be a class A affiliate of the Chicago Cubs in 1995 at Rockford's Marinelli Field.

"We're very excited about the new name and logo," said Conrad "Connie" Kowal, Director of Minor League Business Operations for the Chicago Cubs who oversees the Rockford franchise. "The name Cubbies will be unique to Rockford and we believe we'll have one of the hottest logos in minor league baseball to go along with it," Kowal added.

"It has been a long time coming, but the Cubbies are finally here," said Michael Holmes, Rockford's General Manager. "We'll have a chance to showcase future Chicago Cubs players and give Rockford fans the first opportunity to see these rising young stars before they play at Wrigley Field," said Holmes.

Souvenir and season ticket information for the inaugural 1995 Rockford Cubbies season are available by calling (815) 962-CUBS.

Carlson leads CLC women runners to top 10

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The only folks who actually enjoyed Saturday's rainy weather may have been diehard football fans and cross country runners.

On a cold and rainy day, College of Lake County hosted its annual cross country meet. Neither the men or the women challenged for the team title, but the Lancers did have three women in the top 10.

"It was perfect weather," CLC's Jennifer Carlson said.

Carlson, from Libertyville, finished fourth in the race with a 22:28.

"It was my best race of the year. I took control after the first mile and no one passed me up. I wanted to get the Waukegan girl (winner Sharon Cieliski, 21:49) but I got the Morton girl at the end," Carlson said.

Carlson is a sophomore, but did not run cross country last year. "I did not think I would have the time. I am glad I came out this year," she said.

"It is great to run in the rain. It is very refreshing," CLC's Renee Tessman said.

Tessman, a Grayslake High graduate, finished 10th in 23:34. See RUNNERS page C-(GenSp2)

CLC netters take second, advance to nationals

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

College of Lake County netters earned a trip to the national collegiate tennis competition next May after taking second at the Women's Region IV NJCAA Tennis Championships.

Heavy favorite College of DuPage hosted the Northern Junior College Athletic Association tennis championships, and CLC netters came two and half points away from taking the regional IV title. COD finished first with 30 points, while CLC had 28.5 points.

"It went down to the wire in the final doubles match," said CLC Coach Dick Watson. "We would have been first had we won."

The top two regional teams, advance to the national competition in Tucson, Ariz., in May.

In singles action, Lancer star Irina Dobin took first at No. 1 singles. Lisa Ree finished fourth at No. 2 singles. Liza Lopez was fourth at No. 3 singles. Grayslake High graduate Becki Ziolek took first at No. 4 singles. Melina Vick was first for the second year in a row at No. 5 singles, and Natalie Rompalla finished second at No. 6 singles.

Dobin and Ree were also regional champs at No. 1 doubles. Vick and Ziolek lost in the finals to take second at No. 2 doubles, and Rompalla and Lopez were third at No. 3 doubles.

"There were some tough matches at the end. It was very competitive," said Watson. "Everybody got to at least the semi-final round, so I was really pleased with their effort and desire."

Watson went on to say that a second-place showing at the regional means a lot to the CLC program, which has been trying See NETTERS page C-(GenSp2)

Going into the match, the College of Lake County women's volleyball team had 13 more wins than Triton.

But the Lancers (14-20) could not capitalize on a strong start and lost three straight games and the non-conference match. The Lancers were trying to keep momentum going and looked like things were going their way in a 15-2, 15-6 wins in the first two games. Triton took over to post a 15-6, 15-7, 15-7 win.

"We did not serve the ball well or serve receive well," Coach Sue Garcia said.

Taryn Hartman had 16-for-22 in serving with 16 points and 7 aces. Nichole Bonfanti was 17-for-17 with 3 aces.

"Hartmann would serve for five points or so, but the consistency is not there," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

Natalie Ward led the Lancers at the net with 25-for-27 with 8 kills. Hartman had 6 kills on 12-for-16.

"When we want to get the ball down, we go to Ward. Stacey Harrison also did a nice job," Garcia said.

Lisa Bochenek turned in another strong setting match, 74-for-76 with 14 assists.

CLC battled Oakton in a key Skyway match Tuesday.

Netters

From page C-(GenSp1) to build and catch up to other junior college tennis teams. CLC came close to taking first, he said.

Ree played hurt with a pulled muscle. "She showed a lot of courage to play," Watson said.

Dobin dominated all year by posting an undefeated 28-0 record in both singles and doubles action.

"It'll be interesting to see what Dobin does in Tucson. She was never really challenged in the area,"

Watson said. "She's a very finesse player and a has a great touch."

Until the May nationals, Watson said his netters will be practicing until November before taking a break and practicing again from January to April. The team also hopes to hold a fundraiser to help fund a tennis trip to Texas before the nationals. Watson said a spring break trip to Texas will help his players prepare for the nationals.

Runners

Toni Welzen had a 23:01 for eighth place.

"I am proud to have three runners in the top 10," Coach Karen Graham said.

CLC finished with 22 points. Waubensee won the meet with 10 points and South Suburban edged CLC for second with 20 points.

Waubensee had the first two finishers as Brook Stalling was second in 21:52. Melody Saucedo of South Suburban was third in 22:14.

Abbey Chumra of Morton was fifth in 22:34; Jenni Musser of South Suburban sixth in 21:48;

Megan Klauser of Waubensee seventh in 22:50; Tammy Schmidt of Waubensee ninth in 23:11.

"All of our guys had personal bests," Graham said.

Jeff Bauman was 18th in 31:35. Brian Laird was next in 31:45.

CLC had 110 points for fifth of sixth teams. South Suburban won with 27 points, followed by Sauk Valley with 41, Morton with 92 and Waubensee with 103.

CLC is at a University of Wisconsin-Parkside meet Oct. 15. The Lancers then gear up for the Skyway Conference meet Oct. 29 in Grayslake.

Yeager's throws, Rivera lead Carmel latest offensive push

Carmel High decided to make some changes in the playbook and for the most part, they worked against Joliet Catholic Friday in a East Suburban Catholic Conference football contest.

Carmel gave the state-ranked team from Joliet a run for its money and then some, but fell shy in a 48-31 loss.

Carmel had momentary play-off hopes when the IHSA awarded them and other East Suburban Catholic Conference teams a forfeit win against St. Patrick, but the loss dropped the Corsairs to 2-3, 3-4. The forfeit was granted due to St. Pats' use of an ineligible player.

"I thought we had an interesting game plan. We surprised them with 300 yards. It was a track meet, but we could not keep up," Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Nick Yeager has thrown for almost 500 yards in the last two games, heading into a Oct. 14 game at St. Viator.

"He has done a pretty good job reading the defenses against some tough teams," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs came to within striking distance twice against the powerful Hilltoppers. A 38-yard field goal by Yeager gave Carmel a 7-3 deficit early. "His range has improved. He really booted it," Fitzgibbons said.

Joliet Catholic (5-1, 6-1), scored five touchdowns-rushing and one on a late-game interception.

Ruben Rivera continued to have an outstanding season, scoring on a 28-yard pass play from Yeager, a 74-yard pass, a 62-yard pass and a 90 yard punt return.

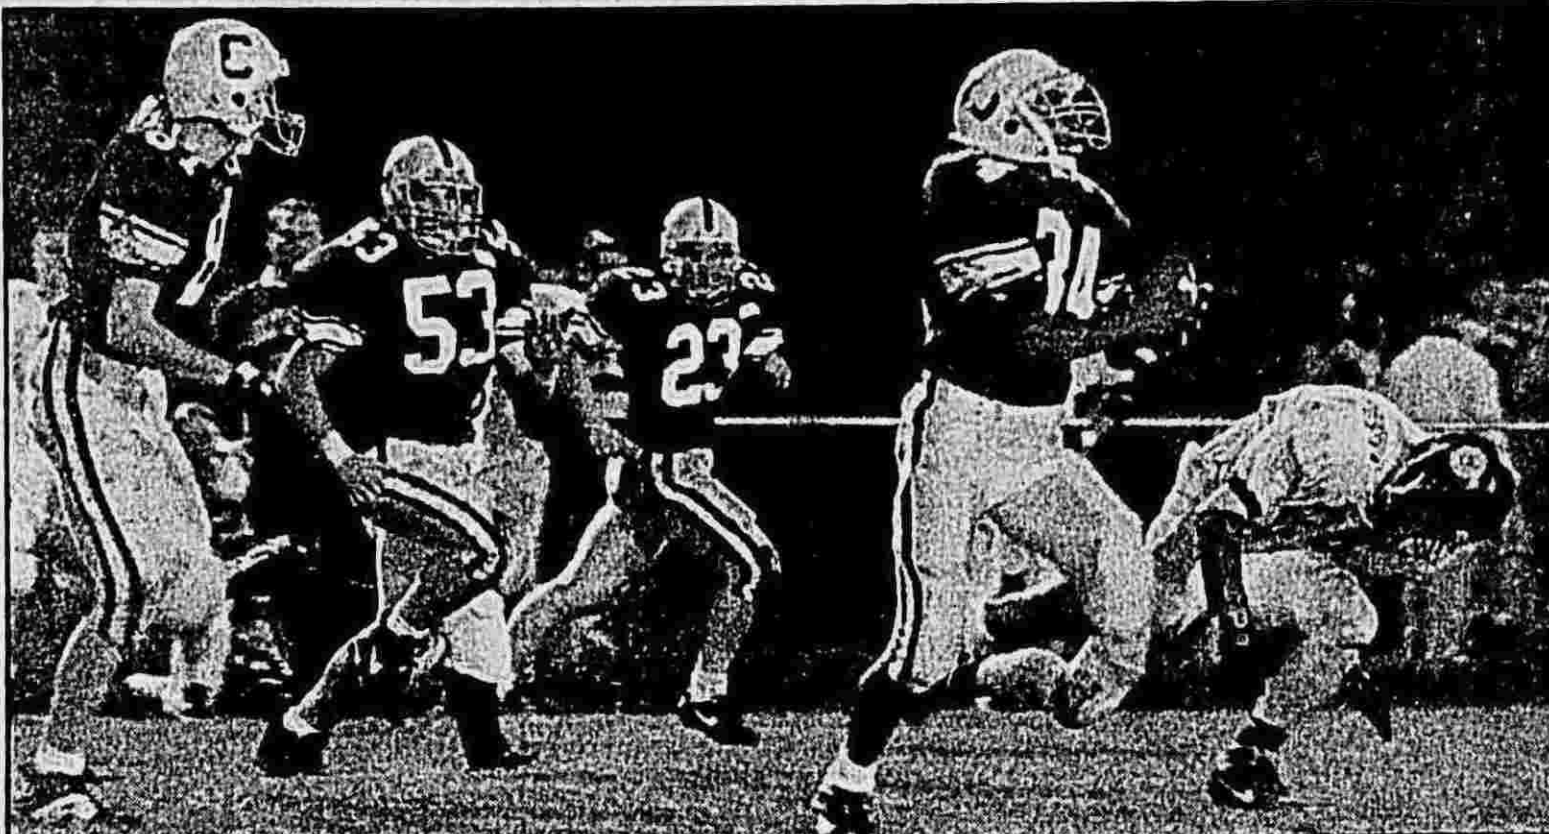

The latest score put the home team within 41-31 with plenty of time left, 8 minutes.

"We recovered an on-side kick and had a first down at their 37 but we just kind of petered out and then threw an interception," Fitzgibbons said.

The health report is getting better for Carmel. Defensive lineman Andy Jones returned against Joliet. "He saw some playing time in a junior varsity game Monday. He is not 100 percent," Fitzgibbons said.

Although officially out of the playoff running, that does not mean that Carmel will not be inspired for St. Viator.

"A Carmel - St. Viator game is always a big game, no matter what the records. And we can keep them out of the playoffs," Fitzgibbons said.

Knights' changes pay off dividends against Hitmen

The Lake County Knights semi-pro football team shuffled its offense and found a team it could beat up on Sunday.

The Knights did all the hitting in a 21-0 win over the South Side Hitmen. The win improved the Knights to 3-3 overall.

Arlee Williams got the nod to start at quarterback and directed the offense which stayed on the ground. Highlighting the effort were two touchdowns each by Kevin Ameidi of 12 and 7 yards and a 15-yard run by Nate Body. Body also had a two-point conversion.

"I changed quarterbacks and went with Williams and he did very well. I knew all year I would have to use him," Coach Al Clark said.

Sam Toia led the offense in the second half in the Chicagoland Football League game.

The Knights knew the strategy which would work against the winless Hitmen.

"When they went with a 4-3 defense, we ran inside. When they went 6-2, we passed and spread them out," Clark said.

The Knights were bouncing back from a 21-15 loss in overtime. They are preparing for a contest against always tough Chicagoland Football League leader DuPage Eagles Oct. 11 at 2 p.m. at Northern Illinois University.

Against the Chargers, the team scored on a 36-yard pass from Toia to Williams. Toia connected with David Ayares in the fourth quarter and a two-point conversion forced overtime.

"I have not been involved with a team with three straight losses but we overcame it," Clark said. "The defense came through with Dan Halverson and Dennis Lane."

Many defensive linemen helped on the offensive line, Clark commented.

The game at NIU in DeKalb is the last of the regular season.

Former Bull will speak at CLC banquet

Bob Love, a member of the Chicago Bulls from 1968 to 1976 and a three-time NBA All-Star team member, will be the guest speaker at the College of Lake County's seventh annual Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund and Sports banquet Oct. 20 at the Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

Proceeds from this benefit event will help to raise funds for a $1,000 scholarship established at CLC in memory of Keith Ryan, a Lake County sportscaster who died of cancer in 1989.

The banquet will begin with a cash bar at 6 p.m., followed by a dinner at 7 p.m. The evening will feature a keynote address by Bob Love; presentation of the 1994 Keith Ryan scholarship award to Jason Mleure, a Waukegan resident and a CLC student; induction of local sports celebrities into the Waukegan Sports Hall of Fame, sponsored by the Waukegan Lions Club; raffle drawings; and a silent auction.

The banquet is open to the general public. Donation is $25. For tickets and information, call the CLC Foundation office at 223-6601, ext. 2400.

Slammers unveils its plans for baseball instruction

Joe Lorenzelli was one of hundreds who discovered Slammers Sports Center at an open house. All youngsters were introduced to basics of baseball.

Without a hint of worry about the baseball strike, they came from as far away as Downers Grove to learn the basics of baseball.

Haberkorn's TEAM Sports International unveiled its concept of teaching baseball and other sports Sunday during an open house at Oakwood Racquet Club in Waukegan.

"We have a set curriculum so that all players hear the same instruction the same way," Haberkorn stated.

All the basics were covered this weekend - from pitching to analyzing one's swing with the skycam.

"Seventy percent of pitching is balance. Pitchers get in trouble when they try and pitch in a hurry," Tom Buysse said as a handful of young players watched.

Using a pitching device on an incline, Buysse put a piece of paper down its middle. He urged pitchers to aim for that spot after delivery.

Urging players to hang their feet just over the rubber, he said it is important to be nice and relaxed.

"I like to give kids good instruction and relate my baseball experiences," Vice Zawaski, coach, said. A standout at Marist High in Chicago, Zawaski played first base for four years at Central Florida.

"I was not drafted, so I went to the tryout camps," he said.

The Mets liked what they saw and assigned him to a Class A baseball contract. He advanced to the high A level in Florida, but an injury dashed his big-league dreams.

As he pointed out the strengths and weaknesses of each batter, he noticed something in general regarding baseball's spirit.

"I certainly hope not," he said when asked if interest is down due to the strike.

"This is a nice place to bring the neighborhood kids," Phil Cappelleri, director of baseball operations, said.

One aspect which Cappelleri said makes this camp different is parent-child camps, which help parents learn the game. The camps begin Jan. 27. Camps will be located in Waukegan, Providence, Rhode Island and Toronto sites.

Cappelleri is nearing 500 career wins, the last three seasons at Willowbrook High School. "You have to adapt to the game," he said.

He is a firm believer when it comes to parental influence and pressure. "I fight against it. I want my kids to have fun with the game and realize 94 percent of people are not starters," Cappelleri said.

CLC booters tie Oakton in called game

Mother Nature was the only winner Friday as College of Lake County's men's soccer team settled for a 2-2 tie with Oakton.

"It complicates the conference race. We are 3-2-1 for seven points with two matches to go," CLC Coach Dave Beck said.

The match in Grayslake was called due to darkness after about one and one-half overtimes.

The game-tying goal was scored by Eric Bauer off a pass from Kevin Thunolm. "He buried it with his left foot," Beck said. CLC lost to College of DuPage 2-0. "We played well, but they are the top-rated team in the state," Beck said.

CLC concludes the regular season at home against Elgin Oct. 13 before regional's begin.

"Scoring has been inconsistent all year. We've played pretty solid defense," Beck said. Brian Heider of Libertyville gained a shutout in goal. "He was certainly tested against COD and came up with some big saves," Beck commented.

Pats, Rams, Carmel, LZ in girls cross country elite

The freshmen and junior varsity won titles and the varsity earned a fourth place at the Lake County girls cross country meet.

Patriots Coach Hank Andrew sees youth as a key. "We have 13 freshmen on the team and they all work hard and have stuck with it," he said.

It was a senior, though, who led the Pats to discover the top five this Columbus Day.

Kris Milas finished fourth with a 12:42.

"We have had a tremendous year. We practice seven to 10 in a group based on abilities. It is a lot more exciting," Milas said.

Stevenson finished with 81 points, behind Barrington's 44 and Lake Forest's 74 and Waukegan's 80.

"Milas has done an excellent job. She was running with the premier runners in the area. She has gained a lot of confidence," Andrew said.

Anne Blong was the next Pats runner, in 11th place with a 13:09. Next was Tiffany Bennett in 14th place with a 13:24; Sarah Knell was 23d in 13:46 and Stephanie Schultze made the top 30 in 29th at 14:00.

"She has been a steady performer all year. She is a freshman, but is our fourth or fifth score," Andrew said.

Grayslake earned a sixth place with a 162 score. Becky Eiden led the way with a 13:27.

"It is a smooth course with a gradual hill. We run as a small pack and encourage each other," Eiden said.

"Eiden ran a good race. She had a strong second mile which is important," Rams Coach Joel Peebles said.

Michele Tessman was 25th place in 13:48. Tina Fish was 38th in 14:27 and Julie Hartman 43rd in 14:37.

Carmel earned an eighth place with a 218 score. Lake Zurich was 10th, led by Nicole Miklay's 20th spot and Warren was 11th in 256. Grant picked up the rear in 325.

Stevenson and Warren are setting their sights on the North Suburban Conference meet Oct. 15 at Lake Forest. "It will be between us, Antioch, Libertyville and Lake Forest," Andrew said.

Stevenson completed a 6-2 dual meet season.
